

MAN 1: Checking, 1, 2, 1, 2. Check 1, 2. KPFT. Testes, testes, 1, 2. For the lesbians, that's breasts 1, 2.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

HOST 1: Hey, don't leave us yet. Let us get you wet. Lesbian safe sex [INAUDIBLE] from the heart of Montrose at KPFT Houston.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

We're here in the heart of Montrose talking to the women of FIST. And FIST women! Yes. Show your colors. Show your leather. God, I'm breathing heavy. Sarah, hold me back.

[LAUGHING]

Stop, my beating heart. OK. I'd like to ask you ladies, each in turn, a little bit about safer sex for lesbians. What do you know about safer sex? Josie.

JOSIE: Well, what do you want to know? The how-tos, the whys, the wherefores, the different techniques, the statistics-- what are you asking? That's a pretty broad question.

HOST 1: This is a woman who knows about safer sex for lesbians.

[LAUGHTER]

OK. Where do you get your information from?

JOSIE: Some of it I get from NIH, although there are virtually no studies done on women at any level. Some of it is the Toledo Women's Health Clinic in, I believe, Dallas has published a marvelous little flyer on women and HIV. And of course, HIV is only one of many sexually transmitted diseases that one needs to watch out for.

Additionally, being an S/M club, there are also physical safety considerations to which I would strongly recommend the--

WOMAN 1: The safety manuals.

JOSIE: --the S/M safety manual by Pat Califia.

[INAUDIBLE]

HOST 1: What can the FIST women tell us about safe sex that the rest of the community may not know?

JOSIE: Well, let's see. Did you realize that there is absolutely no documentation, one way or the other, concerning whether a dental dam prevents HIV transmission? And a matter of fact, Pasteur Institute in Europe feels that it's not required because the enzymes in your mouth are enough to kill the HIV virus.

WOMAN 1: But it's better safe than sorry, always. Always.

JOSIE: Better safe than sorry always.

WOMAN 1: I knew nothing about safe sex until I got into FIST and in [INAUDIBLE], and then I learned.

HOST 1: What have you learned about leather safety?

JOSIE: Leather safety is safe, sane, and consensual, always. If it's not one of those, you don't do it.

HOST 1: Describe that to our listener who may not be in the leather community.

WOMAN 1: You have to either want to do it, you have to trust the people you're with before you do it, and you can't be messed up when you do it, you have to be sober.

HOST 1: Do you discuss your HIV status with the person-- a sex partner before you have sex? You know, like when you meet him--

JOSIE: I automatically presume that my sex partner is HIV positive.

HOST 1: Is that something that's common in the leather community because of the fact that you do, you know-- I don't know what you do.

JOSIE: No. Believe it or not-- believe it or not the most current scuttlebutt, for lack of a better term, that I've heard is that S/M is considered safer sex. It's possible for there to be no fluid transmissions, you've got often some wonderful toys that you're using in lieu of--

WOMAN 1: Contact.

JOSIE: --contact, thank you. And so on and so forth and along that line. It's currently considered a safer sex practice.

HOST 1: Do you use sex toys? And when you do, do you use condoms on?

JOSIE: Yes. If we're talking about an insertable. If we're talking about something where condom usage would be pretty ridiculous i.e. a feather duster, then no.

HOST 1: Do you think do you think that the FIST women are more in tune with safer sex because whenever you have sex you're basically thinking more about what you're doing and-- how would you describe that?

WOMAN 2: Usually, scenes are, like, pre-arranged. And we talk about them before we do them. And then sex is not always involved. You know, S&M thing doesn't always involve sex. And when it does, normally we're using latex, lube, those sorts of things are in place.

JOSIE: Or twister mats. Whatever.

[LAUGHTER]

HOST 1: This is my own fantasy I'm thinking. That's all.

JOSIE: One thing you've got to realize that with the safe thing and consensual requirements, the S/M community has rightfully adopted. There's an awful lot of communication that goes on in a S/M encounter that should go on in any sexual encounter and doesn't.

I'm not going to pick somebody up here at the bar tonight and take them home and do anything with them. I might meet somebody here, we might discuss something, we might make arrangements to get together and discuss it further, but we're going to be doing an awful lot of communicating before anything is going to happen.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

HOST 2: Grab yourself a cup of joanne. There's lots more to come live from the heart of Montrose and live via tape, Nancy Ford from Mrs. B's on her safer sex seminar coming up later on.

