And this is a new group in town. I'm Stan they started they actually they came to our show. They did a thing with Ron sparks one evening. And the response has been phenomenal. Okay, flashing like a Christmas while we're waiting for people to respond. pressive very Wow. Yes, look at that. It's like a tree. While we're waiting for. For some response, then we'll play this next tape. And this is one of the this is one of the people that I heard first when I first came out, I'm 37 years old. And when I first came out this woman was the only lesbian singer that I had had had heard of, and I pretty much hadn't heard of many after many around her contemporaries at that time. And then she was the one who really brought me out and the first thing I connected with was this song. And at that time when I first heard the song, I was madly passionately in love with my gym teacher here's my Christian doing Oh to gym teacher

04:40

Okay, that was oh my god, I gotta find a favor here. Oh, here we go. That was looking for Mr. Right by Bill folks. And we're gonna we're gonna do a number here by right said, Fred called those simple things. But first, I've been pointed out that I've been promising all evening to make this announcement. And we are probably the second people in town to make this announcement. So listen up, bend your ear a little closer. Kate Clinton will be here. May 17. I believe she's going to be at Rice at the rice at Rice University.

05:14

Where's that? Why? Where's that?

05:18

She and this is a big deal because K Clinton is probably one of the most popular lesbian comedy comedians, here comics here in town, and I mean in the country actually. And we're a lot of excitement Jen's generates when Kate comes to town. She's a real warm and funny woman and I raced down to get my tickets the other day, they told me they weren't even printed yet. So I'm calling every morning to make sure that I get my tickets first. And I'm looking, I'm looking, I'm looking here it is. Kate Clinton returns to Houston for an evening of hilarious lesbian feminist tonight humor, presented by Hazel Woods productions at 730 at Hammond Hall, entrance nine or 10 at Rice University, advanced tickets and Inklings book stop and you can pick them a bookshop and you can pick them up at the door. For more information call 5213369. So if you're interested in seeing a real comedian with a real talent and a beautiful, beautiful woman, go and see Kate Clinton, okay, he has gorgeous we're jealous. Okay, we're gonna go back to right said Fred and those simple things and I'm going to try to talk to me into arm to sexy

06:40

Okay, we just got a little bit of the others when we're sitting here talking about they're the people in this group coming out in meaning they were bisexual. We were impressed. We wanted to let you know that's why we're playing their music. We also wanted to let you know we have a lightning bolt in here. That to remind you of the PWA coalition spring picnic that goes on tomorrow, from four to six at the Lovat end. That's 501 Lovett Boulevard. It's sponsored by body positive the PWA coalition MC N MC CR. They ask that you bring two canned goods to this picnic. And that will be serving brisket and barbecue and all kinds of the Akuto moms that go with barbecue. So if you are not busy tomorrow, and you want a good time, go by and see Tom at the love it in and the spring picnic. Okay, everybody's in here saying now what are you going to do now? What are you gonna happen again? Today, we're gonna chat. We're gonna talk with Janice a bit about some of the things that are going on in town. We just thought we'd sit here and let you know about some of the things that we that that go on. You went to queer nation meeting the other night. What do you think, huh? Now be less than honest. Oh, it was great. It was I have to plug it oh, I'll be less than honest. That's to not be less than honest.

08:07

Actually, I appreciate you know, what they're doing. You know, my I think it has its place when I think it's important. But boy, I thought some of those women and I, I use the term woman loosely here, I thought they're gonna rip each other's wigs off.

08:21

They do fine, I don't think so. I was I've been at a couple of meetings, and they've been having some, some inner turmoil lately. So they're trying to settle that. They're trying to clean up, you know, and keep keep clean. I know there's a kind of a semi battle raging in town, over their participation in the community. And some people are uncomfortable with the use of word queer, and are uncomfortable with the group as it is because they're so vocal. So out there and willing to, you know, take an ugly stand for something, unfortunately, ugly is what gets attention. And uncomfortable is what gets paid attention to and written about. So they're out there doing the uncomfortable and the ugly so that we don't have to. So I'd like you to think about them as the the people on the front line, so to speak, doing things that most of us would not be willing to do, would not be willing to do. So. We really need to appreciate the fact that they're out there. Whether we agree with them or not. They're trying. They're being vocal, they're standing up for us. It may not represent you directly may not represent you exactly. But they're representing you in in the in the grand scheme of things. Their intention is to promote an education and to promote queer a queer nation. I don't want that to sound like some of you out there might hear that as the you know kind of like Aryan Nation the Aryan people up there who wants to take over Idaho and and kick Aussie yeah and keep keep all the people out of Idaho and they are going to run Idaho up there. Well this is not queer nation. That's not what queer nation is about. They're about making noise when things are ugly. They're about going out and taking a stand. One of the greatest things I saw them do, one of the greatest things I saw them do was the the kiss off downtown. It was great. I am so miserable. I missed that Diane was there. And I am so miserable that I missed that. It was some event it was back when Kathy was still mayor. Oh, by the way, Kathy, if you're listening, I would love to talk to you in great detail about how you were really run out of the out of the city hall. And how they couldn't wait to get rid of Elizabeth Watson man. And 10:57

