- M Michael Crawford 00:01
that we're being passed by the cities that don't have nearly the number of people that we have. Our city has yet to spend a dime of local tax money on anything relating to AIDS.
- i 00:10
Well, that's not exactly they did spend $100,000 that they used for the that they gave to the Houston AIDS Alliance. But are they used
- M Michael Crawford 00:18 that that was not local tax money? Yeah. That was money that came from the federal government. No, I know about the money that comes from the federal government. Actually, he's got to come from the state government. I'm talking about local funds. And he's
- S Scott Lewis 00:31
he's right, Michael, bobble near did cut an $80,000 check to the AIDS Alliance, and it was out of city funds.
- M Michael Crawford 00:38
Okay, that's fine.
- S Scott Lewis 00:39
Chinmava still puts us millions of dollars behind

Chinnaya Sam puts as millions of dollars behind.

M

Michael Crawford 00:43

Anyway, my question is, what is your plan to fight AIDS in Houston? Well, the first thing would do is increase it from 100,000 to at least a million dollars. You know, the city collects over $100 million every single year in taxes half of its in property taxes the other half since sales taxes. And then all the uses fees, the franchise fees from the utilities that were paying. I don't think that in a city again, the fourth largest Well, the six officially but the fourth largest caseload and and what to hospitals that don't even know what they're going to do about just normal emergencies, let alone aids, that the time has definitely come to, again, lead one more fight. You know, Bob Lanier did a lot of good things to the gay community. I believe they had them out to their house for some kind of fundraiser. I think it was real early in his administration.

S

Scott Lewis 01:33

He kicked off Pride Week last year at his house. Yeah.

01:36

The thing that I find so ironic about him is when he first began to run, he was describing the situation about Paul Broussard and Montrose. And he pronounced at Montrose, you couldn't even pronounce the community's name. So I didn't have a lot of faith in him. But yeah, he did. You know, you know, there was a lot of opposition on council to to the city given at that the 100 or $80,000, that they did.

M

Michael Crawford 01:59

Well, that's not good. Well, but I still want to get back to what is your plan to fight, as you said, increasing the number of the amount of money spent from 80,000 to $1? million? Where would money be spent? And who would it be spent by cities job is not domestic take care of people who are already sick. But instead, their job is to prevent the disease and to do testing, right? Well, I think every homosexual realizes that that the best the best prevention is, I mean, the best cures is prevention in the first place. You know, the the most the city can really do as far as, as far as actually fighting the disease itself, is to educate the public. And I think that the local television station should surely be convinced, you know, I mean, you know, how we love to boycott when we have to, and you know, how they hate it. You know, it's been very effective in Denver. And I think that's going to be a very powerful tool for getting our agenda passed. But um, you know, I think they're going to be very supportive, I think we're gonna get a lot of extra time because we're going to have a mayor who's interested in it. You know, right now we've got one who's interested in, in getting free time so that he can pass these judgment bonds that really said anything about the city's health department, which everyone admits is a shambles. Glenda Gardner, the woman who had the HIV prevention services for the city of Houston has no idea what to do about. I mean, they don't have a plan to educate people. I mean, we lived in one of the most diverse cities in the country, a high number of queer men, and no one had to plan. I mean, the woman that they brought, the window is a black woman. She can't even figure out how to educate black women about HIV prevention. I mean, are you going to keep her there? Will you demand that to be replaced? Are you going to keep track of the current health director? I mean, these are the kinds of questions that I'm asking because I think it's going to be, it's not just enough to say we're going to spend more money, it has to be something real in places to make money on.

I don't know about whether or not she can educate black woman on on HIV or not. But one thing is for sure, I believe that with AIDS being the most important, the most, you know, out of control epidemic right now in the country. I think that across the country, you know, President Clinton's promises that aid sorry, that's the least we could do here. And I see no reason why they couldn't also be the city health directors they qualified for that they should qualify to be able to educate about AIDS and everything else. But I think that at least someone who's either facing it in their own family or at least has some kind of personal knowledge of it has personally been affected by the AIDS crisis that that you know, when you've got somebody in here who wants to do something because they want to do it not because of being paid to do it, you'll get a lot better performance out of and that's true in every case, no matter what position it is. You know, I'm not really in a position right now to to question anyone's qualifications their question of mine right now, but you know, it's I don't think it's good policy to try and and change personnel just you know, because of a conversation to the radio, but I would I would recommend one thing, maybe you could maybe you could get involved yourself. And have you signed up at the mayor's Assistance Office, you could just get you a full time position on it. I mean, definitely, it's going to be coming from the gay community, I'm sure that the most the most powerful the most impact on the on the AIDS crisis. But

