ULENSP i e, g I, I guess the difficulty of it would be a cause you to remember it. Yeah. Even if only vaguely. And there are lots of groups here that that meet locally and are all have the same sort of pansexual. Open and egalitarian emphasis and all all the moving towards sexual freedom and openness in the 21st century.

Gigi 00:33

Some of you may Bucha kind of fits in with the sex positive.

Jimmy Carper 00:36

Well, yeah, what I like about these organizations is that for the most part, sexual orientation, oh is not a problem here. Yeah. Now there are groups that specialize in gay or straight but but everyone is welcome.

Gigi 00:52

And I went to lots of them in it's like, if you're bigeye strike, right, everybody fits together. And it's kind of like the bisexual group, you know, a baby gets together, that's kinky. And realize, hey, we're all repressed together, let's get together. And that's the whole point. Yeah.

Jimmy Carper 01:09

01:10

And I've as, let me note that, you know, I've, I've done lots of things bisexuality and swinging multiple partners and things of that nature. And I've honestly never found any of them to be any difficulty at all in terms of getting a handle on it. But I found that, you know, as implies, is actually really very complex, technically, emotionally, and in every way, and really needs an educational emphasis behind it. It's like, you know, there are all kinds of metaphors. It's like flying an airplane, for instance, as opposed to walking down the street in a way. Some people find it very easy, and they're comfortable with it, but there are a lot of things that, that go along with the concept of safety, sanity, and consensual reality, they're actually you know, you know, a little bit difficult and people have to get a handle on it both technically, and just, you know, ethically, you know, before they actually do what they're doing and in a safe way, in a sane way, in a consensual one, before you jump into that I do want to mention autumn seasons is kind of Yeah, sorry. Yes. Um, there are two groups splintered off into several groups. Well, actually, actually the national items, items season is the way that spelled with you know, a possessive past. Oh, yes. Okay. For what reason? I don't know, just to twist your tongue just like the English speaking society.

Gigi 02:11

02:17

Jay 02:38

But I'm being very 02:41

eccentric with the name. If

Gigi 02:43

you make me say it 10 times you're have to punish me. I can't say that even why write on the blackboard? Actually, the the national autumns season still exist. But both of the local groups in Galveston and Houston have changed their names and, you know, have somewhat in one one of the autumns season groups has changed this meeting place also, the formerly known as autumn seasons, a large part of the nucleus of that group, which, by the way, meets every single week, and gives a two or three hour training session on various aspects of dominant and submissive roleplay. That's fantast Yeah, so I mean, there's tremendous educational opportunities available every single week in the city. In the groups now called thing from electronics play to bondage safe bonded, yeah. Where you don't cut off circulation are so important, do damage, you know, permanent damage to all aspects of negotiating in consensual reality and how

02:49

 Gigi 03:32

 03:45

 Gigi 03:50

and even for the beginners worksheet to kind of explore where your interests might lie.

 03:58

A checklist for for negotiating important. The group in Houston is now called arrows, which just goes right along with all of our fascination with mythology. And they're meeting every Saturday now at noon, at Richard's on Wall drive. Oh, no kidding.

 Jimmy Carper 04:17

Yeah. Oh, that's, that's right here on the TROs. Right. And 04:22

the Galveston group

 Gigi 04:24

is what was the time on that 04:26

every every Saturday at 12 noon, at Richard's in there called arrows now and that's a training and or educational seminar. It's also a great place to meet people, by the way. For those of you who are, I guess it's 18 and over, get in there and attend. The Galveston group which has a very good reputation is now called the bound collective. And they're meeting at Denny's in Texas City. You A people fielding whips Okay, now this is how you Flog.

J Jay 05:03

J Jimmy Carper 05:07

Wow, there must have a private meeting room or something.

