at 4am Central Daylight Time tropical storm warning is discontinued south of Port O'Connor, Texas. A tropical storm warning remains in effect for the south eastern coast of Louisiana, east of Morgan City to the mouth of the Pearl River, including metropolitan New Orleans and Lake Pontchartrain, and from south of Sargent, Texas to Port O'Connor, Texas. A tropical storm warning means the tropical storm conditions are expected within the warning area within the next 24 hours. At 4am. The center of Hurricane Rita was located near latitude to 9.9 North longitude. Nine West or near Port Arthur Texas. Route is moving towards the northwest near 12 miles per hour, a gradual turn turn towards the north, and a decrease in forward motion is expected during the next 24 hours. This motion should bring the center of Rita further inland over southeastern Texas earlier later today. Reports from Air Force Reserve hurricane hunter aircraft and National Weather Service Doppler radars indicate that maximum sustained winds are near 120 miles an hour with higher gusts. This makes Rita a category three hurricane on the SAFFiR Simpson scale. So repeating again it's at 29.9 North 93.9 West movement is the northwest at 12 miles per hour. Sustained maximum sustained wind is 120 miles per hour. central pressure 937 millibars next advisory from the National Hurricane Center will be at 7am followed by a complete advisory at 10am This concludes your hurricane update

 01:44

wow that's pretty good at it without 01:46

messing up too much. What do we got queued up 01:49

we've got a surprise in CD player number one

 01:53

oh sounds surprise I can read the label so once again this is after hours if you're expecting lead to Bala on unfortunately he is not here due to Rita. I didn't have time break. Okay, I started off the gotcha. Gotcha. But what the heck you're listening to KPFT 90.1 FM Houston 89.5 Galveston, which is still a part of the state of Texas. Yes, it is. And the World Wide Web KPFT dot o RG and until we get the transmitter up that's how you're hearing us. We'll be right back to a little Abba

02:30

02:32

trio there. That was Mamma Mia. By avocat Abracadabra.

02:44

Oh, hold on Mommy. I gotta go on the air. Okay, it's abracadabra

02:50

Gotcha. And before that we had give me give me give me a man after midnight done by eraser. And we started that set off with the San Francisco Gay Men's Chorus with Fernando. Next step we've got another little set you're gonna like it's more of a rock bluesy set starting with Melissa Etheridge and Joan Osborne doing a live version of bring me some water

03:29

Austin's own Gary Floyd when he was with Sister dipole double happiness. Lightning struck by that sign up for that appropriate song.

03:38

03:42

Yeah, isn't it isn't it as well as the first song in that said yeah,

03:47

we have right before that was blowing hearts and knowing glances Verona Klaus. And before that was a dedication from the people of I 45 to the mayor, Melissa Etheridge and Joan Osborne singing bring me some water Gotcha.

04:02

This is an extended after hours. For those 04:07

of you tuning in expecting to hear Lita ball you know, unfortunately, he was part of the mandatory evacuation zone and was going to be unable to make it

04:18

right as well as PT.

04:20

PT. So of course, what you have are the people who are going to get blamed for this hurricane. He says the homosexuals There we are. Bringing you here combined have over 50 years of faggotry to play music into the wee wee hours

04:38

between Chris and I Yes, I guess being 04:40

generous to him are really selfish on myself. We are the after hours crew, 04:48

but we've got good music coming your way. And you know, we're you know this. We don't get to play a lot of music on our show. So it gives us a little chance. It's like we're going through the music going. Oh my goodness. We get to play three songs in a row. So let's we like to go for themes. Yeah. For those of you out there who aren't familiar with our type of people, you know, we like to design and organize. And so we're trying to find little themes that was that last that was kind of a bluesy rock, bluesy rock theme theme that we're gonna go into the anthem theme theme and then hit you up with some artists give you some triple shots of some, some of the artists you don't get to hear. You're not going to hear anywhere else. But here on KPFT. Most of the time, you'll hear it with the after hours, which is Friday nights, slash Saturday morning 1am to 4am. There other times, you're going to hear it is over on our sister show queer voices every Monday night seven to 9pm. And since the fourth was holy cow here and upcoming on this Monday, it will be the queer music heritage. Yes, right.