H

Howard McHale 05:21

Brian, I think, I think what Michael wants to know, most of all, if elected mayor of this city, what would you do to increase education to increase funding to get rid of homophobic language and education programs for those under 18, to improve drug access to address women and aids to address minority and AIDS? That's it Michael wants to know, and that's what I want to hear. Because we're both you, I want to know what you're going to do for it. Right. So tell us what you are going to do for it? Well, you know, clearly, again, with with a mayoral position, you have a lot more attention, you have a lot more coverage, and the more you get the word out, the more people are going to hear it, and the less people are gonna hopefully be affected by it. You know, this thing is bigger than you and me and all of us put together. And and, you know, I think that just on the national level, that that's been some progress right there. Again, I'm looking forward to the eight czar. And you know, again, being a mayor of a major city gives us a lot of clout as far as putting pressure on President Clinton to make sure that he gets his form.

05:46

Michael Crawford 06:22

How do you feel about groups like ACT UP and Queer Nation?

06:26

Well, certainly I don't agree with everything they do. But I do feel that they serve a valuable purpose in attention grabbing again. And once you get the attention, once, you know, you've got to shout sometimes to get people's attention. And once you've got it, then you've got to have some intelligent people in place to explain the situation and to carry forward the agenda.

Michael Crawford 06:43

Wait a minute, wait a minute, I'm uncomfortable with that comment. Are you saying that the bucket of Queer Nation is just to grab that attention, and then people who are presumably intelligent and by that I'm assuming that you're meeting people, in Brooks Brothers back down suits will go in and meet with, you know, the various people who attended, we've just gotten?

07:04

I'm talking to her the dark suits part, I didn't hear the whole question.

Michael Crawford 07:07

Are you saying that the only function of groups like ACT UP and Queer Nation is to stand outside and protest so that, you know, the white middle class facts and suits can go in and meet with the mayor and so on?

07:20

You know, I think that any progress we make, regardless of who's responsible for it, you know, a lot of people would not agree for me, a lot of people do not yet accept me who do not yet understand that I'm a credible candidate for this office. You know, no, of course not. They don't just, you know, provide attention for us. They, they, of course, you know, everywhere they go, are, are again, carrying forward the word, they're a voice for us everywhere they go. They're not just standing there with signs, you know, they're actually speaking out, which is, again, what I'm trying to do, and I think they're brave. I think they deserve a lot of credit for it. And, and, you know, if we don't agree with everything, we don't, but you know, we're all different. And that's not because we're homosexual. It's just because we're human.

 Michael Crawford 08:00

Okay. And I have one final question. And I want to say that I'm not denying that you're a credible candidate, if I didn't think you were a credible candidate, or if I was, like, considering voting for you, way back way off in November, and I would be a lot ruder than I am now. We may get ruder anyway, everybody in the city can vouch for that, especially Randall on stead.

 Scott Lewis 08:18

 Michael Crawford 08:23

Mayor, what would you do to advocate for, and defend the interests of forgive?

 Scott Lewis 08:31

Thanks for calling, Michael.

 08:32

Thank you. Well, you know, as a queer youth myself at one time, I understand how literally soul wrenching it can be for to be called queer, you know, age nine, or 10 or 11. And, you know, to really put once you put that doubt in there, you know, maybe that's what's causing homosexuals anyway, who knows. But once you put that doubt, once you put that, that seed of self hatred and let it Foster, then you end up with situations, I really believe a lot like Jeffrey Dahmer, once you suppress it, because of good of society, failing to own up to it, then you get it to come out in in ways such as that, you know, as far as helping the queer youth the the main thing to do is to get schools in the in the Houston area to start at least, if they don't want to talk about it, that's fine, but to at least explain that AIDS is not just the homosexual disease and that but to do teach them about eight. You know, I would say that you'd definitely be the one to put on the case though, regardless of what it is you sound like you know what you're talking about.