HOST 3: That was Femme To Femme to close out that piece of tape there from Evelyn and Sara. They worked on that really, really hard. And here she comes back. Hey.

HOST 1: Hey.

HOST 3: Hey. How'd you like that?

HOST 1: I liked that. I enjoyed talking to the FIST woman. I enjoy the FIST women everytime I see them.

HOST 3: Mm-hmm.

HOST 1: Mm-hmm. They're very informed group of lesbians.

HOST 3: You were here when they were on the air.

HOST 1: No, but I was listening.

HOST 3: Weren't you? OK. Yeah. Because it was just, gosh, a month or so ago.

HOST 1: Yeah, it wasn't too long ago. It's about-- I think it was two months.

HOST 3: Two months? Time flies, kids.

HOST 4: Yes, Evelyn called in three or four times during that.

HOST 3: Did she now?

HOST 1: Yes, I did.

HOST 3: I see. I see. I see. And I want everyone to know that they are listening to After Hours, a continuing tradition right here on KPFT at Houston, and that's--

HOST 1: That's 90.1

HOST 3: Yes, it is. But of course, if they're listening, they already know that.

HOST 1: Maybe they don't.

HOST 3: Oh, well, hey.

HOST 1: They might be thinking-- they might have thought they were listening to KPFT [INAUDIBLE].

[LAUGHTER]

It's close by. I did that one night. I thought I was tuning into After Hours and said oops.

HOST 3: I know that's wrong. So we have another piece.

HOST 1: We have another piece, another piece still done on A Women's Day. What we were doing were out interviewing lesbians on the street. We just happened to run into the entire group of FIST, which was a thrill for us. We had a good time talking to them and we really appreciate their input.

But we do have another tape to roll, that is your average lesbian on the street and what they know about safer sex.

HOST 3: OK. Let's go with it.

INTERVIEWER 1: Down in the heart of Montrose at Missouri Street, and we're talking to BJ. Hey, BJ.

SUBJECT 1: Hi, how are you doing?

INTERVIEWER 1: I want to ask you a couple of questions about [INAUDIBLE].

SUBJECT 1: Shoot, go ahead.

INTERVIEWER 1: Do you and your partner practice safer sex?

SUBJECT 1: SUBJECTS: Well, I'm single right now. So there's-- it's real safe.

INTERVIEWER 1: It's real safe. You know about lesbian safe sex?

SUBJECT 1: Yes. I do.

INTERVIEWER 1: Tell me what you know.

SUBJECT 1: Oh, that you're supposed to use dental dams, and you're not supposed to exchange bodily fluids. And all that.

INTERVIEWER 1: Have you ever used a dental dam yourself?

SUBJECT 1: No I haven't. I've put one in my mouth one time, but it wasn't during sex or anything. Tasted like bubble gum. To me it just takes away a lot.

INTERVIEWER 1: If you had a safer sex kit, would you use it?

SUBJECT 1: Yes, I probably would. Yeah.

INTERVIEWER 1: We have a safer sex kit with us tonight. What it has in it is a variety of condoms, it has a dental dam, it has several types of lubricant, all water-based. Sounds like a lot of fun.

[INTERPOSING VOICES]

[LAUGHTER]

You're fixing to get one girlfriend. Where has your-- where has your information about safer sex come from?

SUBJECT 1: Oh, you read about it, you know, in books and a lot of people talk about it. In programs and [INAUDIBLE].

INTERVIEWER 1: Have you had the opportunity to talk to a partner about safer sex?

SUBJECT 1: No I haven't. Not yet.

INTERVIEWER 1: Not yet?

SUBJECT 1: No.

INTERVIEWER 1: Have you yourself been HIV tested?

SUBJECT 1: Yes, I have.

INTERVIEWER 1: Would you require that of a potential lover?

SUBJECT 1: Yes I would.

INTERVIEWER 2: Would you feel comfortable asking someone before you were having sex about their HIV status?

SUBJECT 1: I would be very, very comfortable. Because I've been tested, you know. I've had several surgeries. And I always feel better. And maybe they'll feel better after they find out.

INTERVIEWER 2: Do you have any way that you could tell someone? Or have you ever actually asked somebody when you were talking to a potential lover? You know, like how would one go about asking them? Specifically, have you been HIV tested? Or, where along, I would say, in the date would you do this? Like maybe at dinner, would you talk about it? Would you talk about it before you went to bed, after you had sex, or what?