05:12

I really do. I'm very impressed with these folks at Denny's is pretty funny. 5pm the first Sunday of the month, every every person Morrow, yes, yes. And they have, let's see, I don't know, they don't have a phone number on here to contact they do have a, a, a website or an email address. It says a the collective at mail excite.com And you could get in touch with them that way Oh, mail excite m a i l e x e i t e .com. Okay, collective mail excite.com. And that's five. Also, if you want to just show up, it's 5pm the first Sunday of the month, at Denny's and Texas City.

G Gigi 05:58

And afterwards, you can get your eggs bottom side at all those bins there's also the National leather Association, the local chapter that is which is is probably best known for popularizing the the three catch words of current play, which are you know, safety, sanity and consent tuality, Brian keeper the President have have has been on the show as long as well as the vice president Tiffany gray.

06:07

J Jimmy Carper 06:26

06:34

And their meeting? Well, they have couple of different things that I was asked to tell you about the the venture in which is one of the prime spots to meet people and hang out on the street in my favorite places, allows members of the National Association to bartend. And all the all the money that they bring in at the bar upstairs goes to a charity, which I'm not quite sure which it is, but I'm quite sure it's worthy.

J

Jimmy Carper 07:02

They do it different ones all the time. That's on the third Friday and Saturday of every month at the venture end. And it's probably a good way to make contact with them. They also have an Open Board Meeting, which is else also at the venture in and it's the second Wednesday of every month at 7pm. and analyze is a good group that I think they're their next national conference not this year, but the following year will be in Dallas and they had a national conference here in Houston several years ago. It's a great event.

07:05

J

Jay 07:39

And I just wanted to say something about the venture and you know, everyone's talking about the veterinarian and I think that was my first gay bar.

♂

07:45

No kidding. First

J

Jay 07:45

gay bar went to his miniature in Chi Chi.

J

Jimmy Carper 07:49

I've always found that incredibly friendly. And kinky. And that was the one that we took a friend of hers had never been to a gay bar before. No. Yeah. And they thought that if you ran into any trouble, he could just go ahead and the men's room. Oh yeah, baby, especially

G

Gigi 07:53

J

Jimmy Carper 08:12

strategically placed.

J Jay 08:13

Like I say, Yeah, while you're there. Why don't you bend over and tie your shoes? I don't think so. We mentioned he was straight.

G Gigi 08:21

Oh, yes. This was a strike friend.

J Jay 08:25

He actually enjoyed it. At first,

G Gigi 08:27

but he loved it.

08:31

There's another group in Houston, which is currently the largest group in Houston. We there was an interesting play party this evening. Yes. From which I came dressed as I am.

J Jimmy Carper 08:41

And I guess you saw Glen Holt who came? Yes, he was there and Sarah dipalma. Yes.

G Gigi 08:48

And I saw his webbing and say I'm not the only one that goes the

J Jimmy Carper 08:52

that makes me so nervous.

G Gigi 08:57

I can see the sweat pouring off. You're

J Jimmy Carper 09:03

like the candy store. But you can't touch

09:07

Oh, well. This group is the largest group in Houston at this point is it's called Houston PEP, or and that's an acronym for people exchanging power. And it's a pansexual pan fetish social and support club and all fetishes. Fantasies genders are supported in a safe and sane, consensual environment. Their meetings are held every month on the first Saturday of every month at 730. At Tantra we were talking about the religious aspect of Hinduism called Tantra. This nightclub is called Tantra ta n tr a. Their address is 5718 Fairdale. And that's at 730 the first Saturday of every month if you'd like to get involved with pap, which by the way has no real relationship to other chapters. by the same name around the rest of the country. He's in pep as a free standing and, you know, a pretty much independent organization. And it's basically just a loose conglomeration. There's no real mailing list or membership, but they do have wonderful mixers and several parties a year. And I, you know, I think they're a really good group. And I think we'll you know, later on be having one of their board members come in for an interview with with us after hours programs, which would be great.

Jimmy Carper 10:29

Do you have a phone number for them?

