SPEAKERS

Chris Harrison

---

00:00

You Okay, that was the San Francisco Gay Men's Chorus, singing dancing queen. Once again, this is after hours Queer radio with attitude. And if you're listening for the big faggy voice of Jimmy Carper, he is in Hawaii. So he is.

Chris Harrison 01:15

He's sitting in 71 degree weather while we're sitting here freezing off for you know what? It's time now if I swing over here to the other side of the world. For Dean Becker and the cultural baggage report, Dean, are you there?

01:30

I am here Who am I speaking with?

Chris Harrison 01:32

This is Chris Harrison. Hey, Chris, 01:33

how are you tonight?

Chris Harrison 01:34

Oh, fine. How are you doing?

01:35

Oh, I got my volume up over here. Okay. All right. All right. Yes. Well, I don't know there's been a big week down in Canada. I'll just start off with that. The fact is they have had, I think now five rulings in a row very positive for marijuana, medical marijuana in particular. And, as recently as yesterday, a judge handed down a ruling, but I'm gonna back up a couple of weeks. The my guest on last night's show was Mark vor. St. Morris, who's a grower in Canada who just got acquitted of trafficking charges. This was back on the 13th of December, I guess it was, and he basically, the court acquitted them because they were providing legitimate medical marijuana. And there are rules that, you know, indicate people should have it. And the judge saw no reason that people should have to go to the black market to acquire their stock. And these guys were doing it openly, you know, very public and the judges let them loose. About 10 days ago, a 16 year old boy was acquitted for possession, just recreational possession, because the judge felt that the laws had not been what was the word he said they had been adjusted, but not actually posted before Congress and you know, made into a new law, as had been requested by the the Supreme Court. Gosh. Third one was another medical marijuana situation where the judge led off a gentleman who was a legitimate patient who was driving down the road, when the policeman pulled him over, the man had a joint in his mouth was hitting it as he talked with the cop. The cop therefore arrested him for being under the influence. And yet they could show no basis for the charge because he did not seem incapacitated. And it was more just a jihad by the cop. And the judge, let him go. And just yesterday, a court ruled that the excuse me the Canadian marijuana laws were unconstitutional. And let another man go. So it's not been decided by the Supreme Court yet. But the judges just don't seem to want anything to do with it anymore. Well, it hasn't Canada usually been more liberal when it comes to just general drug laws that it's almost certainly they will be opening injection rooms next year in Vancouver. When I say next year, this year now, in the spring, they will actually, you know, open some nice, so clean, sanitary shoot up galleries, if you will, okay, for addicts out there.

Chris Harrison 04:01

04:06

04:25

I mean, I've heard stories of where it's not exactly, elite, it's not legal to do it. But at some of your open air festivals and all that, as long as it's it's under control, and out in the open like that, they usually don't bust you if they are in possession of minor amounts.

04:43

Right. Well, this is true, and it also depends on what city you're in. And then they they determined that, you know, if you're on Ontario, you're more likely to be arrested than if you're in Vancouver. Yeah. And it's in you know, it's not proper treatment under the law. And that was part of the problem. They had as well. Plus, uh, you know, they had they have this fairly enormous situation with biker gangs, Vietnamese gangs that grow the marijuana. And you know that stuff's worth up to $8,000 a pound in New York now. And, you know, it's it's created a violent undercurrent, which of course any prohibition does, you look back at Al Capone and the roaring 20s, you know, it's just going to happen. And it's not the fault of the substance, it's the fault of the prohibition last $8,000 a pound a pound. And traditionally, I wasn't marijuana, consider one of the more less expensive of, well, here, again, you take a situation where they have spent literally over a trillion dollars on this drug war, in an effort to ramp it up and make it less available. You know, that, I guess their ultimate goal is to make it where a user just can't find any because, you know, they've arrested all the traffickers. But like with Pablo Escobar, in Colombia, where they killed him and everybody when he, we got him. And by God, next week, there was 10, Pablo Escobar wannabes, and there was enough money that they all made it. And so all we do with this effort is like the whack a mole, you know, we're never going to win this game. It may feel like fun, but it's never going to succeed. When

 Chris Harrison 05:31

 Chris Harrison 06:29

especially nowadays, when you start seeing the philosophy of trying to tie in drugs with terrorism, was certainly one of the people who did that is a gentleman named Bob Barr, Georgia's outgoing Georgia Congressman, and he's been one of the top three or four in the FIST of the drug war, if you if you will, that, that just hammers down on on the world that, you know, they want their morals enforced. They want this world to fit with their ideas and you know, mores. And here's something he wrote in The Washington Times newspaper, I think two days ago, I'm just gonna read part of it. He's speaking of a situation where the police in I think it's Fairfax, Virginia, are just going into bars, any bar looking for drunk people, or people they consider to be drunk and arresting them for public drunkenness, even though they weren't called by the bartenders. There was no public complaint. They're out looking for drinks. Oh, yeah, I heard about that, where they're actually they can't arrest them in the bar. No, they do. They go in and drag these people out of the bar. They have people in Swat outfits going in and doing this now. Okay. Okay. Now, here's what Bob Barr says. He says, they're going down on people who are arresting people who have not yet committed a crime, but who based on premonition evidence that they're going to commit a crime, and they swoop in and arrest these pre criminals, before they can carry out their dastardly deeds. Now, I have to agree with Bob Barr, for once in my life, certainly, this is the same precog you know, logic that runs the drug war. It's like that Tom Cruise movie, where they Minority Report, where they knew murders were going to happen, and they went and found him in advance. Well, that's what the drug war is, is that these people are going to take drugs, and by God, they're going to hurt society. So we got to get them in advance. And that's the same thing they're doing there. But I'm gonna read a little more from Bob Barr, quote, all this fits right in with the eye in the sky perspective of retired Admiral John Poindexter and the cherish total information awareness system he's building at the Pentagon. So you collect all the information on as many people as you can, in advance, decide who might be bad, and act on it. So what if you invade the privacy of virtually every law abiding citizen in the country, you might be able to possibly identify a potential law breaker. The good retired admiral would really like those guys at their Fairfax precinct. They're his kind of guys, and it's in quote. Now. That's words of a reformer. He the Bob Barr is really a former reformer, he just can't open his eyes wide enough to see the light.

 06:38

 Chris Harrison 07:31

07:35

09:12

I mean, that's, that's scary. The fact of wanting to go into that fact of, once again of we think they're going to commit a crime. So let's, let's avoid the middleman and wait till someone gets injured. Let's let's put them away now.