SUBJECT 1: I would want to do it before sex.

[LAUGHTER]

Maybe after dinner.

INTERVIEWER 2: After dinner? So you've actually sat there, and when you were talking to someone who would be a potential lover, about their HIV status? Have you actually done it is what I'm really asking.

SUBJECT 1: No I haven't. No I haven't.

INTERVIEWER Have you had sex since you've been tested?
2:

SUBJECT 1: A couple of times, yes.

INTERVIEWER And have you have you discussed your status before you had sex?
2:

SUBJECT 1: No, I didn't. No.

INTERVIEWER Do you and your partner practice safer sex?
1:

SUBJECT 2: I guess, yeah.

INTERVIEWER Well, do you know about lesbians safer sex?
1:

SUBJECT 2: No. I don't.

SUBJECT 3: Not much really written on the subject [INAUDIBLE].

INTERVIEWER If we gave you a lesbian safer sex kit, would you use it?
1:

SUBJECT 2: Probably not.

SUBJECT 3: Well, we plan on staying with each other. So.

INTERVIEWER Have either one of you been tested for HIV?
2:

SUBJECT 2: No. No.

INTERVIEWER So your version of safe sex would be just plain monogamy?
2:

SUBJECT 2: Yeah. And not messing with guys.

INTERVIEWER Well, you know, you can get HIV from women.
2:

SUBJECT 2: Bisexual women.

[LAUGHTER]

INTERVIEWER OK.
2:

SUBJECT 2: Sorry. We're pretty ignorant, really.

INTERVIEWER 1: Did you know that the AIDS Foundation of Houston is putting on safer sex seminars in your home, and they make it a lot of fun. They make a party out of it.

SUBJECT 2: That's cool.

INTERVIEWER 1: Would you be interested in doing that?

SUBJECT 3: Well, we don't know all that many people. Like, [INAUDIBLE].

SUBJECT 2: Yes, I'd be curious to learn. I want to know about it.

SUBJECT 3: Well, I have tried to read things. But there's not a lot out there to read. You know, there's really not any resource [INAUDIBLE] to really get any valuable information.

SUBJECT 2: What I want to know is whether-- like, how many women get it from other women? You know, I have never heard of that happening to a lot of people.

INTERVIEWER 1: There have been documented cases in Texas.

SUBJECT 2: How many?

INTERVIEWER 1: We don't--

SUBJECT 2: What's the percentage?

INTERVIEWER 1: We don't have an accurate percentage at this time.

SUBJECT 2: That's the problem.

SUBJECT 3: Yeah, we think our government wouldn't fund any study for lesbians to find out how they get AIDS from one another.

SUBJECT 2: I know a lot of gay guys. I used to work at Charlie's, you know. And they're dying off in large numbers. And I don't see that happening with women. So--

INTERVIEWER 2: Are you aware of the fact that the percentage of women has been increasing?

SUBJECT 2: Yeah, but it's like heterosexual women is what I hear. That's what I hear.

INTERVIEWER 2: There also are some cases of lesbian women. I mean, it's not 100% safe.

SUBJECT 2: I've heard of one case. I mean, I'm limited in what I've heard, but that's all I've heard of it. And they're vague on how it happens. So. I don't know. I don't mean to be flippant about it. I don't know. I would like to know. I want to know. Yeah. I want to know.

INTERVIEWER 1: Do you think that the issue of safer sex helps to encourage monogamy?

SUBJECT 2: Yes.

SUBJECT 3: I do, yes.

SUBJECT 2: Absolutely.

INTERVIEWER 1: Do you see a trend with your friends or acquaintances towards more monogamous relationships than in the past?

SUBJECT 2: Absolutely. Yeah.

INTERVIEWER 1: We've got Erica and Sarah--

SUBJECT 4: And Bobbi.

INTERVIEWER 1: And Bobbi. OK, tonight we're going to give you a safer sex for women kit put out by the AIDS Foundation of Houston. [INAUDIBLE]

SUBJECT 5: Unless you find a girl that uses it.

INTERVIEWER 2: Do you think most women don't use them? Condoms?

SUBJECT 5: No, for what? Or you wish to have a real man, baby.

INTERVIEWER 2: No. No.

INTERVIEWER 1: No. Women use condoms.

INTERVIEWER 2: Women condoms.

INTERVIEWER 1: Women use condoms on their sex toys before they share them with their partners.

INTERVIEWER 2: Or they can also cut the condoms down the middle and split it up so that way they can have a barrier between the two partners.

