Yeah, the funny thing about it, folks, I was supposed to be here on the fourth Saturday, but I ended up here on the third Saturday. So that's why we have this wide variety show scheduled here for y'all. We have back on the show. Steve Walker, for whom last time was here talking about his organization the African American Lesbian Gay Alliance Heydo and Steve and what Steve Walker we have Ken Harris. Reportedly, these two guys have been doing an investigation on racism and sexism in the community. And apparently or from what I hear they have a story to tell us so hop on it right I'm so sorry, Steve. I can hear you but no one else can hear you. No, no. Just silence. Oh boy. Can you hear me? Yep.

05:41

I think we got it now.

L LuJack Tyler 05:43

All right. Once again, we are talking to Steve Walker and Ken Harris, the African American Lesbian Gay Alliance. And they're talking about racism and sexism in the community. Steve Walker was telling us a story.

06:00

Okay. I guess go back starting over for what I've seen. I'm not going to give too many details. But we had a pretty disturbing incident that happened to actually members of all good today, at a fundraiser that we were attending. I'm not going to give the exact details because I think it needs to be addressed through the proper means, which is discrimination free zone project that all good and the caucus, the Houston galenson Political Caucus are doing jointly. But to give a brief review or synopsis of what happened. There was a fundraising carwash at a certain location today, which wound up being cancelled because of utility problems, the water was not working at the location where we're gonna have to carwash. So several members of the group who were there to help the carwash just we were just standing outside, basically debating where we're gonna go to have lunch. The owner of the property, a female, a white female, came to us, the six to five of us who were standing outside, and her exact words where I do not want y'all hanging around my property. And, of course, we were stunned. And we looked at her like, what did she just say, and in the most rude fashion that she can possibly be, she didn't inform Ken here to pick his quote, unquote, junk off of her ground. And she told us to get off. We decided to walk away, and we just happened to bump into her again at Walgreens. And I decided that I wanted to find out exactly where she was coming from. So I approached her, and I said, Excuse me, but I just wanted to let you know that the tone that you came across to us was very racist. And it was also very offensive to, you know, the five people that you addressed, and I just wanted to know where you're coming from. And she goes, Yes, I know exactly what I said. And I just don't want y'all there. And you don't ever have to come back. So, you know, of course, I can hardly talk about it. Even at this point, it's been several hours without just being extremely, extremely, extremely upset about it. This is something that I have been talking to several people about, of all different races, that you know, of all places in this world where there should not be any racism, it should be in the gay and lesbian community. How can people who are being oppressed, oppressed people within that same sub population ignorance, and that's one of the goals of all gum is not only to address the homophobia that we face as black Americans, but also to address the racism that we face as black gays and lesbians. Two out of the three times that I have ever been called a nigger in my entire life, it has been by gay white men. Yep. Well, so it's just something that I love and call the nigger to my face was gay male. Exactly. And so

L

LuJack Tyler 08:58

o

09:05

yeah, this year called nigger three times this year, I've been count the rest of the times its popularity talking. So you know, it's just something that we as, as the African American Lesbian Gay Alliance, want to bring to the forefront because it is impossible to solve any problems without first admitting them.

o

09:11

L

LuJack Tyler 09:25

Yeah, I, that's discouraging to hear and I look forward to finding out whom this person is this mystery woman is because as Mr. Trevino found out, the odor of Americana the dynamic team of the galas and caucus of African American alliance with the umbrella of the discrimination free zone or force not to be reckoned with, and I and I am disappointed that this individual in our country God has chosen to make such a, an utter statement full of blatant discrimination.

And, and it's it's disappointing. But it happens. And I'm glad that Olga, the COC is what the district helped with the discrimination free zone, all working together to bring an end to this type of ridiculous attitude.

10:27

Exactly. Because I know myself personally, I always attempted, I always envisioned a place where everybody would be welcomed for who they were, regardless of their race, sexual orientation, whether they were gay, bisexual or transgendered. You know, the gay and lesbian community has to accept all people and we cannot discriminate from segments of our community even. And I especially want to mention the transgender people who by and large have been excluded from all levels of gay and lesbian politics and policy in Houston. It's just something that's totally ridiculous to me. So the other thing that we were talking about is the sexism, that existence community and there's no doubt that there is sexism, the community is male dominated. And we have a tendency to forget that there are women who are equal a part of the struggle is anybody who have done anything. So we need to recognize that fact. And it's just something that again, that we're going to work on. And there's actually another project that we've got going on. We'll discuss that sometime in the future.

LuJack Tyler 11:32

Earlier in the show, Steve, I don't know if you aware, we had Juden, the Reverend John Boney on our show who's running for a district D. District D is a largely African American and gay district. Considering that you're both African American and gay, do you have any, any points of view on Mr Boney or Reverend Bonilla, rather?