09:26

Well, there's what there's what we've done with some of these terrorists, I would think these unlawful detainees and elite combatants? Yeah, you know, we don't get to hear any evidence. They don't get a lawyer. It's just our side. We believe they are dangerous. And, you know, I'm sure some of those guys are, but I bet a lot of them are not as

Chris Harrison 09:47

and unfortunately, the same intelligence community that didn't see September 11 didn't see the attacks on US bases in the Middle East occurring, and they leave We're still in office. And these are the same and the same people are now going to going to be able to, they couldn't see something big like that being planned or something coming down. But they can definitely tell when little Johnny down the street has a Bi-Net gram or a premonition or Yeah, yeah. And the scary part is now they are bringing in John Poindexter and and many of these recast RIA retreads from the the Reagan and the first Bush years, men who wound up being accused of war crimes, some who were actually, you know, sent to prison for war crimes against the United States. And they're now back in charge of the information of every person in America and basically, the world. And you know, these guys love power, and they love the money and the perks. I'm sure they'll just get over it and just put g Gordon Liddy back in, going, Hey, 10:57

10:14

I wouldn't I wouldn't write him off. He's probably on their list again, you know, they keep trying to recycle those judges that you know, are civil rights electorate, lots best friends, you know, put them in as federal judges. I don't know if there was one more story if I may. Sure. In South Texas, let me see if I can find the name of the town. Dang it. Okay. The the San Antonio parody of San Antonio Express during home invasions in Edinburg last weekend. Six people were gunned down apparently in a drug motivated attack. And you know, they've been having several attacks of this nature down there. There was one in a nearby city of Donna back in September, and six barmaids were ambushed outside a home where they live and kill. Now, you know, this is a quote from the from the paper your what should particularly concern authorities is is that at least in one of the latest, the Edinburg killers reportedly posed as police officers. And I wrote them back a quick letter I haven't heard if they're going to publish it. I want to read it for You. The black market, it rules from Bogota to Mata Morris from Washington, DC to San Francisco. And there's precious little that law enforcement can do to end this 88 year old drug war. Def once again shocks the Rio Grande Valley with the execution of six more people and another drug motivated attack. Marijuana is a weed so is coca, and other than for its beautiful blooms, so too are the opium poppies. It is a prohibition laws and their result in an enormous profit that bring drug violence to our communities. Drug traffickers are more than willing to break every one of the 10 commandments in order to maintain their share this multibillion dollar black market that they use extortion, murder, bribery of public officials, and other illegal tactics should no longer come as any shock criminals and police apparel should be no surprise the wolf would wear sheep's clothing in order to maintain their highly lucrative schemes with controlled distribution of cannabis, coca leaves and opium to adults, we could immediately in this drug war, bankrupt the cartels save billions of tax dollars, cut down on overdose deaths, free up our prisons for those who do break the 10 commandments and reconcile the distrust between the community and law enforcement. Now you know I I talked to drug warriors you know, politicians and police and whatever. I tried to get them to come on my shows or talk to me on the news and they have no ammunition they have no way to defend their tactics other than to hide and and I would ask that your your audience think about helping to end this drug war. It's one we could get over this year. If if we got everybody together we could be done in a week. If we could just focus and effort on it because these guys are standing helpless. They have no no ammunition left.

 Chris Harrison 13:58

Okay. Well, Dean, we thank you for calling. And your shows your times that you're on KPFT you want to give yourself a little promo plug here. Sure.

14:07

I give you a quick rundown on it here. I do the 420s on work shows Monday through Friday, somewhere around 420 Joe's Roadhouse also does my shows on Saturdays. And I'm lucky enough that Jimmy and his fine crew down there, Gris and you guys are run it for me on my Sunday exposure here. And then every other Friday, which next show will be the 24th we have a one hour show at midnight to 1am Saturday called cultural baggage the unvarnished truth. And we just had more Boris from Canada and we'll have Buford Terrell, South Texas law college professor on the 24th. Okay,

c Chris Harrison 14:49

well, once again, thank you for calling in Dean Becker. Dean is the host of cultural baggage and the 420 report here on KPFT. And the only straight man to have a irregularly running episode here on after hours. damn proud.

15:04

Thank you guys.

c Chris Harrison 15:05

Thanks for calling in talk to you next week. All right. All right, I'm not sure if Francisco is in the house yet or not. We're gonna get a little bit of music. And hopefully we'll be starting back up with the Latino segment. This is from the Broadway cast of Hedwig and the Angry Inch and it's kind of a song we were talking about earlier about times and all that and I guess the songs titles kind of what our hope is for this show it's midnight radio

15:22

c Chris Harrison 16:01

and that was so as I can find on here Jade Esteban Estrada with Bay Marina, which I probably butchered the pronunciation of that took a year of high of Spanish in high school and did about as well as that as in English. Which wasn't that well. You are listening to after hours Queer radio with attitude here on KPFT and Houston. Que EOS College Station. You can't hear me.

16:30

Can you hear us?

Chris Harrison 16:31

I can hear you. Wow, you guys are the lucky ones. You don't get to hear me.

16:36

We see lips moving.

Chris Harrison 16:39

All the buttons here show it show. Wow. Okay, I think it might be. Maybe the volume is down. Oh, there

16:44

we go. There was sound

Chris Harrison 16:49

pantomime radio did not work out too. Well. This is KPFT and Houston K US college station. And the worldwide web at KPFT dot O R G. It is time for the Latino segment with Francisco. And we're going to turn it on over to him and our guest today is Frank. Hi, how are you? Hunter is out sick. Roy's out sick and Bobby was around here earlier and I'm not sure where he's at.

17:06

17:16

I think he's hiding in the back room. We've got to back room there. You can look around on the internet a little bit. He's probably playing around in there. Have you been not bad this is kind of strange sitting in here on the on the special in this chair position on the show. Jimmy is in Hawaii getting laid by the native boys and 71 degree weather while we're getting laid by the same old boys in 30 degree weather

17:40

Chris Harrison 17:45

CHRIS HARRISON 17:45

is horrible out there tonight. And this is a group of gay men we can discuss whether in Houston that's that's completely allowed. Usually on television though. But this is the Latino segment. So we'll and we got a good show. We're going to be talking there's some interesting get planted out did right at the top films for 2002 that were favorites of the gay lesbian community, we had a couple of shows in there that were had Hispanic theme. The first one was actually was do my mouth again. And we're gonna talk about that and some of the other some of the other films we're gonna be talking about. We got some good music coming up. And then we're gonna be talking about a study that was done by the Pew Charitable Trusts last year that was released last month had some interesting perspectives on it was probably the most comprehensive study about Hispanic views and opinions and attitudes in the past 10 years. So we got some interesting information to share. We have a full pack show now we do.