INTERVIEWER 1: They're a lot thinner than dental dams.

INTERVIEWER Have you ever heard of safe sex for women?

2:

SUBJECT 5: Kind of. We had a pamphlet on it.

SUBJECT 6: No.

SUBJECT 4: No.

INTERVIEWER Would you feel comfortable talking about it to a potential sex partner before you were to have sex? Or even
2: discuss your HIV status?

SUBJECT 5: Yeah, sure.

SUBJECT 4: Of course.

INTERVIEWER Do you do it?

2:

SUBJECT 4: Talk about it?

INTERVIEWER Yeah, talk about it.

2:

SUBJECT 5: Back in the damn '90s you had to.

INTERVIEWER Would you feel comfortable talking to your potential sex partners prior to having sex? After you've already had 1: sex? While you're still having dinner? When would you talk to your partner?

SUBJECT 4: During dinner, after dinner. Before dinner.

SUBJECT 6: All three.

SUBJECT 5: Before you date them, or just after you've been with them a while? We do talk about it. We're comfortable about it because we've been together for a while. It's nothing to be embarrassed about.

SUBJECT 4: If you're open with your sex life. [INAUDIBLE] Exactly.

[INTERPOSING VOICES]

INTERVIEWER Are you aware that the AIDS Foundation of Houston puts on safer sex parties for lesbians in their homes, and 1: they make a party out of it?

SUBJECT 4: Can I get an invite?

INTERVIEWER No, the think is, you've got to call and invite them. You get all of your closest friends.

1:

SUBJECT 4: Oh. Kind of like a lingerie party?

INTERVIEWER Yeah, exactly.

2:

INTERVIEWER Exactly!

1:

INTERVIEWER Or a Tupperware party.

2:

SUBJECT 4: Oh.

INTERVIEWER Yeah.

1:

SUBJECT 4: The more toys you buy, the bigger the toy you get? [LAUGHTER]

[INAUDIBLE]

INTERVIEWER What they do is [INAUDIBLE].

1:

SUBJECT 4: Demonstrations?

INTERVIEWER Demonstrations, not on live subjects, I'm sure.

1:

[LAUGHTER]

INTERVIEWER And they show you how to use the dental dams and the condoms, and different things like that. And how to talk to your partner [INAUDIBLE].

INTERVIEWER Would you be interested in hosting one of those parties now that you know that they exist?

1:

SUBJECT 5: I don't have too friends that are [INAUDIBLE]

SUBJECT 4: Not yet.

SUBJECT 5: [INAUDIBLE] way to meet them.

SUBJECT 4: I mean, it's like-- it's kind of better than a Tupperware party, I think.

[LAUGHTER]

I have enough Tupperware. I don't have enough friends.

INTERVIEWER Talk to us about lesbians safer sex.

1:

SUBJECT 6: Can I use the bathroom first?

INTERVIEWER Oh, great. Now we all got to go! Potty break, everybody!

2:

[MUSIC PLAYING]

[AUDIO OUT]

[MUSIC PLAYING]

INTERVIEWER 1: And what we're doing tonight is we're interviewing lesbians on the street. Right now we're in front of Bacchus, the heart of Montrose, on the women's night, Wednesday. Women's Day! And I'd like to know what you know about lesbians safer sex. Do you practice safer sex?

SUBJECT 7: I don't have sex.

INTERVIEWER 1: That sounds safe to me. Would you be comfortable talking about safer sex to a potential partner?

SUBJECT 8: Probably. Yep. I think I would. Just because-- like, lately, in the media you hear more about it. And it's like something I think women never think about. It's like it's always-- it's either a gay man or it's drug users. Or-- I don't know. Drug users, or bisexual women, or women that sleep with men. And since I don't sleep with men, and I just-- I don't know.

It's sort of like something I don't want to think about. But at the same time, I don't want to be stupid. And, like, do something really dangerous. So I'd like to find out more about it because I'd like to think that I can meet this woman that I'm attracted to and I can have sex with her when I feel like it. I don't want to have to think, God, do I have to wear-- well, not a condom, but who wants the use a dental dam? I mean what-- can't they come up with something else that is more-- I don't know.

INTERVIEWER 1: Are you aware that you can use Saran wrap, the non microwavable kind.

SUBJECT 8: I've heard about Saran wrap but it just-- I don't know, maybe this is like the same thing as guys saying, I don't want to wear a condom. Like, I don't want to lick Saran wrap!