10:30

Yes. I gave that to you. Earlier tonight. Oh, it's a number to call this this number right here. I was giving the board Yes, number. This number? I don't know if it's still current, but I think it is 713-780-4441.

Jimmy Carper 10:50

Okay, I have another one here. From contact clay Harris at 713-921-1816.

11:00

He's involved with both pep and with arrows. And there's another group that's a boy. Glad I didn't forget that. I didn't actually have a written down note here. But it's called he'll do Yeah. acronym is for

Jimmy Carper 11:16

Houston educates and encourages Inspire.

11:22

11:44

Yes. That's what that stands for Houston education and encouragement of another. Yes. And that's primarily a gay and lesbian oriented educational group. However, it attracts that very conceptual sure, because Jeffrey, who runs it is very interested in the educational aspect. Right. And he does a seminar a month. Yes.

J

Jimmy Carper 11:39

11:47

In addition to this group arrows, which is basically a weekly educational group, the the group called he'll also meet once a month, and I must say they've only had a one meeting so far. And the meeting the GiGi and I attended was very well presented very well prepared. I mean, a Jeffrey even handed out a typed you know, syllabus of his, you know, introductory is good discussion to very good discussion. A lot of very knowledgeable people. They're contributing to the discussion. And they mean, is that the third Sunday, third Sunday of every month, from three to five at Pacific Street, which is a well known bar in the Montrose.

J

Jimmy Carper 12:35

Yeah, Jeffrey was on last week. Yeah. Okay, cool.

o

12:40

And I have this other kind of event to plug on one of my former lovers, who's now on the board of the oil industry organization is helping to organize this event. And it was also she's she was one of the organizers of the leather celebration as part of the Stonewall anniversary in New York. And I think this this event is not very well known, but I think it's going to be an absolutely fantastic is probably the best thing on the East Coast. Possibly the country this year. The SM organization Washington is called Black Rose, and they're having a 10th anniversary celebration. And the celebration will be held just outside of Washington in New Carrollton. This out Maryland at the Ramada Conference and Exhibition Center, and that's November 14 through the 16th exhibition center.

J

Jimmy Carper 13:32

Now Perfect, yeah. Wonderful

o

13:35

walking around these hotels with all its kinky gear, whips and things. You know, they're all these regular patrons sort of golf Exhibition

J

Jay 13:42

Center, do they also have a voyeur center? Probably viewing booths. Who knows? If you're interested in this, it's a very inexpensive thing as in terms of the the actual cause for the event. And there's travel in hotels to think about but at this point, it's I think it's about $100. Or yeah, it's about $100 to get in it was $75 earlier. If you're interested in this event, which by the way includes all these programs, seminars on negotiation safe ways to terrorize the vampires in the scene as in literature dealing with pain or seminar interrogations, meeting people as in in the law foot fetishes relationships, corsetry and forced chastity women speak out history of SM electricity music for the scene and you know all these in their bondage flogging piercing branding gentle plays single tail whips that's all just about any of the dirty words. I see one that's an abbreviation that's got a dirty word. Anyway, they're having a kennel show and equestrian extravaganza, this will be human persons performing as animals, juried craft show transgender period. Be contest SM games, a metal Exploratorium, the parade of colors, just it should be a really wonderful event, ratter ball. All that all that's happening November the 14th through the 16th, just outside of Washington DC, if you're interested, there's a phone number to contact. And there's also an email address, the phone number is area code 212026865880. Again, that's 202-686-5880. The email address is b r one zero at B r.org. Again, that's br One zero@br.org. So that's, that's a promise to plug that in, quite aligned.