 Scott Lewis 09:39

From we're going to have to wrap this up. Let's take one more phone call. Shawn, are you there? You're on the air. You have a question for Brian. Yeah, I do. First of all, what I want to say is I'm probably the religious right, which everyone probably listening, freak out, have a heart attack.

09:49

09:56

I'm okay with you.

09:57

The biggest thing that I want to apologize for those individually Do applause being probably his right to do go out and go to extremes and say, hey, look, you're homosexual. You're fruitcakes are wrong.

10:08

I appreciate that. You know, there's a lot of Christian friends at work that said the same thing you did.

10:12

Yeah. And I, I mean, I'll be honest, I don't agree with homosexuality, but that's a choice everyone makes that they all get to live with what one way or the other. But for those individuals that do listen, and let them know that not all religious right, are out there gonna go out there and go, gay bashing and all that other stuff. I think that's just horrible. I mean, that's going back to Hitler.

Scott Lewis 10:35

Could you vote for an openly gay candidate for a political office? Shawn? Most likely no, because of my convictions are very strong. And now I believe. Like I said, I do not agree with homosexuality.

10:39

10:46

What do you mean by What do you mean by that? When you say you don't agree with homosexuality? What do you mean you don't agree with the lifestyle? You don't? What do you what do you mean, right? I correct. I do not agree with the lifestyle.

10:55

Scott Lewis 10:56

Shawn, let me ask you this. And then we have to move on. If you don't agree with the lifestyle. What are you doing listening to a gay and lesbian radio show in the middle of the night?

11:04

World class, we have a flipping through I like alternative progressive music and I was flipping through and I don't like the word caught me. Openly gay running for mayor office and in Tulsa. I'll be running for city council next year. So I'm, uh, I'm here on vacation. And I Okay, just flip through and all that her that. I like politics.

Scott Lewis 11:26

Maybe you can hook up with Steven, hopefully, while you're in town. Thanks for calling Sean. Okay, Brian. We're right next to a religious station. So that's why that happened. I wish you the best of luck. I'm sure we'll be seeing you here again. I hope that we've cleared up some of this. Some of this homosexuality as a sin issue, too. But you know, if you remember something as minut as Bob Lanier pronouncing mantras as Montrose, imagine how difficult an issue this is going to be for you to get over in this community. Which is what should be your base of support? Right?

12:07

I really don't think once people understand what I'm saying that. Well, let me say it this way, once I've explained what what really came from what really happened, people, you could see the light bulb going off. It's Oh, I understand now. I'd recommend that you guys get your pet shop boy tapes out on actually am discography there's a song on there, you all know it called it's a sin. And at the time that I made the statement, I feel just like the words of that song, you feel the guilt and the shame, but they need to write a new song now because I feel a lot different about it. Thankfully, you know, again, it's been a learning experience for me. As far as fighting the Christians, you know, the color of just before is right. All Christians are not just out there to gay bash and everything else. But I think that, you know, if, again, we would stop having the misrepresentations of the Bible, you know, just imagine if they're strong enough to convince the homosexual himself that it was just think of what they're doing to heterosexual. And one last thing to the caller before, you know, you said that, that was our choice. And I would say that that's no more our choice to be homosexual than it is for yours to be heterosexual. I think that in this society, you were lucky that you were I don't know anyone in their right mind who would choose to become homosexual. So I think that basically, we are born this way. I think one thing to keep in mind, though, for all the Christians is, we're all God's children. We're all sinners, we all come short of the glory of God. And I think that we judge not lest ye be judged, and again, concentrate on things that can be beneficial to unite the society rather than to divide it will be a lot better off.