10:54

and the things that have happened, Kathy, good Lord, if we had known this before, you know, we'd have voted four or five times for you to know and the police would be running the city we would be we would have voted four or five times several. To get my vote in 11:12

11:10

Did you see Nancy do this thing. Lisa? The thing on Elise decorating the city with a rose is more flowers. Nancy's Alicia and and God what's his name? Bob. Oh, yeah. At least in Bob. Bob. Bob is such a Texas named Bob. Billy Joe, Bob

11:35

Bob on air. Yep, yep.

11:37

So if you're listening, at least you can call down here. We'd be glad to talk to you. We'll talk to anybody. We will talk. We'll talk to anybody and Bob, if you're, if you're listening, go back to sleep. Elise is taking care of everything.

11:52

We need more women running things. Anyway.

11:53

I'm telling you, I'm telling you. That's why we have the KPFT down here. And that's why we have women down here. Because we want we want to be more involved. And we're going to have more women down here. Oh my god. Did we say something the fingers not going but heart attack city looks like?

12:09

Well, I said I said the H word a minute ago so Oh, the H word.

12:13

Oh my goodness. I'm sure the FCC is asleep right now they're asleep. But we'll let you know what happens when people say bad things on the radio what we have to fill out a form and in quadruple it you know exactly what word was used exactly what word was used and what the intention what they intended to say. So we're you know, be humor. For all those who did a while ago, let everybody know what kinds of police we are.

12:35

12:43

Now, we're, we're Jan and I get in the car. And we're really just we're Tara, if you see people hanging out of a out of a blue truck hanging down the street screaming at people for being you know, not using their blinkers and turning left and a right hand lane or something. That's probably Jan and I we're out there. We're out there making the world safer for you. Drivers. Let me tell you, the neat thing about riding with jewel is I don't have to curse anybody out. Jewel does it all for us. That's right.

13:03

13:08

That's right. Come here. Come back here. Don't go away. Use that blinker. So yeah, use your blinkers out there. I think that is fundamentally what's wrong with this country right now is that we start more people use blinkers. And condoms by God aids wouldn't have ever happened.

13:21

13:27

So use your blinkers. And another thing is it's getting late so everybody's starting to head home. Remember to watch where you're at. Watch the people around you. Pay attention to where you're walking, pay attention to where you're driving. And if you had too much get somebody drive you home. It's really okay. It's cool. It's alright. You know? Yeah, it's it's, it's the adult thing. It's a mature thing. It's the thing that keeps more people safe and healthy and ready to do it tomorrow night. You know, if you want to go out and party, make sure that you have somebody there who can take care of you if you're going to party too much. We go in I'm not a drinker. But occasionally I have a drink and we go in and I'm gonna have a drink. I'll tell somebody hey, you know if I'm gonna have a drink, will you? Will you make sure I get home? Yes, that's that's the way it's done. And somebody's your keys. Tell him to get you home. Friends don't let friends drive drunk. Okay.

14:16

What we want beer mugs crashing together.

14:16

14:19

That's right. Well, I love that. Remember, we care about you here. The reason we're here is because we care about the people listening. We don't know who you are. So we wait for you to let us know. And for example, I want to say hello to Randall Randall called while ago and Randall was one of those people who was mugged last night and he called a while ago and we spoke to him a few minutes. And we suggested that he called the gay and lesbian switchboard where they have the hate crimes hotline there and give them that information. So that somebody somewhere is compiling this information for future for future reference that that number So is, is it 526525299615. So if you are one of those people or you've been out there and been verbally harassed or assaulted or any of a wide range of criminal activities that could be perpetrated against you, give them a call and let them know about it. This information is compiled. It's anonymous and confidential. And numbers are handed to people. I think it's the FBI tentative eventually. And they will use that for deciding whether hate crimes will be, you know, big laws and things like that will be decided with that information. So if you were someone who's been attacked or verbally harassed on the street, give, give the hate crimes hotline, a call at 5299615. There was something else about Oh, yeah. And Cindy, Cindy called Cindy called and let us know that she was listening. And she asked for more interviews, which was surprising to me. I thought people wanted more me as she wants more interviews. So Cindy, we'll do what we can Cindy also asked about buddy. And I told Cindy what I'm going to tell you, but he has moved on. He's doing other things, other important things. And he's a very important individual in our community and spends a lot of his time doing and promoting and taking care of things or involved with gay people. So we wish Buddy, Buddy well, and we'll remind other people who, who've missed this announcement that we still are connected, buddy, you can still connect with Buddy through the mail system here. And we miss buddy and occasionally you'll hear as we're queer. We're here to stay. You know, we're what is it? What is it used to it used to? Yeah, we're here. We're queer. Get used to it. That's a problem with it. I'll take you up behind the worm.