13:46

G

Gigi 15:48

Well, I want to go back to Jay for a few minutes right to back review, and then we'll come back and talk smart. Yeah,

J

Jay 15:54

I'll go ahead and this is going to be an interesting little lack of segue, gee, let's see leather conference. Feminine female adventure. Okay. No, that's okay. So I, there's not really a good way to ease into this. So I'll just go ahead and jump into a feet first, I guess. This is a book I got from steel press, and another small Feminist Press. Very interesting. And it's actually it was wonderful. I got this book, and I just I just went nuts because my sister is very much into True Life Adventures and stuff like that. And she's a big fan of this guy, Tim Cahill. And what he does, he goes and, you know, rafts down the Amazon and skis down the Andes and kayaks around icebergs and just, you know, has all these adventures and writes about him and blah, blah, blah, while she loves him. And he writes some very interesting books, one is called pecked to death by ducks. Another one is called jaguars are ripping my flesh there's the SM angle, I guess. The other one is called What is it a Wolverine is eating my leg. Good. That's very interesting. Of course. Needless to say he was not pecked to death by ducks is just kind of a catch. But anyways, a very interesting thing. But the thing is, of course, he's a guy. And my sister wants to read these adventure books and stuff like that true life, adventure, whatever you want to call it by women. So she asked me she says, Well, you know a lot about books. Tell me some, some adventure books or something like that. With women, of course, I was stumped. I was there. I literally could not think of any. Actually what she really likes is like those adventure novels the fiction the swashbuckling type stuff, you know, Errol Flynn H Rider Haggard stuff like that. Only with women. I was at a complete loss I went to pokey overt Inklings she didn't have an idea. We had no clue. If you know of anything, please let us know call now. Please give us names give us titles. Five to was it five to six KPFT. Give us a call. I'm very interested. But at least I do have this book so I can give it to Rita femme Devon tour. F E M M E D apostrophe, ADV e and t u r e. Not quite sure how to pronounce it kind of looks French kind of looks at Italian and kind of looks English. I don't know. Anyway, it's by Jessica Maxwell. And it's she isn't doing anything terribly death defying, she's just doing some a little adventure things. And she really likes to fish. So if you're not into fishing, some of the stories make it a little long. But it's not that you can kind of skip over him. She does this whole big thing about fishing in Mongolia. Most of it's very interesting about the Mongolian atmosphere landscape. And then she goes to this like three page thing about how she's trying to catch a fish with a certain kind of lure. I don't care. Let's get back to the Mongolian waterways. Yeah, but anyway, it's a very good book. She's not real heavy on the conservation aspect, which some people are. Some of these books are this genre. She's not really heavy into the, you know, kind of comedic adventure like Tim Cahill, she's just kind of telling her story, which is really, really nice. And then the back of the book they have. Let me see if I can find it. It's the Add Ventura genre, I guess from seal press. It's a popular line of books from seal press is what they say that celebrates the achievements and experiences of women, adventurers, athletes, travelers and naturalists. And they have a whole list of myths. It's, you know, a page front and back of just titles and of books about female adventures and stuff like that. And oh, good. There. You got another reference book? I have my sister's Christmas present. Okay. Not listening to this read after listening. Don't Are there any is there sex work and would that be considered a female adventure?