[LAUGHTER]

I don't care if it's flavored. I don't care. But at the same time, I realize-- I hope I never do anything stupid. And I really wish that they knew more about gay women, because it seems like they don't know anything about gay women. And I was reading an article today, I think in Out magazine. And it's just confusing.

It's like you hear on the one hand that more and more women are coming down with AIDS, but at the same time they say these women also sleep with men and they also use drugs, and whatever. So it's like, you don't know what to think. They say oral sex is safe. And then they say oral sex isn't safe. It's like, what do you do?

INTERVIEWER 1: It all comes down to trusting your partner.

SUBJECT 8: That's why I think communication is important. I think you need to talk about it. I'm also the kind of person, I don't like to-- even though I have before, but very seldom. I like to get to know someone first and talk to them, and develop a relationship with them. To just see what they are before I just jump in bed with them. Because I kind of think that's stupid. Just to like, see someone and say, God, she's gorgeous. And then go to bed with her. Like, you don't know anything about her.

And even if there wasn't AIDS I still think it's stupid just to jump in bed with someone that you don't know anything about. So I like to get to know someone and hopefully that will help. But at the same time, I still think everyone should learn about sex with women. And maybe there is a risk.

INTERVIEWER Have you have you yourself been tested for HIV?

1:

SUBJECT 8: No.

INTERVIEWER Would you require that of a potential partner?

1:

SUBJECT 8: I would have to know her background. If she says she's done drugs a lot, and if she says she sleeps with men a lot, I probably wouldn't sleep with her. But if on the off chance I would want to, I probably would want that. But usually I'm not attracted to women that shoot drugs or sleep with men.

INTERVIEWER That you're aware of.

2:

SUBJECT 8: That I'm aware of. Exactly.

INTERVIEWER Again, it falls down to trust and communication.

1:

SUBJECT 8: Right.

INTERVIEWER We're here--

1:

[LAUGHTER]

[INAUDIBLE]

We're here with Nancy Ford, who has just been named Best Houston Comic by--

INTERVIEWER Houston Press Reader's Poll.

2:

NANCY FORD: It could be Reader's Digest. I might have won $1,000,000. I don't know! I don't know. Something came in the mail. I don't know.

INTERVIEWER The van could be at your house now.

2:

NANCY FORD: I have no idea what's going on. It might be like a Happy Meal from McDonald's. I have no idea what's going on. But I'm celebrating.

INTERVIEWER But you know what you get for that? You get a lesbian safe sex condom kit.
2:

NANCY FORD: Like I'm never going to be able to use that again in my life!

INTERVIEWER You just saw your next wife!
2:

NANCY FORD: Well, she's still holding out on me.

[LAUGHTER]

You know, I've got some-- I've seen these before. These came from AIDS Foundation Houston, didn't they?

INTERVIEWER Sure did.
2:

NANCY FORD: That's excellent. What a fine idea to distribute lesbian safe sex kits!

[INAUDIBLE]

Here you go. Come here, I'll be glad to demonstrate. Come here. (SINGING) You put your right hand in! You take your right hand out! You put your right hand-- well. Go ahead, baby. Shake it all about.

[LAUGHTER]

I can't believe this. I'm trying to walk to my car, I get accosted on the steps of a local neighborhood eatery, drinkery, dancery kind of place, and you just stop me. I'm just trying to be a good citizen. Trying to go home.

INTERVIEWER We felt your psychic joy. We were drawn to you!
1:

NANCY FORD: You felt my psychic joy. Well, that's probably not-- well. No! Well, I'm just really glad to run into you guys tonight everybody. Everybody at Out Smart and I are just having a good time, and celebrating. And we appreciate everything that KPFT has done for us as well.

INTERVIEWER Thank you, Nancy. And Congratulations.
1:

NANCY FORD: Well, thanks! Come out and see me out at Ms. Bees. We're doing our lesbian safe sex seminars there the last Thursday of every month. So come on out. We'll talk about latex!

INTERVIEWER Latex, my favorite subject.
1:

NANCY FORD: And bubble wrap.

[LAUGHTER]

The Astro-world-- the Astro-world of lesbian safe sex. Bubble wrap! Thank you! Everybody jump on!

PRESENTER: OK. Nancy Ford.

INTERVIEWER Oh, I love Nancy.

1:

PRESENTER: Isn't she fun?