17:58

Chris Harrison 18:36

18:40

And for those who checkout planet out on a regular basis, or freezer, if you don't, they waited the top tomes top 10 films of last year from their, I guess audience on planet out and I came up with 10 movies. The first one being eaten by mafia man, which was actually a movie in Spanish, which is interesting. And I didn't get to see it and I don't and Franklin see it and I hadn't seen it. Unfortunately I did want to see it and it's out on video now. And I mean it just looks like a very intriguing movie. I because I've been hearing about that for about a year and a half first it said some shockwaves through through Mexico when it was released there and some of that actually gets released and then the government had it edited, edited some and then re released it and it finally made its way over here so I don't know what version that that we're seeing but and I meant to look at it but and I had it on DVD but I lost that in the divorce last week so I didn't get to see it so but for a lot of good stuff about it. So if you if go check it out it wherever it is you get your movies and it's on DVD that's on video, so, but it's got some steamy sex scenes. Apparently, there's only a couple that are male to male sex scenes, but little hot Latin boys going out together, yeah, cars, all kinds of stuff.

Chris Harrison 19:06

19:15

c

Chris Harrison 20:03

That's what I've heard from a lot of people is they don't see it as a from what they've heard of it. They didn't hear it as if it wasn't in the gay community. They didn't hear it as a gay film, right. But there was kind of a major gay subplot in it. Yeah, that was kind of like to, to friends. And what was that movie that Britney Spears was telling her friends were going in her crossroads? Was that it? When they were like, get a car door? Yeah, it was the kind of like the Mexican version exhibits? Two boys, two boys doing that. And I think they're both lusting after one girl or something. And I don't know, they both have at it. And then they have each other. I don't know exactly how it goes. But there's more. There's more plots in that. But that's

o

c

Chris Harrison 20:39

it. We're oversimplifying it, but

o

20:44

something about it. It's gonna be more something. Something about a moral or something. But yeah, there's sex and stuff.

o

20:49

So

o

20:50

and little Latin boys. So that's

o

20:53

what you see. That's how you get the teaser in there. You just that's how you get the get people to go to the gay theater. There's nudity contains. Okay, you have hot. We have hot Latino, male on male sex scenes and then sales go up. We're in the lines already. And I never wouldn't go see Frankie here because I don't it was it a movie that was about the two Hispanic boxers and I think one was gay.

o

21:19

Hispanic boxers it was I

21:21

don't remember it was a play that was showing here but it was a movie was Oscar De La Jolla. No. But did you see like the match that he was in with? Three months ago the championship match he was in with another boxer. I forget his name, but that was like soft foreign.

c Chris Harrison 21:37

was confusing with the boxer which is a porn film with there was one on Thai kickboxers and Thai volleyball. I don't remember a Mexican boxer story coming out there and we need to have a Lobo porn clerk consultant on the show that can just answer these questions for us.

21:53

21:59

I used to work for low Did you? Yeah. Wow.

22:02

They close like the one in New York. Did they run basketball bookstore? Yeah. The oldest gay lesbian bookstore has been shut down and but now, but now. Houston Lobo is now expanding to a full Deli. Wow. I only know this because I ate there two or three times we get like five bucks to get sandwiches and chips and a coke. So hey, and you get a view.

22:22

This is not as bad as crossroads. Yeah.

22:24

It was five bucks for a coke. They're five bucks for a sandwich. And they're five bucks for chips. And you wonder why they went out of business. But we're here to shortly.

22:32

22:34

We're having to work. The buddy we're working it are you? Oh, that's where you work it. But no Lobo is like yeah, I'm expanding to full Delhi. They're not expanding the actual size of the store or the size of the cafe. So I don't know I frequent Lobo if they

c Chris Harrison 22:50

get rid of their nail neighbors next door. Yeah, Chinese restaurant got in there today, actually. Well, they're pretty good. Then I want to extorted copy my latte. So, but I've always wanted to put a martini bar upstairs from Lobo a martini bar.

22:56

c Chris Harrison 23:09

Or maybe you had to be like, How dare you get rid of the $5 Porn just to serve a $7. Martini? Exactly.

23:17

Upstairs department.

c Chris Harrison 23:19

Yeah, that's the sad thing. I looked at my collection started trying to clean everything up and looking at my collection and going okay, even if these are just bargain basement $5 A tape. I have spent way too much.

23:33

But you know, how often is the human anatomy changed. So it's something from set from 75 and 95. Instead, a mail, whatever looks the same.

c Chris Harrison 23:42

I actually use it as I write it off as a foreign language courses. Because that's how I'm studying German.

♂ 23:49

Wrapping paper, wrapping paper works well. Yeah, that'll work. All you got to do is like cover the hair from the 70s It looks like the exact same body you would see.

♂ 23:52

c Chris Harrison 23:58

You have to remove the White Sox with big yellow stripes on them too.

♂ 24:02

Yeah, well wait for about three years we'll come back and some Abercrombie Fitch catalog and the big ♂ 24:07

Yeah, the big one that comes down and curls up what do you call those the handlebar mustache? But yeah, you can still see those that reported mining company sign of time

♂ 24:11

c Chris Harrison 24:18

Jamie's gonna be upset that he missed the porn discussion here on ♂ 24:22

we're always gonna get five minutes and about no ability now our support team is what expect exactly. So that was the one bottom yet. Frankie was wondering I'm not going to be prepared for this. What do you do is like Frankie, we start with an agenda and we end up somewhere else. It means absolutely nothing. This is always there's always disappointed we always covered and later we're going to talk about the Pew Charitable Trust study about Hispanic views, attitudes and we never so it's the last five minutes we talk if you want a quick rundown of what we played the background music that sort of thing that we're very freeform here basically. Really we're, we're not like the Queer voices is a great show and all that, but they're very segmented to come in. You've got 10 minutes, you've got 15 minutes, right? We give a whole hour. And sometimes we stay on target. Sometimes we're like Amtrak, we're way off the tracks.