04:51

05:44

05:53

JD Doyle bringing you one solid hour of queer music.

05:59

So we're going to bring you a little bit more than one solid hour, we're going to fill you up with it and, you know, let you realize there's more to our community and music than Elton and Melissa and whoever Should we have a storm update.

06:12

06:16

We have one at the top of the hour. We'll just give you a kind of a radar hit here. Yeah. This radars unfortunately 10 minutes old.

06:25

Go Well, hey, I hit

06:28

the refresh button. We'll see if that brings it any still that same age. over most of the greater Houston area if you are on the west side of I 45. You are mainly in the greens to dark greens to help people out on a scale of one to 13 If you're in the Katy area, you are at about a 77345

Sorry, six. You're it's five and six over in Katy Navasota you are in the sixes Brendan fives. One is light. 13 is heavy. Oh, yeah, I'm trying to convert colors to cable out and radio land can understand. There's some patches of six, just east of Katy along the 290 corridor from the loop out to the grand Parkway. Also along to 288. South there's a patch of six. There's a five along the southwest corridor. Got a band of seven see the yellows going between 45 and 59. From Luke from the North Loop to the South Loop. So all through the area, including the downtown area is under sevens. You are in sevens, eights, and nines. If you're in Liberty County, they're getting one of those feeder bands. There's going right through Liberty County. Ouch. Right now, right, it's going right down the center of liberty. And you've got another one of those seven, eight nines going through just west of Beaumont, just east of Beaumont, we've got a looks like there's some elevens in there. That's just outside of the radar that we're looking at here. So overall, you're probably gonna be getting some rain. There's some more reports of power outages out in the Cypress Fairbanks area. We got to call on that. So you know we are still here. Occasionally may hear the transmitter popping in and out. But we're gonna stick it out here until whoever comes in to yank us off the air.

08:37

Actually, Rick, his characters coming in a little early. So I will be here to till he gets there breaking the dawn. And so let's start off with our will anthem part here. It's Bob Hartman and coming out and we'll be back then.

08:41

09:05

Heather small from queers folk soundtrack.

09:10

USA. Yes.

09:12

Number one.

09:13

Okay, whatever.

09:14

There's so many different ones there.

09:17

Yeah, but before that, or is my last right over there.

09:22

Oh, dear Lord, You tried writing on my list here. Sorry. I'm not awake enough to read that before that was the lesbian and gay chorus of Washington. We shall not give up the fight. And Bob Hartman with coming out.

09:37

This coming at National Coming Out Day is October the 11th.

09:43

Coming up here in a short bit. Let's see here. Then we're going to feature an artist I've got four songs by very multi talented singer mark, singer songwriter Mark waggles.

09:47

09:58

And the only problem is we've got I have Lebanon's solo. We're going we're gonna start giving you the BBC at the top of the hour. Oh, okay. So BBC is going to come in between Mark. So 10:09

10:05

we're gonna pop that in there. We'll get it. We'll get it set up here and go. You're listening to after hours. extra hours on after hours on KPFT 90.1 FM songs by Mark waggles, and 10:33

10:31

in a moment we'll be going off to London to check in with the BBC and find out the news of the World. That was Mark Weigel with all of your body of your body like it and before that we played a good day. Yes.

10:51

We've got two more of His coming up that we're going to play out right after the baby wants to return here. You are listening to extra hours of after hours here on listener sponsored commercial free Pacific radio for the Gulf Coast. KPFT 90.1 FM Houston 89.5 Galveston always the worldwide web at KPFT dot o RG. For those of you checking in and expecting to hear lead to Bala due to the storm, he won't be joining us tonight this morning and neither will be PT PT.

10:55

11:21

PT is Cajun benstead.