Jay 19:52

I don't know. I don't know. She, by the way, if you are thinking about calling in you say Oh, well, I know one visit lesbian book. It's okay. She's cool. She's hip to that. In fact, she's writing a book right now, she really wanted this so bad. She says, there's just no good books out there. So she wrote one. And she originally had a female pirate who's going to kidnap and capture this handsome young lad and then corrupted him, and they'd run off and have a lot of sex adventures. But she just couldn't make it worse, isn't working, isn't working, isn't working. And she finally realized the problem was, Madeline would never go off with a guy. So she changed the young, handsome, strapping lad to a young, beautiful, strapping woman. And so now she's writing a lesbian romance. So anyway, I keep trying to publish is gonna get published. I don't know. But anyway, we'll keep our fingers crossed. That was called tear on the high seas. Yeah, something like that. Or no, no, the pirate queen. Anyway, if we can read some excerpts or something. Um, the last book I want to talk about also from seal press is, it's called a woman like you. And it's by Vera Anderson. And it's subtitled the face of domestic violence. And this is getting a little serious here. It's, it's a slightly oversized book, Anderson was herself an abused woman, abused wife. And she got out of the situation. And she said, she was amazed by how many people told her, you were abused, you don't look like an abused woman, as she? Well, no, not like that. It's just you don't look like the type of woman who had been abused. And enough people said that she thought, well, what does an abused woman look like? I mean, not not one who has just been abused, but someone who is in an abusive situation. So what is a woman like that look like? So she's a photographer. So she started taking pictures of these women, and is their white, black, Asian, Hispanic, all sorts of women. Mostly straight, she does talk about a couple of lesbians though, which is something I wish you to focus more on, because we all know that men beat their wives, but what we, you know, have a tendency to kind of gloss over and stuff is that women beat their girlfriends, you know, and men beat their boyfriends, and stuff like that. And when women beat their husbands, you know, it kind of goes all over the place. But of course, she's just focusing on women, but I do wish she had included a few more lesbians, she'll just have the picture and that she has like a short, you know, two, three, paragraph interview with these women.

22:31

This is really good. I'm looking at right now. Yeah. And these women, you know, I think we all kind of do have this, this, this picture in our head of what an abused woman looks like anyone who quote unquote, would stay in a relationship, you know? And she kind of talks about that, how people say, Well, why did you stay there if he was beating you? And she kind of briefly talks about that issue and why you would do things like that? Well, and so she, she kind of talks about that and kind of gives us pictures and stuff like that, what's what what I found very surprising, and very, very upsetting actually, is a lot of these women ended up killing their husbands or girlfriends or whoever, and then got thrown in jail for you know, the battered woman syndrome, you just kind of snap after a while, and then you go and you just get he wasn't doing anything to her. And so as a result, a lot of these women are doing heavy time in jail because of this. And you know, it just walked away. Yeah, well, no, it's no see, that's the thing with a battered women's syndrome, you can't just walk away. It's not that simple. And she talks about this very interesting talks about this, how she left her husband, he was stalking her he was trailing her and stuff like that, you know, out. So yeah, it's that you can easily just separate from a relationship like that.

Jay 22:35

Gigi 23:49

Jay 23:57

And especially for kids, and she talks about that with her. There's this this one, the only picture she has with any guys was this son. And his mother had been abused and left and his dad had thrown him down the stairs and broken his leg or something like that. So he didn't have to go visit his dad but his his younger brother still did, or something like that. So it's this thing is the only male voice in here with this, this young boy and he says, I'm just so worried about my little brother. He's a toddler, you know, and if my dad did these horrible things to my mom, and to me it if it's too dangerous for me to see my dad, why is it okay for my younger brother, and he was really worried. And there was an interview with some girls and talking about their mother who was in jail, and so she couldn't talk to the mother. And you know, just talking about how Yeah, well, I'm really glad that she left and stuff and now she's in jail and all this stuff. And, and just very, I mean, just like I'm getting goosebumps thinking about it's such a powerful moving book. It's a tiny little thing. It's not about I mean, less than 100 pages, I'm sure portraits are really beautiful. And all the women are, you know, in terms of their appearance. You'd never know that. Yeah, they don't, you know, quote unquote, look alike. But that's what she's saying is, you know what exactly, we have this image probably, you know, a slovenly lower class, white woman, she says, and you know, someone probably kind of stupid. There's women in here, PhDs, you know, very intelligent women. And the thing is, you know, she kind of talks about this as the violence. It's not just the physical, it's the mental and stuff like, Absolutely.

Jay 25:13

25:40

There's one portrait in here of a woman who looks, the only portrait that seems to be, you know, have the character of a woman who has been abused is a woman named Marian. And it says that she died in prison in 1993. And she looks dejected. She's sitting on sort of a park bench whether or had on her hands.