♂ 24:27

REDACTED WORDS IS WHAT EXACTLY SO

24:30

Chris Harrison 24:51

25:17

You have been on the FBI Jack show, and it's like, as a guest, and I'm like, wow, this is structure. It's like you're you really mean we have five minutes. And you really wanted to talk about this. Okay. We can do that. The second movie, which more recently released far from heaven, has Julianne Moore in it and Dennis Quaid and directed by Todd Haynes. And if you haven't seen that, it is a great movie. It's like set in the 50s or 60s and it's like this ideal marriage and work type of thing. Exactly.

25:51

25:52

What was that movie with? Like, it wasn't black and white. And then they started showing me Pleasantville, Pleasantville it remind me exactly of that. And it's, you know, they're dressed the same. They've got you know, the maid that comes in and does all this stuff. And everything's picture perfect. Except the husband is gay. As it turns out, isn't it funny that she finds out by all of a sudden up shows the boyfriend? Or is that the other one the film's? That's probably I know, there's a couple of different ones that they've, they've they're coming out with similar themes like that here recently. Of all of a sudden, oops, I found out my husband. Oops.

Chris Harrison 26:10

26:31

Oops, I did it again.

c Chris Harrison 26:33

It's like, okay, I settled for the other woman. Why does it have to be the other man?

26:38

Exactly. No, this one this one she walks into him as she's delivering a dinner to him at his office because he's working lay. Yeah, so

c Chris Harrison 26:46

it's a lovely I'm cheating on here and getting Oh, are you online? Yes, I'm cheating so that I can get the information of what's on planet. Oh, okay. Like an e tu mama tambien. The bulk of the sex scenes in this film are the boy girl variety. But the hot male leads and they're climactic if breeze tryst were enough to make it one of the most homoerotic movies of the year. Oh, it had a lot to say about the current socio political climate of Mexico to again like our discussion. Oh, yeah. By the way, I had a theme and a topic. But let's get back to the sex and Mexican boys. romping in the backseat of the car from Heaven was great performances from Julianne Moore as a 50s housewife teeth. And Dennis Quaid as her closeted husband provide a substance to Director Todd Haynes style is picture perfect Ode to Douglas circs melodramas. And that was an interesting sort of bunch of subplots going on. Of course, the husband's gay, she's dealing with that. And there's a picture perfect house, and instead of the 50s, and she falls in love with a black man with a black man. Yeah. And so in the 50s, it was in the 50s, and a segregated little town and Northeast and everything was proper or whatever. So you weren't supposed to do that or whatever. But so we have the wife who's in love with the black man and the husband who's a closeted gay so we have the wife who's in love with the black man and the husband who's a closeted gay.

27:14

c Chris Harrison 27:22

27:37

27:56

That's okay. He

28:00

was a white man. Oh, okay. But it was one of those interesting, it's really a good movie. You should see it. It's, uh, I don't know if it's still showing an Angelica or not, that's really short. Where are we showing here but it's pretty good. The third film that showed was notorious show the market show or ch o VHS Yeah. Okay.

28:21

Obviously, I didn't see that big pan on the Notorious BIG you know, ah, see said the blind mice.

28:31

So how was that I didn't see that you said you saw antastic and that again, embedded gave me had on DVD but I lost again under divorce. So I actually saw it live first here last year when she came through. It was was very hilarious. The closest I've ever been in my adult life to peed in my pants. Without Yeah,

28:37

Chris Harrison 28:49

that's not a visual. I'll be honest, I've never been from I've never really cared for Margaret show. Until Jimmy gave me the soundtrack to the notorious show. And she is a lot different when you get to hear all the little expletives in it that you don't hear on Comedy Central. Then she is a funny comedian. But when you when you have to remove every other word, the way I have to I just never caught the flow of it but she is that thing is a very funny and hopefully one of these days I'll be able to edit out enough that we can play a few seconds of it on the show.

29:22

We played a little bit of market show after a show in December but it wasn't exactly from that show but we were able to play something that was a little there was arrow airway friendly. The fourth getting market the notorious ch O is on DVD and video so you can go check that out Kissing Jessica Stein I have not seen and actually didn't even hear of but do we need the bio on that or the? Yeah. Finally a bisexual romantic comedy to women

Chris Harrison 29:46

Enthralled with the straight dating scene decide to try their luck at finding love their own way irustrated with the straight during scene decide to try their luck at lesbian love their Alaska Lord But Tova Belcher nearly steals the show in a tender turn as Jessica is an unexpectedly sympathetic mom cool well there it is. Okay far from heaven we were talking about their number the number two yeah is still playing at the Greenway landmark theater with Showtime of showtimes there five 729 40 during the week to go check it out. They're still at Landmark Greenway. I knew I had the information somewhere there and I hadn't been there forever actually. But ever since Bella duck I go there evidently cream. I used to be fun to go to those landmark River Oaks but I just didn't get there.

30:35

Chris Harrison 30:44

I mean, those are the three big movie houses to go that we're gonna have the indie films.

30:50

There. My fifth movie is Frida. We're so mkhaya please free to college as an excellent movie out. Thank you, sir. Yeah. And I'm a huge like Frida Kahlo fan. I swear I probably went every other day or every third day when the exhibit was here years. And so I kept going and kept seeing that and I got a little free to prints at home and I'm just appreciated Hall of Fame and it was very accurate in terms of the portrayal of her life, which was a good movie and the summer hike was great. You want to see she was great, actually. Yeah. Which was pretty, pretty different for Salma Hayek.

31:15

31:20

Yeah, she wasn't like I expect to see Will Smith pop up with his like, revolver in the middle of like, some of those little showdown that are expecting her to bust into a salsa dance.

31:27

Chris Harrison 31:31

There is supposedly a delicious tango with Ashley Judd. Yeah, it was pretty good. It's pretty good.

31:36

31:39

Even I found that slightly rotting Wow.

31:41

Didn't I

31:44

mean so high I can actually just get you know even if you're a gay man. We're

Chris Harrison 31:47

gonna have to switch you over now to the bicep.

31:51

I'll be with GG GG Yeah,

31:54

my condolences.

31:57

But no summer high. planted out subscription. Salma Hayek spent some 10 years bringing her pet project to the screen, and her dedication paid off kudos to high EQ for not skirting. Talos bisexuality, acknowledged here in college affair with an American socialite and a delicious tango with Ashley Judd. We are gonna take a little break and give a little breather here. They're gonna talk about the next five movies but while we take a little break, we'll bring you the next five movies in a second. We've got a funny reprise from Shirley Kulik here about the Titanic speaking of films that thrill our community. Take a listen and we'll be right back in about three minutes. How you doing?