11:23

So you've got us here until Ricky Schiavo comes in a little early for the Lonestar jukebox. And just waiting make sure I get this thing timed right once again. This is Houston. We're now going to London for the BBC News update of World News

11:50

two more by Mark Weigel.

11:53

So in total the four we had to before and two after BBC News. Mark waggles. We played a good day 8675309 Jimmy, no more nights alone.

12:09

And that's a duet with Blackberry. BlackBerry is one of the original openly gay singers. He came out with the compilation back in the early early 70s. And out with the compilation back in the early early 70s. And 12:24

record for the BBC. We've played love your body like it is yes, you're listening to after hours extra hours. One of the few good things Rita did for us.

13:00

Until brick is scared joke, it's Rick or someone else pops and you're listening to KPFT. And we're bringing you some of the music you're gonna hear normally. That's right. And there's a little secret about all the musicians or at least one of the people in each one of the songs you're hearing. It's one of those people attend again, Jimmy and I are one of those people so get used to it. Used to be on and the last one. Let's go back one. We're gonna give you here. We're kind of doing themes. So we did Mark Weigelt quadruple shot. We're gonna give you some cover songs. One's a little funnier. Yeah. But you know, they're all they're all a little humorous in one way or another because you know, the first one Jeff crasner son of a preacher man, you've heard the song you've I mean, everybody specialists in this station. You know that song? Son of a preacher man. But how many of you heard a man sing? Haha. Eyes on the sparrows kind of? That's very gospel. And 14:07

13:03

14:04

that's done by Mark Allen Smith, who has a very lovely frock on her on his album, Caesar

14:13

he's a female female impersonator from Dallas and things in his own voice and 14:20

then the Kinsey six and as si si que es is gonna be the follow are gonna be ended that with the rose and they corrupted it just a little bit just to touch. But we're gonna start off with Jeff crasner and son of a preacher man.

14:53

Hello tripleshots Yes, cover tunes. That was the Kinsey six

14:59

Si si que es a drag of hella Cortez barbershop quartet?

15:06

Yes, except they were dresses.

15:10

What's the drag up? Hello? Yeah. acapella drag. That should premiere in Houston quite a bit. Last time they were out at the Improv at IGN in silver. Wow. They've performed there they perform fundraisers throughout the community. For that was Mark Allen Smith with eyes on the sparrow. And starting that set off was Jeff crasner, son of a preacher man. And you are listening to after hours extra hours here on KPFT 90.1 FM once again due to the hurricane Lita ball and PT won't be in so yep, we're filling in and giving you kind of the music you don't get to hear that often.

15:54

No, you there elsewhere. You sure don't. We've got a country set coming up. And after that a jazz

16:01

I don't have that setup. Yeah, I got. Oh, what did you get? I when we pulled out Klaus Nomi Yeah. And you were going how in the world are you going to do Klaus Nomi with two other songs? Yeah, how you get it with that? Simple is it? Yeah.

16:13

16:17

Well, I start off with something really soft. Then go to Klaus Nomi. And then we're gonna go to really then we're gonna go to even stranger. Oh, yeah, gotta figure it out. Of course. Kind of an appropriate song because you know, the way things were looking 12 hours ago. You probably thought that by the time you woke up this morning. Dorothy would have to say you're not in Kansas anymore

17:01

See, you didn't know how the road I was gonna fit two songs wrong Klaus know me, too. That off with of course, Judy Garland. Somewhere Over the Rainbow. Because like I said, you know, 12 hours ago. I'm pretty sure we thought we were gonna be landing somewhere over the rainbow. In the middle, there was Klaus Nomi with ding dong the witch is dead. Think I have to say the vich Yeah, so with Klaus at some hitch, okay. And that last part was one of Jamie's favorites. So I'll be fair and and he did all the voices. All the parts there everything you heard he did it live?