INTERVIEWER She's fun. She is a really nice person. At one point in time, she was a neighbor of mine. I got to see her walking

1: her little doggie. And she always has a smile on her face. I always appreciate a person with a smile on.

PRESENTER: Yeah, she's always-- that's some good interviews there.

INTERVIEWER Oh, you know, we--

1:

PRESENTER: Can you kind of sum it up? You talked to a lot of women, and a lot of-- in fact, I happen to know, because of technical difficulties, that quite a few interviews didn't make it in here.

INTERVIEWER At this time.

2:

INTERVIEWER At this time.

1:

PRESENTER: So overall, what's the kind of-- I know this is very unofficial. But, I mean, what's the deal with lesbian safe sex? Do women know about it? Do they practice it? Are they in denial about it? Or are they lying about it?

INTERVIEWER Well, you know, Sarah and I talked to an awful lot of people. And very many of the people that we were talking to 1: were, of course, in pairs. And if I were standing next to my lover, I would of course say, yes, monogamy is the best policy.

[LAUGHTER]

INTERVIEWER Which, as a matter of fact, she is!

2:

INTERVIEWER Ain't that right, Bubba Sue? But I really don't know that a lot of lesbians know about safe sex. We had a couple of
1: women for instance, who said, yeah, we know about it. But when we actually started asking them questions, they weren't real clear.

PRESENTER: Mm-hmm.

INTERVIEWER And, "yeah, we do! We practice safer sex!" But when it came down to it, the other partner says, yeah, right. You
1: know. I think overall most lesbians do not practice safer sex. You know, I know that Jewel has talked about this before.

PRESENTER: Yes, and some scary statistics were that, because of her position, or her job at the time, she was talking about safe sex in a bar scene. And she looked around and she had personal knowledge of three women who were HIV positive in the room.

INTERVIEWER And that's really scary because it's not being discussed, ladies.

1:

PRESENTER: Right.

INTERVIEWER You're not talking about it. You're not doing anything to protect yourself. You're going to get something.

1:

PRESENTER: Something's going to happen.

INTERVIEWER Something's going to happen.

1:

PRESENTER: And it's just not a yeast infection either.

INTERVIEWER Well, that's bad enough, girl!

1:

PRESENTER: Yeah, well-- but you can take something for it, girl!

INTERVIEWER Yes.

1:

PRESENTER: Let me tell you about being HIV positive, you don't take anything for it. It's with you.

INTERVIEWER And this is a very serious issue.

1:

PRESENTER: And-- I don't want to-- I don't mean to jump on you. But somewhere around here, because I brought it, there's an Advocate with a cover story about a Playboy bunny who is now an out lesbian, and HIV positive.

INTERVIEWER Mm. Oh, Bubba. Down, girl. "Portrait of an HIV Positive Lesbian Centerfold."

1:

PRESENTER: Mm-hmm.

INTERVIEWER This is the September '94 issue of The Advocate.

1:

PRESENTER: It's a very good article. If anybody-- I think there's one or two Advocates out now after it. But really great.

INTERVIEWER This is the September 6th issue.

1:

PRESENTER: Yeah, well--

INTERVIEWER Yeah, we'll have to look at that article.

1:

PRESENTER: Yeah. And in the meantime, we've got-- because of all of the wonderful women who participated in those interviews, I've got a great song by--

INTERVIEWER I want to--

1:

PRESENTER: What?

INTERVIEWER I want I want to say something before you go to your song.

1:

PRESENTER: Yeah.

INTERVIEWER We had a caller from Pearland, and I wanted to say, Hi, caller from Pearland. I don't know what your name is.

1: Thank you for calling in. And we do want more women on the air. And if you have any women's issues, caller in Pearland, or any other caller, please call up and just tell us what you might want on. We'll be happy to take that. I'd like to give out a phone number too. Anybody who wants to contact After Ours is more than welcome to leave a message at 522-2927 and we'll be glad to put something on the air for you.

PRESENTER: Oh, OK! [LAUGHTER] That's new!

INTERVIEWER Leave a message.

1:

PRESENTER: Leave a message for After Hours. 522-2927. That's 24 hours a day.

INTERVIEWER That's a voicemail. Don't press 2. I'll kill you.

1:

PRESENTER: OK.

[LAUGHTER]

And in the meantime, here's Horse, the name of the lead singer, and the name of the group. And for all those wonderful women who participated, it's "And She Smiled."

[MUSIC - HORSE, "AND SHE SMILED"]