Chris Harrison 32:44

Okay, we are back.

32:46

Rewind Francisco. Yeah, that was your like you like well,

Chris Harrison 32:49

it was confusing me on this side is I pulled the one down to cue again. I remember how it got you and Roy several months ago. Yeah. So I was hearing you speak and I'm going wait a minute. I didn't hit the green buttons yet what the world's going on.

33:03

So Stephens helping in the background.

Chris Harrison 33:06

Well, he was he was downloading pictures of half naked firemen in here. Trying to show

33:11

sharing where they learned to you know, where the Latino like this is our Dino

Chris Harrison 33:21

at Latin last. We were just checking out his hos this is after hours and the Latino segment and we're going over the planet out top 10 movie list and we can take a break let Steven rename some of the holidays this month if you would like to. Okay. Because you got MLK day on Monday. That's a is that a an American holiday? It'd be a Norwegian holiday. Or see an Aryan Nation holiday. Those of you who were last month Stephen was a rearranging some of last ethnic butchering

33:35

33:57

34:06

and he kept going and going and going yeah, I wouldn't shut

 Chris Harrison 34:13
the damage done to his face.

 34:16
What happened to you? Yeah.

 34:19
I flipped out of the back of a pickup years accident.

 34:22
He's got a huge pickup truck.

 34:24
I'm sure he does.

 34:27
Brothers. know if he had fallen out of his 34:30

I love will not be here. He fought he had it in park where he had it drive and I stood up to get out of the back and think yeah, my knees. Tailgate I flipped over the back and my face landed face first into the gravel. No ear to the shoulder. Wow.

 Chris Harrison 34:51
Little your younger brother. Yes, younger brother. You trusted him. You stood

 34:56 in the back of your brother. You full

c

Chris Harrison 35:00

deserve what you got?

o

35:03

Younger brother who's trying very hard not to make it to his next birthday.

o

35:08

But it's healing nicely. It hurts. Oh, it

c

Chris Harrison 35:12

hurts to look at you. Very bruised. Yeah, yeah.

o

35:16

My shoulder hurts. My wrist hurts and my breast is quite looks

o

35:21

pretty painful folks.

c

Chris Harrison 35:22

I haven't. So in other words, okay, your breast church and your arm hurts. So there's no way in the world you're getting any action with anyone else where yourself now? And especially with that big contusion.

o

35:35

I haven't looked like that. Notice I broke up with my axe.

c

Chris Harrison 35:40

Yeah, for you. That was painful for him. It's foreplay.

o

35:44

Well, well. On a good note, there are some people that find like car accidents, like sexually stimulating. I don't know. What is the word for that?

 Chris Harrison 35:55

The movie was called CRASH CRASH CRASH. Yeah. Basically, they get off from getting in accidents. Yeah.

 36:01

It's I have to pay the deductible. And that'll bring anybody down.

 Chris Harrison 36:05

For 250 bucks, I can find a safer way to enjoy it. I just got back from having a car accident. Back from spending jetter. That's how I blew my rebate check from from George.

 36:25

Thanks, George. Now the fireman we saw is an EMS. And he actually enjoys when he has to do CPR to someone. Wow. Yeah. When he gets a call out. He does. Volunteer EMS. They're in Santa Fe, and Rural Metro and a couple other places. But Santa Fe, Texas. Yeah, down by Galison boys in Santa Fe in a world where I live so 36:49

 36:45

I can say that. But yeah, he actually wishes he it's CPR call. A bit sick. Is he cute? Yes. He's very cute.

 36:59

I have to say stallion, when does he work? Alright, well, he thinks I'm kidding. I'm sitting here like waiting for an answer.

 37:08

I'll punch you in the stomach really hard. The wind knocks out of you.

c

Chris Harrison 37:13

All you need to do is a paperclip and, and a light socket, and you've got a good reason to get pumped and blown and EMS people do well. Anyway, listen to KPFT it's after hours. And we're about to go through the next five movies and the top 10 movie selections. Those were I think, planted out from planet out. Those are the only two that had any sort of Hispanic tend to be we're gonna go through the next five and we haven't seen any of these. So give us a call if you have it 7135 to six KPFT, which is 713-526-5738 and we'll see if we can get you on. The sixth movie was called the hours as good as the novel on which it was based. The hours does a stellar job of depicting the inner turmoil of three women over three generations connected by Miss Galloway. And a sorrow that dare not speak its name.

o

37:23

o

38:04

A sorrow that dare not speak its name.

o

38:10

Well, sevens movie with the rules of attraction. As you can tell were lower down on the list. Oh, by Stephen. Voters were attracted to James Van Darr beaks. James Vanderbeek jazz. Yeah. Same sex moods and Ian seems Vanderbeek.

c

Chris Harrison 38:27

Yeah, Dawson. Yes.

o

38:29

We liked us all from Dawson's Creek. We liked Austin.

c

Chris Harrison 38:33

out time I wait for him and pasty to get on our watch and Dawson's Creek for that.

o

38:38

It was Ian Somerhalder.

c

Chris Harrison 38:42

Oh, I don't know. But he doesn't and he's only dance. And

o

38:46

he's only dance routine

o

38:48

and his Breton Easton Ellis adaptation. The film itself reports to tell us that college students are out of control sex fiends? Well, I missed my bachelor's degree. They call it a bachelor's degree for a reason.

o

39:02

I miss my days living in the dorms. Good times. Don't

c

Chris Harrison 39:06

look at me. I went to school in Waco. Whoa. And I'm not talking about Baylor wacky Waco. Yeah, there's a porn star living in one of our local university dorms actually. Is there?

o

39:13

o

39:18

I don't remember him.

o

39:20

Still living there? Well,

o

39:22

a new a new porn star guy. It's not like he's not like he's still living there. That to me later. I will. Eight women, eight beautiful French actresses, fabulous sets gorgeous costumes, campy song and dance numbers. Imagine why it's a gay popular film. A murder accusations and lesbian intrigue galore. What's not to love? The Adventures of Felix from France comes this warm, romantic movie about an HIV positive young man in search of his father and the colorful characters he encounters along the way. And number 10 Talk to her. It's not it's not overtly gay. But it's a Petro Imelda it's, but it is a pet Euro Malabar, and it does feature to men who share an intense or an intimate bond. It also features a director at the top of this form hot on the heels of all about my mother, which I didn't see either.

