Oh yes, you tuned into after hours a continuing tradition on KPFT Houston 90.1 FM. The crew of after hours is ready to bring you news, interviews and music geared for gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered people. Hear it after hours, we may be diverse, but we have one thing in common. We are all out of the closet and urge everyone to come out of their closets. That means standing up for yourself, taking responsibility for your own life, and being proud of who you are. Realistically, we know not everyone can do that because of a job or frame of mind. That's okay. We're here for you too. So sit back, relax, and enjoy this week's edition of after our. Hello, there, Houston. Its Jimmy, with the Well, no, it's not the QM z, but it's gonna be kind of a three hour QM Z tonight. This is the fifth Saturday of the month. And that means we've got an all music show three hours of clear music and a few little goodies thrown in in just for good measure. Got some things that we want to talk about. And we'll be doing that in between songs. Now I thought, oh, first I'd better tell you that you are listening to after hours. Queer radio with attitude on KPFT Houston and KEOS College Station Bryan, that's 90.1 and 89.1 respectively. Okay, we're gonna I'm gonna start from the beginning do some old stuff and I figured I better do the old stuff first because the older audience may not last the whole three hours. So that pansy division stuff will be coming in the two o'clock hour probably. But I want to start with some some old classics. Number one meg Christian. She kind of put women's music on the map her at Olivia records along with Chris Williamson. And this is just about the prettiest song that she has ever done. I think it's Oh, well. See what you think. The road I took to you? Made question. Oops, oops, wrong button. Here we go now make Christians make Christian the road I took to you. You're listening to a three hour version of after hours. That's just all queer music. And we are also taking requests at 526573852 6k PFT. We'll take your requests for queer music. As a matter of fact, I'm going to do one right now. Miss Stacy has a request he wants to hear waterfall by Chris Williamson. And I'm really proud to play it because Chris Williamson, of course is is one of the originators of women's music way back when and Stacy wasn't even born. When Chris Williamson was singing this song Oh yeah. BlackBerry With it's okay, BlackBerry was one of the oh gosh, kind of an original gay artists back way back when and the beginning of what you could consider gay and lesbian music. And he was on the original walls to roses album along with many others that if you can find any music anywhere by BlackBerry pick it up because it's very, very rare. And let's say close out this segment of old gay and lesbian music. I guess it wouldn't be complete if we didn't have something by Marquis Atom. And of course, what better one by her than best friend but you know what better as the unicorn song Marky Adam, the unicorn song, or it's also called best friends. And I said, I was gonna close it out with that, but I saw something else. In fact, it's it's not old. It's kind of new. Actually. It's on a new compilation, Elton John song book that I picked up. And it's the last one on it. It's called Elton song that Elton recorded on his album, The Fox back in, oh God, I want to say 76, something like that. But that song was written by Elton and Tom Robinson, openly gay protests singer from England. And this particular CD, the Elton John song book. Tom sings it. It's the story about a guy in high school who just has fallen in love with a pool playing hustler. And it's called Elton's song. Tom Robinson, who co wrote that song with Elton John Elton song. That's pretty, that's really pretty. You are listening to a three hour music version of after hours of continuing tradition right here on KPFT Houston, and ke O 's College Station Bryan. And now I'm going to do probably a good I don't know how I could do less than 20 minutes set of gay and lesbian music from the 80s. And when you say gay and lesbian music from the 80s it, it's almost like I mean, openly gay and lesbian music from the 80s. You're talking romanovski and Phillips, and they have quite a bit of music here. I could do a three hours on them easy. But I'm going to take some of my favorite selections through the years. Their first album came out in 1984. And they're still recording and in fact, if you listen to lesbian and gay voices Friday night, you heard one of their latest off of the new brave boys album. And I will be playing it. Oh yes. Because if there's a God, he's a queen. I think it's the best best one off of that album. But this is the first song I ever heard. In fact, it's the first gay song I ever heard about men. loving man romanovski and Phillips, the Prince Charming tango.