Jay 26:01

And it was just a very brief little thing. I, I took it to class one day, while my students were taking a test, I'm reading this, you know, and tears were coming to my eyes, I'm thinking, why did I bring this book to class? Very moving. But something that does need to be talked about and does need, you know, because we do have this image. And we do have to say, Well, why didn't you just leave? Well, why didn't you just say, you know, blah, blah, blah, and we kind of it's total blame the victim mentality. And I know, I used to do that until I found out one of my cousins was abused by her husband. Up and I've been through some stalking experience with myself. And you're right, there's, there's really no escape. And, you know, I, you know, I'm sorry that I didn't think about that, in terms of, you know, my own desire was in this really borderline in terms of, you know, how do I get out of this situation, other than doing violence to the person who's violating me, stalking me and harass him, especially in these days and times, it's almost impossible to avoid it, you can change your phone number and your stalker can find it out, you can change your address they can find, you know,

26:32

J

Jimmy Carper 26:55

27:07

I have a friend who's who's, you know, deals with a lot of abuse victims. She's a lawyer who's in charge of Southern Poverty Law Center up in near Washington. And she said that just recently have they changed the law so that, you know, when somebody is suing another person, you know, a woman, I mean, so that that woman have some some anonymity, in terms of that, you know, this, this, this person being able to locate them? Right. You know, that's, I mean, that person is immediately in such great danger. If you know, automatically through through various attorneys, you know, their ex husband, or whomever, their ex spouse who's abusive, is automatically notified of where they are. I mean, it's, in order to avoid that stalking it is necessary to, you know, separate yourself get an unlisted number. Yeah, not not not going to skip trace does. It was one thing in here, by the way, there was a woman who, apparently she was fairly young, she looks fairly young, and she'd been in jail for 16 years. So she must have been fairly young what happened, she, you know, killed her husband. And at the time, it was in the 70s, I think they didn't have the battered women's syndrome. And she was in jail, you know, so she got thrown in jail. And she, you know, through the prison library, she educated herself on law. And she was writing letters and doing all this stuff, and all this legal, mumbo jumbo, and ended up getting her case appealed. She got it looked at again. And she got off on the battered women's syndrome, because of the research she had done in prison, which I thought that's really it. So now she's out.

J

Jay 28:01

♂

28:46

But of course, you describe that the battered woman syndrome, defense, battered women's syndrome is when a woman has been, we should probably say a person, because I'm sure it happens to men as well, but it's mostly women who have been abused. And you know, physical abuse rarely happens just on its own. There's usually emotional, mental abuse as well. And so he's just constantly yelling at her telling her, you know, nothing, you're stupid, you're dumb, and all this stuff, and you have no place to go, you know, you're powerless and all this stuff. And so that's why she can't just pack up and leave because you feel she has no place to go. And you know, he can follow her and stuff. So one day, she just kind of snaps and what shall kill them. And it's not just taking a gun. See, this is why it's so difficult, because it's not just taking a gun and shooting him when he's attacking her. He's usually just sitting on the couch watching TV, and she'll go in and pump 12 bullets in him, you know? So that's the thing because you know, it's not a same thing. You know, this is not something you do when you're saying here. And so it's really hard, you know, then you can't really plead self defense because he wasn't doing anything. You can't plead self defense because the wind pump 12 bullets into his back, you know? So that's, that's what's been there wasn't doing anything at that moment. Yeah, exactly.

J

Jay 28:50

J Jay 30:06

So people say his

J Jimmy Carper 30:07

whole existence with her.

J Jay 30:10

Oh, yeah. Yeah. So that's what the battered women's syndrome says is, yes, it was self defense. You know, it was a case of temporary insanity. No, he wasn't doing anything at that particular moment. But over time, you bet that's what it was.