39:24

c Chris Harrison 40:11

And you can if you want to catch a talk to her, it's at the River Oaks landmark theater. I guess it is in Spanish because it also says on my sheet here, it's talking to her OB la con Aya. Oh, okay. So apparently they see it's fully subtitled. Oh, wow. And that is an R rated and it's the River Oaks theatre.

40:32

And I didn't realize that it was interesting. We had two films that were either in Spanish or had Spanish subtitles, Benjamin Pacifica that brings us up to three out of the 10. So

c Chris Harrison 40:40

I mean, then you have a French, a French film there and the adventures of Felix, another French theme in eight women that just kind of shows that the United States is kind of lacking in gay themed films. I mean, especially if you want to go to any film of coming of age for teenage boys, you have to usually watch British. Occasionally you'll throw an American one the apps was the absolute true story of fish something or other. They do show the lesbian, a lesbian, teenage coming of age film, but you don't see a gay male. In those. I mean, you see how the foreign influences are? Except that James Vanderpump Rules are trash. Okay.

41:26

It's Spanish films, actually the ones that deal with sexual male sex a little bit more directly, which is interesting as you would think stereotypes. Tell us otherwise. Oh, you're

c Chris Harrison 41:36

seeing you can see the picture on there. That's what stopped me when I first turned to the webpage. Oh,

41:39

is that the boy Latino? Boy?

c Chris Harrison 41:42

I don't know. That's the girl.

41:44

Let's look at this. It's Latino boy. Sure.

c Chris Harrison 41:48

I don't know what film that's from. But because it doesn't? I'm not sure it would. By the way, if you're wondering what I'm actually looking at the Internet connection of Planet out.com. Go to entertainment. And they've got the films and there's a picture of this person scantily clad. Although wearing a necklace, he is wearing a necklace. And he's a little Latino boy on a diving board, it seems with his tongue hanging out of his mouth. And yeah, this is

42:14

c Chris Harrison 42:29

exciting for us. Cool. Yeah. So we're gonna go to about 20 minutes of music as far as finding out.com crash, because so many people are hitting on it right now. Yeah. But those are the top 10 films and open better minds while we're on film is is there a boy's life three boys life, Roy's wanting to have the collection of some commodities. You know, those? I

42:34

c Chris Harrison 42:53

don't recall if there is I don't think there's a boy's life three.

42:56

And what was the film that got was in Gosford Park. What was it had the murder scene and kind of in reading the adventures of Felix maybe if I Ryan Philippi was in it. Gosford Park Park was sort of reminds me what the adventures of Felix was about. So I don't know why Gosford Park actually wasn't on here. Maybe it was the year before that was released. And I'm getting my timeframe confused but that was also a good movie. And so if you haven't checked these films out I actually haven't seen about half of these so I'll be doing that but definitely check out the one month again, which is here is an excellent film I saw far from heaven and that was great. Frank sanatoria ch O and that was that was funny. I only saw parts of that. Free two was excellent if you haven't seen that. So check those out. Somebody's are still showing a little theaters. If not you can rent them. Yes, there is.

 C Chris Harrison 43:47

There is a movie Boy's Life three five short films. gay life reading through here. One of them is dismiss spirits Deus in the spouse, which I totally butchered. That's French for majorettes in space. Hitch inside out just one time. And $30 times better than 250. Well, that

 44:15

 C Chris Harrison 44:19

story of a gay kid who faces a dilemma when his dad takes him to a whorehouse for his birthday.

 44:27
Memories.

 C Chris Harrison 44:29

And yes, when you say to 250 on that other instance, he was recently on MTV though. Wow. If you watched a MTV did a special on not escorts and they featured there was a female fetish. In Georgia, an escort in Chicago and a gay male escort in Santa Tonio and so, and I mean, they showed getting ready for it meeting the date and a little of the forepart before cutting off the cameras. And 45:12

so how did the date feel about this?

 C Chris Harrison 45:16

I hate must have approved because I mean. they filmed him in aina out to the restaurant first and then going back to the the hotel room and said included a date and whatever happened,

45:23

Chris Harrison 45:27

whatever. However, the interesting thing with the gay male the Escort is that Brian was arrested for prostitution and was on probation. And they actually showed the sting operation that busted him on that and he received an evening curfew that he at night he could not be home. But during the day he could go to school and work.

46:01

So this was so do you think evening would have to be in calls?

Chris Harrison 46:05

Basically, I guess it would have to be the way that they said I don't think his parents knew at the dwell after the rest is family did No, but I'm getting way off topic now.

46:17

What was Brian Hispanic? No. Okay, well, well,

Chris Harrison 46:21

you know, unfortunately, Brian Young is not Hispanic. Although he worked in San Antonio, it's we're trying to make it connect here. But we'd have to we're gonna come back in a second and we're going to talk about the Pew Charitable Trust that did an amazing study on Hispanic attitudes and opinions and behaviors. So it's pretty comprehensive study we'll come back with some good information to share with those in the last 15 minutes right I'm gonna take a little break before we do that and listen to Paulina Rubio and Enrique Iglesias and we'll be right back all right

46:26

Chris Harrison 47:04

yeah, pretty much and we are back at after hours. Queer radio with attitude

47:11

that was my feature ex husband

Chris Harrison 47:13

with escape as the I don't think we told you the first one there we played surely Q liquors Titanic and then we this last set was Paulina Rubio with don't say goodbye and Enrique Iglesias with escape. And as we say this is after hours. And this is the Latino segment with Francisco and Frank. Yay, yay. And we're wide awake. Very woodwick. Surprisingly, so Well, let's see,

47:34

Chris Harrison 47:40

because the coffee wasn't made by Roy. Usually Roy's coffee, you drink it, and then we use it to pave the road.

47:50

But hopefully he's feeling better. And hopefully he's listening to us at home.

Chris Harrison 47:53

No, because we've been trashing him.

47:56

He's probably sound asleep. Watch.

Chris Harrison 47:58

Don't worry. There's nothing that we would say about Roy on the air that we wouldn't say to his face, or that wasn't true. Well, there's so much it's so true.

48:08

But we love Roy anyway. We

c

Chris Harrison 48:10

have no choice i That's one of the notes I think I got from Jimmy. He said I had to be nice to somebody else. It wasn't Roy, he's out of luck.