11:57

I've analyzed the District Council race ever since learning ever since I moved back into town because I was actually out of town for the past couple of years. And I, when I was gone, it was actually that Montrose got included into district D. You're exactly right. The district D is an extremely dynamic district, you know, 35% of the population is the Montrose area and the remaining of the Third Ward areas, South Park and Sunnyside, I believe. So it is a big district and the majority of constituents are African American, as a gay African American man. It's just, you know, you yourself know about it being a gay Afro American man yourself and it's just, you know, situation that I personally have to deal with. And I personally agree with the the caucuses endorsement of Jude Antone for the DIS district race of all the candidates, and there were several very qualified candidates in this race, but based on track record, which I think at this time is very important for the person that we're going to put in that seat. They've got to have some sort of track record that we can look back on and see what what they plan to do and the things that they voted not voted upon, but their plan of action and their plan of attack. And Judo. Boni has definitely just demonstrated to me a clear plan of action that we can all be proud of his gays and lesbians. We also had

LuJack Tyler 13:28

on our show. Mr. Dale carpenter and Tyree counts. I know that you've had a few experiences

ON OUR SHOW, MR. DALE CARPENTER AND TYREE COOKS. I KNOW THAT YOU'VE HAD A FEW EXPERIENCES with, like happiness and gay Republicans. Do you have any points of view on those guys?

13:44

A lot of people think gay Republican is an oxymoron. I certainly understand the ideals of the log cabin knights. Because, you know, it's pretty similar to what we are doing, addressing the homophobia that exists in the African American community. And I would have to say by and large, just not as bad because we do not have Jesse Helms in the African American community.

L LuJack Tyler 14:07

No, but we do have Louis Yes.

14:11

So I understand what the log cabinets are trying to do. And it's basically extremely similar to what was really trying to do and I really have lots of respect for Dale, and, you know, I congratulate him for on his presidency of the Texas law cabinets and cabinets.

L LuJack Tyler 14:27

14:29

I'm sorry. Well, that's what she was actually referred to him. But, you know, our struggles are pretty similar. And I really hope that they succeed in it, because right now they are the party in control of both houses of Congress and possibly the presidency, which I would definitely not like to see.

L LuJack Tyler 14:48

Well, at this point, considering the candidates. I don't think that I'm gonna have to deal with a Republican president unless it is Mr. General Colin Powell.

14:59

Well, I personally have to take issue I don't think I could ever support Colin Powell as president unless he came out, came out. Unless he clearly defined or redefined his stance on gays, gay and lesbian people. He's kind of waffling. I guess that's the political thing to do, of course, is waffle on issues. And he, he definitely took a strong stance against us in the past. And now he's sort of waffling on the issue. Yeah. So unless he came up with a clearly defined definition or his stance on gays, gays and lesbians I could never support Colin Powell.

L LuJack Tyler 15:38

Um, since we're on the subject of National African American leaders, Million Man March Monday, what do you think about it?

♂ 15:48

Well, I was there, I was one of the and I can, let me first clarify that they were clearly more than 1 million people out there. 2 million. It was easily more than a million and a half people out there 400,000 was with the papers. There are more than 400,000 people out there at 6am in the morning. So I don't know when they took this aerial photos. But it definitely wasn't at any time, any significant time during the day. I attended the Million Man March as an openly gay, African American, I was in a contingent of about 350, openly gay, African American men and women. We marched into the mall area, along the parade route, we had a lot of support from our fellow brothers and sisters. A lot of people honk the horn who gave us thumbs up signs, there was this one particular gentleman that I always referred to as him who made it a point to follow us around on our parade route. And he was giving us thumbs down and saying that we had no right to be there.

L LuJack Tyler 16:46

Because he didn't I mean, because He wants your numbers, and he just didn't know how to ask for them. Right? I kind of thought that at first. But I was really pleased to see a middle aged gentleman just physically grab him and shake the heck out of them. And just really gave him a ride and says, you know, how dare you, you know, try to prevent people from being here. And definitely just look at them. They're obviously black people, most of us were men. And we by birth had a right to be there. And that's one thing. One reason I went

♂ 16:50

L LuJack Tyler 17:17

I know that you mentioned to me that that a guy African American was to speak at the March did that take place.

♂ 17:27

I'm also on the board of directors at the National Black gay and lesbian Leadership Forum. And we submitted a list of five names of people that we would have liked to have spoken. We had gotten assurances from the main landmarks committee that one of those people would have spoken. None of those five people were ever contacted. And I learned that about between 630 and 7am. They slipped a gay man on he spoke. I don't know who he was to this day. But there was a gay speaker.

L

LuJack Tyler 17:54

You probably saw him in that they asked him or something. Sure, anything else you would like to add Mr. Walker? Any pressing news that we shouldn't know about being formed up?

W

18:10

No, this is really nothing pressing. I would like to throw a little plug in if I could. Certainly tomorrow. All good is sponsoring its first ever women's community forum. And it's open to all women and actually all people of the community. It's going to be from 430 to 8pm. Tomorrow. Is that right? 4:37pm. Tomorrow at nine Greenway Plaza in the Acacia group's design room. There's going to be several speakers. main topics of discussion are going to be spirituality, women's health issues, and I think something something something business and financial related.

L

LuJack Tyler 18:52