 Scott Lewis 13:41

Brian, thanks for joining us. I'm sure that we're going to see you again in the coming months. And now we go to the Gay Men's Chorus of Los Angeles singing there comes a time

 Jimmy Carper 14:03

Hi, it's it's Jimmy. Just a little something I wanted to talk about with you work before the two o'clock hour. As many of you regular listeners know, last week, we were off the air so I didn't get the chance to make a very important announcement because last Saturday was the day that we really need to remember may 22. Mark that down on your calendars may 22. That's the birthday of Harvey Milk. Harvey very important man in the gay and lesbian history, openly gay elected supervisor in San Francisco, who was murdered. Less than a year of his taking the prison Sure. But oh gosh, the stuff that he did in that year. And the way he changed people's minds in San Francisco about politics and about the gay and lesbian style of living may 22 Birthday of Harvey something a little closer to home, and not quite as pleasant. But yesterday may 29. marks another anniversary four years ago, on May 29. Someone very important in this city died 1989 May 29. And that someone is Bruce cook. Some of you may not even remember, Bruce, I'd certainly been for years, but Bruce Cook was instrumental in starting the PWA coalition. Bruce Cook was instrumental in starting stone soup. Bruce Kirk was how gosh, I guess you could say a lot of the activists that we have around today probably modeled themselves after Bruce. He was just always there was always standing up. He was always loud. He sort of like, I guess the Brian Bradley of the 80s. I don't know how Brian would feel about that. I don't know if he knew Bruce Kirk, you probably feel he probably liked that. I have a speech that Bruce did in 1988. It's kind of it's the celebration of life rally that buddy Johnston did. And Bruce, it this this is the famous speech I had to edit a couple of words out because well, just because. But some of the things that are kind of kind of heartbreaking right now is that Bruce is talking about having AIDS and living living with AIDS. And it was just months after that, that he died. He didn't get to accomplish all he wanted to. But the other thing is since it was done in 1988 Listen to some of the words he's saying and the kind of help to help you see how people's mindsets were in 1988 and where they thought the AIDS epidemic was going and what was going to happen to it. I know Michaels out there. Give a listen Michael, let me know what you think one thing before I start this is it's cold as hell up here but I want you to see this is my favorite t shirt especially important now because I am both still gang proud. And I'm now a PWA also, which is the way I'd like to address you tonight is from the PWA coalition. And I definitely do believe it is people living with AIDS.

 18:45

19:08

This past May, as it was at home recuperating from PCP pneumonia. I experienced some of the love that helps us to celebrate life. The love from the friends I've made during the names project tour the love from my friends in the gay lesbian parade week radiate love that. Let me a party because I'd been threatened with my life if I wasn't well enough to participate as CO Grand Marshal, but it still counts still counts. And the love from all the people I've met during my time when I was involved with stone soup. That was all love born of crisis. Those times when our emotions are highest, and we feel the need to express love. Now are now Ever. But we soon seem to fall back into our safe, regulated lives of normalcy lulled into a sense that everything's all right once again, that the world's going along has it should. That's where we are wrong. That's where you and the celebration are. That's where you end the celebration and pack it away like so many Christmas ornaments. Until the next crisis requires that we dig into the back of our closets to retrieve our pride and strength as gays and lesbians. We must celebrate our lives as gay man faggots, homosexuals and lesbians, dykes and every day we're alive. Not just when our friends deaths cover us as a smothering shroud. Not just on a sunny Sunday during the gay pride parade. Not just when the right political activity comes along. But every day that we pay our gay income taxes to the government every day that we pay our gay insurance premiums to companies like Prudential. Every day we spend our gay incomes to travel by homes and new automobiles, and every time we have the chance to elect our governmental representatives. If you even want to be allowed to celebrate your life as gay or lesbian, you must proudly and openly do so to let those moralists, Republicans, bigots and horrible files know that we indeed are everywhere, working, shopping, living and even praying side by side with them every day. And that every bit of anti gay legislatures that they support, every mouthful of anti gay hate that they spew out is not going to get rid of us. My hope is that all of their united efforts will only unite us more to join together and fight them back as never before empowering us to fight for our rights as loving human beings. To celebrate life, we must not do it through silence, indifference and inactivity. To celebrate life, we cannot depend on our dead heroes, Harvey Milk, Fred pie as are the 40,000 Dead PWA is across America to do it for us. To celebrate life, we must participate in that great celebration of being openly gay and saying it proudly I am gay shouter with me. I am gay. I am J before I relinquish the stand, I'd like to speak to my fellow PW A's. We oftentimes fear the double stigma of being gay and having AIDS.

23:34

Just as AIDS is not a social disease. Just as gay is not a physical disease. It's very hard for us PW A's to face rejection, fear and prejudice from our very own gay brothers.