48:21

We're gonna talk about the Pew The Pew Charitable Trusts along with the Kaiser Family Foundation did an amazing study last year it was the 2002 National Hispanic survey I think is what it was called. Where they did probably with most comprehensive study of the Hispanic community in quite some time, they found some interesting things, a lot of stuff. We've just sort of talked about on here as being stereotyped or just observation some that turned out to be true and some that didn't. But I think that I think one of those things where Latinos generally take a positive view of life, the United States, many still expressed concern about the moral values of Latino children are acquiring here as well, some things that came out in terms of discrimination I didn't need I some assimilation in and their attitudes about English. Frankly, you want to add something? Yeah, the survey said that. They pulled about 2929 Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Cubans, Colombians, Dominicans, and others from South and Central America. So looks like it was a pretty comprehensive study. That's a lot. That is another that many year. Yeah, they're here. They're everywhere, actually. But it had some interesting analysis. And some of the observations I think the director of public opinion and Media Research at the Kaiser Foundation had this to say, I keep it in Miami is in a Salvadorian immigrant in Washington DC and a third generation of Mexicans in Los Angeles may all have roots in Spanish speaking countries. But their diversity in views and experiences in the United States suggests that people should be wary of generalizing too much about Latinos, when I think it was a lot to speak about, I really it is difficult to just assume that all Hispanics have the same attitudes and beliefs about things. It really is a market that requires closer study,

o

49:15

o

49:28

c

Chris Harrison 50:15

we kind of talked about that earlier with the even with the gay community of how we had a caller who was saying that he felt that we were talking to pro Democrat instead of being across the board that we were kind of Republican bashing. And I mean, in every segment, you're not going to find a broad stereotype of these people are more conservatives are more liberal, these these aspects, they're so the downside with a stereotype is you may work for a small population. But unfortunately, they start to become a generalized assumption. And it doesn't really give you the full flavor of a community or a segment of the community even.

50:51

Yeah, and along that sort of segues into some of the issues that were brought up in discrimination in the poll, or in the survey, Latinos identified discrimination within the Latino community as a problem. Eight and 10 or 83%. Report that Hispanics discriminating against other Latinos is a problem, including that almost half 47% who say it's a major problem. So just sort of ghosts are different. People have different perceptions about things in some movie discrimination, some, some may be viewed as discrimination, which may or may not be the case, but that that's perceived as a problem. When asked about personal experiences, one in 330 1% of Latinos, report that they or someone close to them has suffered discrimination in the past five years, because of their racial or ethnic background. When asked to explain why they believe that they were treated unfairly, they're most likely to say that it was due to the language they speak. 35% said it was due to language 25 due to physical appearance, and others feel it's a combination of language they speak and their first and the physical appearance, which was 20%.

51:58

Which is interesting. Another thing they said that only 40% of those surveyed believed that Latinos from different countries were working together to achieve the same common goals, which is common political goals, which is kind of interesting, because it's it's also ties into things that they found about not being able to not necessarily being able to categorize Latinos all together, and you got Houston where you got a growing, you've always had a large Mexican American population. But if you look engulfed in you've got a lot of Central Americans and South Americans that are sort of congregating in that part of town. In terms of identity, more than half of Latinos 54% Say the country or their country of origin, is the first or only choice for identifying themselves compared to 1/4 Latinos 24% who say that Latino, Hispanic is their first choice. And 1/5 21% Say that American is their preference. So that's a 50% Say video, for example, 54% would say they prefer to be called Mexican American 24% would prefer to call either Latino or Hispanic which is more general term 21% would prefer to be called Americans those born in the United States have immigrant parents are about equally likely to identify themselves by their parents country of origin 38% are likely to feel that way is in 35%, or more likely to view themselves or turn themselves as American over half which is 57% of Latinos. With us born parents are more likely to identify first as American so I think it's kind of an interesting analysis of the longer your family has been here the more you sort of identify yourself as as an American as an American How do you view it Francisco

52:12

53:40

53:47

I remember really I guess a little term Latino and Hispanic or just general for like, speaking purposes but in turn myself probably Mexican American, right? My dad is actually from Mexico my mother's from here she's like third generation so but I always viewed myself as like first generation because it was my father was from Mexico so my mother's side of the family is here longer but still be myself as first generation just because my father was an immigrant I just don't see much and just growing up I didn't see that they were treated any differently because one was here longer than the other you know didn't make things any easier. Still Brown and

Chris Harrison 54:34

I'm learning that it's not like I'm a you know, it's not like because my mother was here longer I'm lighter shade of brown and less likely because there's something so strange

54:36

Chris Harrison 54:42

like with my brother's fiancee, their family is Hispanic. I'm not sure what if it's completely Mexican or not, but it's like, how do you what's the politically correct term to use? That's acceptable because Be honest, it's it's almost sounds coming from this this angle of voice of saying Mexican, it almost almost sounds like there's a spit at the end of like Mexican Pillai. And yet, it's difficult to try and wrap around a word like that for for some people of Mexican or Mexican American, that there's such a somewhat of a negative connotation put on in the, the general world, or the general American Anglo world regarding that, that kind of a title or 55:33

and that the nationality just like anything else I'm using from French or

Chris Harrison 55:36

I'm Polish American, I'm Polish on one side, the other side is kind of a mutt from the countries that invaded us. But I'm proud of my heritage is as Hispanics are of theirs and African Americans are of their many are their African culture. And it's the diversity that makes you a part of what you are. Yeah, most of my friends and I are pretty much second generation, if not third generation, Americans, Latinos, and pretty much view ourselves as that as a single ethnic group, but more as a part of the culture. Wars, you know, just Latino culture.

55:59

56:16

And it brings because our culture brings us with certain perspectives to our culture, but it's sort of Yeah, you know, you know, yeah, I don't sort of just cast myself aside as like, you know, for Mexican America, that's all I am. It's a sort of, it's an interesting blend to be in. Definitely, yeah, my parents were very much into the stimulation into the, you know, because when I started school, it was either ESL, or, you know, regular classes. So we weren't, we weren't allowed to speak Spanish when I was young. And so, you know, growing up with that, I didn't really have too much of a how do you say, like, cultural upbringing, and it was more of a learned experience? Like, as I grew up, you know, yeah, as I grew up, and as I learned, and as I had Hispanic friends or Latino friends, or whatever, we're going to classify ourselves today, sort of in, in ESL, they tried to put me in ESL and my mother when like, my mother went ballistic, of course, and I mean, three years later, I was like an English English Honors Program. And I mean, that's my forte in terms of writing and communications and it sort of just sort of interesting. A lot of those perceptions are out there that just because you're Hispanic, I think they needed to put you need to sell.

