

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Well, gee whiz, gosh golly, it's almost 2:00 and getting on time for me to mosey on away.

[INAUDIBLE]

Go keep an eye on my friend Jim, who's threatening to do weird things tonight and maybe talk him out of it. Who knows?

[INAUDIBLE]

I don't know, just to talk him out of it. It's almost 2:00. I'm going to be leaving you with some more new Guadalcanal Diary, and I'll be here again next Friday morning, Friday, and we'll do something even better than this. This is-- song you're hearing now is "Trapped in Waikiki" by the Royal Court of China. And stay tuned for After Hours with your pal and mine Buddy. Looks like he's about to sell the Buick right here on the radio.

I want to go home.

Call him up and harass him.

Yeah.

526-4000. He loves to be pestered. Obscene phone calls are his favorite by the way, and this is "Lips of Steel" by Guadalcanal Diary.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

The disorder began with a routine police raid on a homosexual bar, the Stonewall, on Christopher Street.

(CROWD CHANTING) Say it loud, gay and proud.

We take great pride in what's happened in the gay community and what's going to happen.

People of Dade County have said enough, enough, enough.

Human rights rights are here to stay. Anita Bryant go away.

There's no question in my mind that the people of California don't want homosexuals teaching in the classroom.

State Senator John Briggs has just conceded the election.

Both Mayor Moscone and Supervisor Harvey Milk have been shot and killed.

Dan white has been found guilty of one count each of voluntary manslaughter.

(CROWD CHANTING) Fight now! Fight back!

It has now broken loose. Cops are now bashing heads.

The news comes the National March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights.

Gay power, gay politics. That's what this report is about.

There are gay and lesbian people singing out here. What's your reaction to that?

I think it's terrible. If I had a rock, I'd throw it at 'em.

The real message of these gay games is that every one of us is a winner.

Tonight we are marching as are others across America, and we shouldn't have to be.

I believe that Harvey Milk went to the mountaintop of America. I believe that Harvey Milk had gone to the top of the mountain of discrimination. He'll go to the top of the mountain of oppression. He'll go to the top of the mountain of psychological and societal debasement.

And I believe that Harvey Milk, from the top of that mountain, looked down on Wichita, looked down on Kansas City, looked down on Dade County, looked down on Oklahoma, looked down on Seattle, looked down on Texas, looked down on the Supreme Court and the Congress, and I believe that Harvey Milk saw gay people will one day be full free and equal citizens in this country. And it is our responsibility to come out of the wilderness, not to wander and meander and linger in the wilderness, the wilderness of despair, but to come out and realize the dream, realize the promised land, and gather our strength, our fortitude, our creativity, our initiative, and our hope and go into their promised land of dignity, pride, and respect.

It's 2:06 in the morning, and we have an awful lot to talk about this morning. The big news is the March on Washington is coming up October the 11th, and we're going to be bringing you that right here on KPFT. If you have any questions about the march or any comments about the program, give us a call at 526-4000 because we want to hear from you.

Hi, this is Vicky Lindsay from Kindred Spirits, and you're listening to After Hours on KPFT Houston 90.1 FM.

Oh, shit.

Stop. You're dead.

Yeah.

Oh me.

From the straight folks who don't mind gays but wish they weren't so blatant--

[APPLAUSE]

Some people got a lot of nerve. Sometimes I don't believe the things I see and hear. Have you met the woman who's shocked by two women kissing and in the same breath tells you that she's pregnant. But gays shouldn't be blatant. Or the straight couple sits next to you in a movie and you can't hear the dialogue because of the sound effects. But gays shouldn't be blatant.

And the woman in your office spends your whole lunch hour talking about her new bikini drawers and how much her husband likes them. But gays shouldn't be blatant. Or the hip chick in your class rattling a mile a minute while you're trying to get stoned in the john about the camping trip she took with her musician boyfriend. But gays shouldn't be blatant.

You go in a public bathroom and all over the walls, there's John loves Mary, Janice digs Richard, Pepe loves Dolores, et cetera. But gays shouldn't be blatant. Or you go to an amusement park and there's a tunnel of love and features the straights painted on the front and grinning couples coming in and out. But gays shouldn't be blatant.

Fact is blatant heterosexuals are all over the place-- supermarkets, movies, at work, in church, in books, on television every day and night, every place, even in gay bars. And they want gay men and women to go hide in the closets. So to you straight folks I say sure I'll go if you go to. But I'm polite so after you. Thank you.

Attention all personnel.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Well, you have to get-- you have to get excited about life. I'm excited about life, aren't you, Ray? That's Ray. Ray that did our little KPFT ID. Ray designed the beautiful After Hours poster that you've seen all over the Montrose area. You haven't seen it, call me here at the station and I'll send you one. 526-4000.

Come out, come out, wherever you are. We're everywhere. Four and a half-- 450,000, a half a million strong here in Houston or the Houston area rather. That's just the Kinsey Report. You take 10% of the population's gay and lesbian, that's a whole lot of folks people. Stand up and be counted. They can't turn their backs on us.
