

[THEME MUSIC PLAYING]

After hours. After hours.

RADIO DJ: Ooh, OK. Songs of my life, part one, Polo. Thank you, Polo. I really, really like that. I like that kind of thing. Listen, that made a nice segment on a music show. Now, I've got to promise, gay and lesbian music only, the rest of this show. We may be-- we may do some talking and stuff. I still haven't talked about Hawaii. I want to do that a little later on. But right now I'm going to play my favorite Melissa Etheridge song.

Why don't you give us a call at 5265738, with your favorite who song. What, Melissa? How about Sister Double Happiness? How about Pansy Division, Elton John, Romanovsky and Phillips, Jimmy Somerville, K.D. Lang, or your favorite gay and lesbian music. 5265738, we'll play it. And we'll play it tonight, how's that?

[MUSIC PLAYING]

OK, we did have a request. It was for "You've Got a Friend" by James Taylor. And the last time I asked or found out or inquired, James Taylor was kind of straight. We were looking for something else and came up with a real pretty ballad by Jimmy Somerville-- yes, he can do that too-- called "For a Friend."

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Thank you Jimmy Somerville. That was "For a Friend." We are taking your requests for gay and lesbian music, at 5265738. And it seems to be ballad night here at After Hours, a continuing tradition, on KPFT Houston. Oh, yeah. One of my favorite Romanovsky and Phillips songs, it's on their last album. And they've got four of them. It was-- I want to say hello to Andy. Thank you for calling this in. It's "Love is All It Takes," coming up. After that will be everybody's favorite K.D. Lang.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Oh, yeah. Carbon dating game, but you're not going to hear it with Eric tonight because he's out sick. He's had one of those strange things in his body, a strange little kind of round sharp edged things that go through-- kidney stones, yeah. So he's recuperating. And we've got Jim Vaughan, from Esoteric Adventures. He will be doing the carbon dating game tonight. So it'll be a little bit different. But you might-- I might even hang around for that.

[LAUGHS]

RADIO GUEST: Go, girl.

RADIO DJ: With me in the studio, with me in the house tonight, yes, is Evelyn. And Evelyn is going to tell us about a sock hop.

RADIO GUEST: Oh, thank you, gentlemen.

RADIO DJ: I'll pay for this later. Evelyn doesn't like to talk on the air.

RADIO GUEST: No, I don't.

RADIO DJ: But there's a fundraiser going on out here.

RADIO GUEST: The AIDS Mastery Workshop, the Pride Committee and the Gay And Lesbian Switchboard are sponsoring a sock hop for February 11, at the Multi-service Center, at 1475 West Gray, 6:00 to 10:00 pm.

RADIO DJ: What night is that?

RADIO GUEST: It's on a Friday night.

RADIO DJ: Friday night, OK. 6 to 10, oops. OK. So you won't get to listen to Esoteric Adventures then. Well, you'll get the last part of it.

RADIO GUEST: Yes, you'll be out and trying to listen to Esoteric Adventures. I know I will.

RADIO DJ: I see, OK, that sounds like fun.

RADIO GUEST: Oh, it ought to be a lot of fun. We're going to have entertainers. Misty Valdez is coming up from Galveston. And she is excellent.

RADIO DJ: Oh, this is not just-- I mean, this is a big deal. This is not just--

RADIO GUEST: This is a big deal, yeah. We're going to have quite a few activities. We're going to be serving dinner. And we'll have a show. And there'll be dancing. And '50s, '60s attire is requested, but not required.

RADIO DJ: Let's see, do I have anything for--

RADIO GUEST: Get your beehive out, girl.

RADIO DJ: Oh, yeah. Oh, yeah. You know, before Brian Bradley cut his hair, he had enough to make his own beehive.

RADIO GUEST: Oh really, did he?

RADIO DJ: Yeah, ooh, OK. That should be fun. And speaking of that, Rusty, from the AIDS Mastery Workshop called and has requested some Freddie Mercury. Gosh, there's so many favorites of Freddie Mercury. But we're kind of in that mood tonight, so "You're My Best Friend."

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Oh, yeah. Freddie Mercury, Queen, with "You're My Best Friend," as requested. And you can call 5265738 with your request of gay and lesbian music, or transgenderal or bisexual. We're playing it tonight, just call us and request it. And I'm really getting a kick out of this because I didn't realize so many people out there were interested, or even knew of gay and lesbian music Sonia, to Sonia from Wendy, coming up, K.D. Lang. And like I said, everybody's favorite K.D. Lang, "Wash Me Clean."

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Oh, yeah. That was the Washington Sisters with "Just Ain't Right." Gosh, I wish they'd put out some more music. Before that, Elton John, from his newest, Duets. That was a duet with Bonnie Raitt. She's got to be, she's got to be, at least, bisexual, please. And they did "Love Letters." That was really, really nice, nice, nice. We're going to get a little bit more on the punk side maybe. I got some new music I want to get in before the end of the show. God is my co-pilot.

And it's the kind of stuff you're going to have to work into. And so I'm going to work into it with Diane Williams' favorite, if she's listening. This is for you Diane, another host on After Hours, a continuing tradition, KPFT Houston, 90.1 FM. It's by Sister Double Happiness. Yeah, this is this is truck driving. This is truck party, pick-up truck party music, where you have the flat, the bed open, and you sit on the back with the beer, and you kind of shake your head. Yeah, this is "Lightning Struck" by the great Gary Floyd.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Yeah, Gary Floyd, with Sister Double Happiness, doing "Lightning Struck." Boy, that's a good old bluesy, foot stomping, beer drinking kind of song. I really like it. More requests, we're still taking them too. I've got new music. But we can do that next week, if we got requests coming in. That number is 5265738. Got some Erasure requested. And it's from their Abba-esque. That that's really good, you know. You know, it's kind of last the test of time. This is to Paul, with love, from Edward. And it's "Lay All Your Love On Me."