16:57

16:59

That's right. Anyway. Anyway, just for those who are wondering why I got excited there. Buddy moved up and on. So we're what you're stuck with from this time forward. Okay. As promised, as promised music by Kelly gray. Since I fell.

17:23

Mike is not on I am not on there we are now we are teas. Now we need extra hands on production here. We we were just reminded we the royal we have just been reminded that marathon is coming up. And for those who who don't know what marathon is, that's when we beg you for money to keep playing the songs that you love to hear. So don't ignore us this time. If you did last time, and if you didn't go ahead and send that extra dollar and what was it last time we decided $1 a day for life. That would be $1 day for life. The marathon will be May 8 through May 22. And if you're interested in answering phone and taking pledges call Annie at 526 4000 from at nine to five on Monday through Friday. And Annie says thanks. So they also need to know this program was I was gonna say they needed programs they don't need that. So listen to our show. We were probably some of the best beggars during the marathon week, here at alms for the poor. Yeah, after hours, we have some of the best beggars in town come down here and ask you to to pledge your, your support and your money to us and to keep this kind of programming. Keep this kind of programming on Listen, we have a good time because we're gay people. So very tasty. Yeah, that's right. And we have about six minutes I hear from my production people here and I want to take a few minutes and thank a few people. Once again, I want to thank TW t this week in Texas for their help in gathering information. Also the new voice the new Is it the new Montrose voice or is it the new voice the new voice and Sherry Demmer know Deborah knows that I can invite pronounce that name. I just know it by Sheree and the people at the new voice. We also want to thank women space activities networking directory called the wand with our information about Caitlyn and, and gain lesbian Pride Week committee who've given us information on all kinds of things. One of those things is a couple of those things are I think, pretty important. So we'll we'll do that right now. There's a play coming in called The Baltimore waltz. It examines the changes in life of a brother and sister when he's diagnosed with AIDS. A special preview is April 4, and it opens April 8 and runs Tuesday through Friday 8pm Saturday four and nine and Sundays 230 and 730. tickets are 10 to $33. And this is going to be at the alley. And for my understanding, this is one of the one of the better plays that's going to be playing at the alley this year. A couple of things I want to point out is you can, you can get more. Let's see, where's it at here it is deaf and hearing impaired groups. For those people who are friends of deaf and hearing impaired people, there are support groups and HIV groups, and you can pass this on information on to them. And they can connect with the Montrose Counseling Center. They have a group that meets seven to 830 on Tuesday nights, and you can connect with them at 5290037. Don't miss the other gay program on on KPFT. We're here we're up real late just specially for you. And we want to hear from you. So you can write us at 419 Love it. Houston, Texas at 77006. And I'm sure there's a dash here. But I don't have it on me right now. I want to just quickly say a few names of some things going on. Don't let's not forget P flags, friends and people, friends and family of lesbians and gays. Let's not forget the let's see women of color support group. Let's see there's some other things. Oh, there's a Texas lesbian conference. I'm reading some of this right out of the gay and lesbian Pride Week community calendar. So if you are looking for information, you can pick one of these up at various locations. And it is just full of stuff all the way into June. And actually, yeah, into last part of June pass gay pride and give you some information about Gay Pride Week. If we can do anything to make this program better, we want to so let us know can communicate with us. This is a program where kind of like Nancy say says in her interview that we're kind of improv is improvisational, and whatever you bring up or suggest we're willing to look at and to work with. Let's stay tuned for the BBC coming up at three o'clock. Then catch Eric with his show carbon dating game. Oh goodness, I had to cancel the carbon dating game for sure. Otherwise, have a pleasant evening. Be safe, be careful. And watch out for your friends. Thanks Q patrol. Thanks for the people in the office here batty bomb and Jan and Jim and and Karen Carol Otay and Steve and Tom all here tonight having a good time with this. We appreciate you being here and we're we're out of here. We're not going to be back we're out of here