17:41

17:43

Yeah, that was in front of a live audience. From best weekend to hell, it's a recording from a special a CD, it was made for a children's benefit. Yeah. Let's give you a little update here on radar in the weather. Because there is a lot of bad weather out there is there. Some storms coming through the area. One thing there was some fires have been breaking out in Clear Lake Galveston Pasadena. Part of that, you know, power lines going down causing sparks. The winds are causing transformers to explode. And I mean, they're filled with just oil. And so you know, they get superheated they explode, you have oil going everywhere, you get the chance for fire. And some of these instances, just maybe some people who have lost power and sort of going for a flashlight, they go for a hurricane lamp or a bunch of candles and who knows where that is going to go from that point. And of course, there's also going to be lightning out there. So basically, checking the radar. This one's about 10 minutes old. I don't know why they don't refresh it more on the internet. Once again, the way we try and describe it is a scale of one to 13 one being light 13 Being heaviest. Right now that band of storms that we said that we're sevens and eights that were in Liberty County, Central and East is now to West Liberty County. And it's one of those bands off of Rita which is heading here. The western edge of it is just outside the Beltway on the northwest side. So if you are up by Intercontinental Airport expect you know some of the sevens and eights coming your way. There's also a band of sevens with small amounts of eights. Basically running southwest from Sugar Land down to the coast is what it looks like there. Most other places you are in the fours and fives there's a little patch of six up in the outside the grand Parkway Northwest between Katie and Tom ball. And like I said for the rest of the list. Think area you're mainly the fours and fives until you get out to the far expanses on the west there and now sudden Brian I'm you're down into the threes. So just be careful out there if you don't need to be out on the road stay at home, we're remain the shelter in place because all this water coming in and wind with it, the wind with it too. It's it's not the best type of driving it is especially if you're in one of those taller vehicles, you're going to get hit with some of those cross winds. It's not the time to go out and go sightseeing and that wait till the sun comes up and you can you can see what damage has occurred. But just be careful out there. And because we want you to stick around and listen more the program we have here on KPFT. For those of you are like said we tried to let everybody know and we were doing a good job because I was calling going where where's everybody because of evacuations in such in the storms and all that lead to Bala was unable to make it in and PT will not be in either either coming up shows in quarter hour. Normally we are the after hours crew. My name is Chris Harrison. I'm Jimmy Carper. And we're kind of doing after hours extra hours here on KPFT. And you're getting to hear some of the music you don't normally get to hear. Like I said, the secret ingredient to all the the people you hear. This is openly gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered music, right. And so if you didn't know that you may be listening to this. If you've been listening for the last hour, you've heard off four of those gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered people have performed in the last hour.

21:47

And actually last that, actually to the, to the four hours, two of the three songs we played whereby

21:56

Bobby McFerrin is straight. And of course, Judy Garland was two.

22:01

So we do play some of that, but these are some of the songs of Ark of the community that, you know, we're here representing here on community radio KPFT. And yeah, we're just here to kind of give you a little thing there to lighten up the mood, because you know, we've been on pins and needles and who guys hand goods and bottled water for two days. And you know, it was kind of a I don't know, it's hard to say, a letdown that we didn't get smacked with 150 mile per hour hurricane. But you know, when you're sitting there, and you're geared up, and it's like, yeah, you're ready for this thing to hit. And then nothing happened. And all of a sudden, we were teasing. We were watching the news, and we got sick of it turned on a movie. And when the movie came over, we turned on and it was like, it's not going to hit us.

22:48

No, you're just going to veered off to the right there.

22:52

So I wanted to get our thoughts and prayers and wishes are going out to the people in Louisiana and Beaumont who are suffering this and you know, once again, all the dirty side of the storm is battering New Orleans and Southeast Louisiana. And just as they were getting ready to I mean, they were down from 80% flooded to 10% flooded. And now the levees broke again and I haven't heard any reports of how much they are back on that. So we're gonna go a little country on you now. Yeah. And give you some some of the country music and then at the top of the hour, we will take you back to London and find out the latest from the BBC. Okay, and this is Sid Spencer and had double shot of him first and start off with kind of an anthem with our group here. Out in the country. This is KPFT Houston. Ah,