23:54

Part of this is our own false. We must empower ourselves to live with AIDS. And not to assume that this is a death sentence. We must take an active part in life as much as we are physically able to. We must all loudly insist on the best in social services and medical care, and fight to get able to. We must all loudly insist on the best in social service and medical care, and right to get access to promising new treatments now, not in four or five years. We must also take responsibility to ourselves, as well as to our partners in our quest for fulfilling sexual lives. I believe that we are living with AIDS, that we don't come home from our doctor's offices with diagnosis in hand to lay down and die. I know that there's no cure yet. But I know that there are a lot of promising treatments coming up. And unless we make noise, demand more access to them and speedier approval of them that a large number of us here today will surely die from neglect and red tape. Red tape our voices must be heard loud long and clear. And our voice must be every PWA and PW RT, who gives a damn about their treatment and lack thereof. I'd like to read a brief paraphrase of Harvey melts and have everyone affected by AIDS follow. As difficult as it is, you must tell your relatives you must tell your friends if indeed they are your friends, you must tell your neighbors you must tell the people in the stores you shop in and once they realize that we are indeed their children and that we are indeed everywhere. Every myth every lie every innuendo will be destroyed once and for all. And once you do, you will feel so much better just as I loudly declared myself to be gay earlier, I just as loudly can shout. I have AIDS and I am not ashamed. Now I asked every PWA and PW RT join with me and shout the same. I have AIDS and I am not ashamed. Thank you I wish you love in life.

J Jimmy Carper 27:02

That was Bruce Cook at the 1988 celebration of life rally. And as buddy and I used to do not want to do tonight because this was the song that we played for Bruce that night and I want to play it tonight. It is Joan Baez Brothers in Arms and we're back. Yay. Scott Lewis here with Howard. Big Daddy Mikhail. Just going to take a few more minutes and talk just about a couple of more issues before we go to reflections of Iraq lobster 2106. They've screwed us again.

H Howard McHale 27:56

I knew they were going to come on. Quickly, better metaphor.

S Scott Lewis 27:59

For clay they've screwed us again.

H Howard McHale 28:04

Probably one of the reasons why they they have is because we have a lesbian and gay rights lobby in Texas. There's only three streets three states in this country that have a full time lobbyists. They need money they need time they're up there. Sometimes they can't pay their electric bills. You people out there listening need to send money to L G R L P O Box 2579 Austin, Texas 78768.

Scott Lewis 28:27

That is a great organization. We are I think one of only three or four states that have lesbian gay rights lobbies. This is a Laurie iser, low. Before her it was Glen Maxie, and all she does is lobby the state legislature and the State Senate on our issues and it is essential that she Laurie didn't really even take a salary. And they have trouble. It's very minimal and they have trouble paying their bills. So it's very it's essential to support the lobby. Now lorianana was probably lobbying very hard on 2106 What happened

H

would happen number one, what happened is that you need to we have one man a state senator John Wittmeyer, who stood up in front of the Senate and said the only reason why this bill is on the books is because it's discrimination. You need to call him you need to write him you need to thank him because he did Garnet Coleman the House Ways and Means Committee in in directs money a friend of ours you need to call him need to write him you need to thank him you need to write a more need to send money to Austin to the game as being a lobbyist and that has been paid for by the lat towered McHale campaign. Little daddy as treasurer.

S

Scott Lewis 29:34

J

Jewel Gray 29:40

Have you seen the ads for Miss Hutchison?

S

Scott Lewis 29:43

I've seen a couple of them very hateful.

J

Jewel Gray 29:45

Oh the ones where they have her all dressed up looking like Donna Reed and with pom pom one not pom poms into Twitter.

S

Scott Lewis 29:53

Oh okay she's got a baton and it says perception at the top and in satellites daughter reception is that she's done already. And then at the bottom it says reality and it has pictures of Jesse Helms little Shaklee Rush Limbaugh and Phil Gramm and that's so true. That's so accurate. It's great. And I love the other one that was in the week before that said, gay hunting season begins June 5 Unless you vote, you know, I don't like Bob Krueger, I'll make no secret of it. I you know, we we interviewed him on this show. And, you know, the man leaves a bad taste in my mouth, but we have no choice. We have got to get out there. We have got to vote for him. Maybe next year. We can get somebody decent and but we've we can't have K Balian there we can't have this hideous. We can't have two Hitler's in office. This is the ultimate lesser of two evil campaigns. And usually that turns people off and they don't vote and we've got to get them out there and vote.