G Gigi 30:23

I'm kind of glad you did this book review. Because, you know, I've talked about this a little bit on the show, you know, as abused by our show system and by the, by, by a parent and by just the church. Growing up as a hyperactive, you're gonna temporaries everything because of your ADHD. Yeah. And one of the things that got me into s&m is the therapeutic nature of s&m. And it's very empowering to be able to relive that experience, that this time had the power

J Jimmy Carper 30:42

G Gigi 30:48

J Jimmy Carper 31:04

to say, Stop, yes, that you're in control

G

Gigi 31:07

that I'm in control. And I was able to regain the control that I did not have as a child, yes, I could not say stop, that hurts. Or stop, you're scaring me, or stop, I'm terrified to a football coach wielding a big paddle. Fortunately, they can't do that anymore. But I'll tend to public school system, a lot of people who are interested in dominant and submissive role play, you know, don't really understand fully, you know, how consent is structured by through negotiation, and through various, you know, interpersonal interactions, all these educational groups are all about, you know, there's a social support group and appear system that, that helps to eliminate abuse. And, you know, it's actually I think, you know, statistically very rare for abuse or violence, you know, but it's just so publicized whenever anything, you know, kinky play, you know, in some somebody gets killed or, or injured in that regard, you're gonna hear about it on the news. And those those events are due to, you know, people not knowing, you know, not being educated about what they're doing, and just being generally sociopathic. And there's a very, very clear, distinct distinction, I think, between consensual sexuality of any form and abuse. I think the thing is in, in life, people watch out for each other. And I know shortly, you know, shortly before excuse me, we started getting into the scene. We went to some party and someone was telling us about an instance where that happened, and this guy was using force on this woman, and she was saying, Stop, and he wouldn't stop. So other people's party made him stop. And got him got her down everything like that. And then he was blacklisted, basically. Yeah, no one would invite him to any parties. And if he showed up, no one would play with him. No one would do a scene with him or anything like that. So it's, you know, if something like that does happen, you know, it's not like I think that's fun. The things I like about the community is consensual reality and safety are so built into all this. You don't really need to be an exhibitionist to come to a play party. You don't have to play there. But there's a lot of warriors that come to watch.

♀

33:21

G

Gigi 33:27

33:31

If you hang around long enough, you will become an exhibitionist,

Jimmy Carper 33:34

I really am impressed with the community for for just what Jay was talking about protecting their own. And if somebody gets out of hand, word gets around, yes. And that person is blacklisted. And so you know, meeting someone through an organization is probably the single safest way to get in bed with another person who bears a particular form of sexuality.

33:49

Jay 34:01

I just want to say something real quick. Um, you know, I asked for books and stuff like that. And someone. I don't know if this is the name it says called called in. If this is your name, I apologize. Anyway, this person suggested the book The Golden Hawk by Frank yarby, which is supposedly about a female pirate. So I just want to say thanks, whoever it was, who called in Mr. called. I appreciate that. I'll look that up. And they must just don't get two books for Christmas present now. Anyway, wonderful listeners.

Gigi 34:33

And I want to kind of wrap this up on the very positive note, I know we covered a lot of territory very quickly. But no, absolutely. You know, there does seem to be enough time. Just slipped away so fast. But I do want to mention that Miss Gigi does something that's come GiGi is Breakfast Club. You Yes. And from time to time I invite very intimate guests over. And I do not admit when it starts.

Jay 34:47

Gigi 34:51

Jay 35:07

G

Gigi 35:12

And I get in dressed up in a very erotic outfit, cook everybody breakfast, and then get tied up and bound and have quite a little show. Interesting. And usually by the end of the performance, I'm not wearing much and everything's thoroughly examined and played with slogged, and the Teddy clamps and the whole nine yards, it is a wonderful world full of diversity. And I like being able to bring people in and say, Hey, this is part of my life. The environment is here for you. It's alternative. It's different.

And you're not alone.

G

Gigi 36:06

And, you know, it's like, everything we do is, you know, whenever I do JJs Breakfast Club, it's like, a special time and place outside the society world, in our own inner world where we can roleplay have fantasy adventures. And really enjoy a space that's safe and fun. You go and have a good time to loving one another