56:31

57:04

Chris Harrison 57:26

Well, my brothers, both my brothers, their girlfriends are Hispanic origin. And I think my brothers probably knew more Spanish than they do. I'm probably pretty close to where they know of Spanish and basically that my Spanish is limited to one Christmas Carol and and I can work doesn't count Vinnie feel I still lost. Oh, come all ye faithful. That's better. Good thing I can remember from Spanish class.

58:05

More than I remember. That's more than I remember. Spanish and I can say hola donde style manual.

Chris Harrison 58:12

I always joke with people. So the only Spanish you need to know is tacos, tequila and Bonilla soup.

58:16

Not my Cervesa

Chris Harrison 58:21

libre. When I've gone down to Mexico, and it's one of those things of I know enough to get me in trouble. And my brothers know a little bit more. And so like when we go down to Mexico, my brother's like, he'll speak English. And remember the one time he was really trying to find a Mexican soccer jersey. And he was insisting on speaking English to this guy. And wherever we left I go, you know, I could have gotten through was saying in Spanish. I know enough of the words that I'll get it pretty close that he'll understand. I said, Why didn't you and guess what he understood what I wanted. It's like, you cross the border. It's you can't use that mentality of I'm speaking English. This is where I am. You're in Mexico. And assimilation sort of interesting because you and I think I've mentioned the story before but you know, I some people use the term Oreo, I use the term high spanic in terms of in our culture, but and I use the story before But while some people are gonna be my view me that way, I certainly don't feel that way about myself. And a friend of mine, Deanna Knight, and I bring this story because the story of a lot because it's sort of it sort of highlights is it was it was a kind of weekend we were we just finished seeing a play at the alley or at the gallery at a little madeleines having French brewed coffee, right. And we're having this discussion about Hispanic politics all of a sudden we realized you know, we're not his we're not Hispanic and then he clicks to it. We just came from a play at the alley where easily spend 45 bucks a ticket, where the gallery Allah madeleines The French make French gourmet, gourmet coffee. And it just like the irony of that entire situation just sort of hit us at that point. But because, you know, it's like, the perception of that just didn't seem like well, I guess, if you will look at the outside that Yeah, maybe. But that was interesting, but our whole but a whole discussion at that point was we're talking about Hispanic politics and empowerment and, and these differences in our community and what we needed to do to move forward. And then and then we got defensive about but you know, about, we got another term about Hispanic and we started getting defensive about that, it's like, we're not an RV, and then realize, you know, probably this meant. So, but as we wrap up on a simulation, we'll just wrap up a couple of things. But if you want more information, go to to the site of Pew Charitable Trusts, which is go to Pew hispanic.org, you go to pew.org, p w.org. But if you want specifically more information on the Hispanic program in this in this research, go to Pew hispanic.org. Two interesting things on assimilation, three and 10 Hispanics 29% believe that you can be more successful in American the American workplace if you're willing to work long hours at the expense of your personal life, compared to nearly half of whites. That think that however, less than a fifth of Latinos who predominantly speak Spanish 17% voiced that view, compared to 45%, who were predominantly speak English, similar gaps exist exist between foreign and native born. And another interesting thing that was brought up and I don't know, I can't find it in this document right now. But the majority of Hispanics found are thinking like the English is the language of success in this country, which sort of tries, strikes an interesting blow to the people that are in this English, English only movement that are afraid that you know, they're going to have pockets of our community in this country, they're gonna want to speak only Spanish when I think the majority of our community believes that we won't be successful in this country, you have to know English, yes. something of interest us, a larger minority majority of Hispanics 72% than whites were just 59% feel that sex between two adults of the same sex is unacceptable. Again, the difference are considerably more pronounced between Spanish and English dominant Latinos, 81% versus 60%, respectively. And that foreign versus native born 77% versus 64%. Relatively say it's unacceptable. So that's sort of another on another simulation issue. Those Latinos that speak English more than Spanish think, same sex. Homosexuality is more acceptable than those Latinos that don't speak English. So I think that sort of, is an interesting note, too.

59:07

 Chris Harrison 1:02:41

That's part of what I was hoping you were gonna clarify. Yeah, we I was reading that. And I was, yeah, it's yeah, some of this is confusing. You have to read it to actually get it. But the more you're in this country, or the more English you speak, the more likely you are to think same sex, relationships are all rights are acceptable. The same thing goes whether you're born in Mexico or born here.

 1:02:44

Apparently, I haven't been to the same containers I have.

 1:03:10

Exactly. More Latinos 89% than white 67% agree that relatives are more important than friends. However, on this issue, foreign born 92% and native born 82% are more likely to agree with each other than in with non Hispanic counterparts. So there it is. And there's tons more this like very comprehensive study. So take a look that it's very interesting. You go to Pew hispanic.org. And there's been numerous articles and that is GWP who like and like what you sit on in church. Exactly.

 Chris Harrison 1:03:40

 1:03:46

And also the Kaiser Family Foundation and I keep I keep referring to Pew but I don't know who funded it more but I pretty much always wanted to work with pew dies, but the Kaiser Family Foundation was also instrumental in funding that study. So it's which teaches a lot. So it clarifies a lot of things that a lot of stereotypes and a lot of assumptions that people like me that there are other than the professional marketing and hispanic community have been telling people sort of vindicates us on a lot of levels and also teaches us a few things so we are coming up to the end of the show and in the background and we'll bring her up in a little bit is speaking of assimilation.

1:04:29

Going from Jennifer Lopez to JLo

Chris Harrison 1:04:31

yeah to Jennifer Aflac. Come on. Everyone should know it's supposed to be Matt Aflac. Not Jennifer.

1:04:41

I like to simulate

Chris Harrison 1:04:45

Jenny from the block. Yeah, yeah, we've heard about the block she's from supposedly, she's been around it enough. This has been after hours Queer radio with attitude and we've had Francisco and Frank in here this evening for the Latino segment. Thanks for coming in.

1:05:04

Thanks for having us.

Next week is the country Dyke Show followed by the African American. I don't know if they've come up with the name yet. But Steven Jerome will be here for the second half. Jimmy will still be in Hawaii. So if the weather is still nasty, we'll give another pitch out to him. If you want to send us news information, love mail, hate mail, dirty pictures. I can't do the falsetto like Jimmy does. You can email us after hours. kpft@hotmail.com coming up at the top of the hour is Zydeco. Pasquale, Mary and her group are out there ready to go. And we will see y'all next week.