H

Howard McHale 30:50

I know we gotta go pretty soon. We're gonna say goodbye. Thank you, Scott. Thank you. To Shawn out there. And to all the other Sean's I want to say one thing. I want to say I hope in life, you get everything you want. I hope no one ever tries to stop in your way. I hope no one ever tries to put you down. I hope everyone does. No one does. But Shawn, please don't step in our way. It's not fair.

S

Scott Lewis 31:11

It's not fair. It's not right.

J

Jewel Gray 31:13

And we've not asked for anything from them except for what they expect on a daily basis. I just want what he has and takes for granted the right to exist and find jobs like you were saying earlier, Howard, to have lovers and to be married and the whole home and the whole nine yards, the family, everything that he finds dear and values and he's looking forward. He's like, I want that same right. And I can't have it not the way it is now. Oh, that isn't that special rights? No, it's equal rights. That's what they said about that's what they said about the black civil rights movements that they wanted special rights. Well, it wasn't true,

H

Howard McHale 31:49

Shawn, I just want what you want. That's the same thing in life. Someone who loves someone to California government who cares about me?

J

Jewel Gray 31:55

I mean, Sean, what if this was you were blue eyed. And we were all brown eyed. And we decided blue eyed people were devil worshippers and we had to wipe them off the face of the earth it would be it's, it's just about the same thing.

H

Howard McHale 32:07

In one day, John, it's all gonna come through and you're gonna realize what like, when you become a part of that quilt. We're all stitched together and we shouldn't fight each other.

Because we truly are brothers and sisters one at all.

 Scott Lewis 32:21

And on that note, we're going to step out of here we're going to leave the capable Jimmy Carper in control. can get that control is the head. Who put what where to make that kind of noise that girl?

 Jimmy Carper 32:39

No, but I'm happy to present as we do every year reflections of a Rock Lobster the story of Aaron Frick who took his boyfriend to the senior prom. When are we going to get to see YouTube again?

 Scott Lewis 32:57

Soon soon. I don't know when but soon.

 Jewel Gray 33:00

It says Well, I

 Scott Lewis 33:01

have a list I haven't made you know Joel, what we need to talk about soon. Speaking of soon, yes, our serial. We're gonna have a serial here on after hours.

 Jewel Gray 33:10

Can you make saga? Yes, people in our neighborhood? I think tentatively titled Montreux 7706

 33:19

All right. All right.

 Jimmy Carper 33:21

This should be fun. Yeah, I

 Jewel Gray 33:22

— expected I expected it within the next couple of months that we'll get it on.

S

Scott Lewis 33:26

Next week, Diane will be here with her. And she'll be taking calls from religious people because Diane is a gay Christian. Joel will be here on the eighth followed by Michael Crawford on the 15th and I'll be back on the 22nd

J

Jewel Gray 33:39

I think I'm on the 12th That's last month.

Scott Lewis 33:42

I'm on the 12 for next month. That's that's if you want back issues that was for back issues. Next month. Diane will be next Saturday. Joining me here on the 12 Michael Crawford on the 19th and I'll be here doing the Gay Pride show on the 26th so we will see y'all then for you your what you'll be down here before the parade and everything so you don't have all the information for parade watchers. What to what to look out for and where to be and all that information so and where I'll be if they need a date because there's going to be buses running from the community to the rally spots Park and there'll be a lot of information so if you're going to be part of the Gay Pride celebration on the 27th Be sure to tune in with scooter on the 26th and find out the information to make it a little more convenient for you.

Okay, and so now we go to reflections of a Rock Lobster hugs and kisses. It's been fun Danny, Aaron, come downstairs with Billy, where are you hiding? Come down here right now. Young man, what are you doing in there? Open this closet door at once. What are you to doing? Billy I told you to keep those britches on your man. Get out of this house immediately. Your mother's going to hear about this. Get out of that closet. Now
