Chris Harrison, Roy McCarthy

00:00

I can say about football. They actually have to put their hands on the quarterbacks nuts. I mean if that's not gay I don't know. I'm sorry.

Chris Harrison 00:10

I just watched the game. Yeah, the quarterback is taught you take the middle finger, you run it right down the crack until you stop at the end of the day know, when they go in, you know, the middle finger goes goes down the same goes for the shower actually is a little more forward, because a good quarterback is going to try and protect his Center's ability to reproduce. So he actually put it in slide his fingers up so it cups in front of it. So when he snaps that ball back real fast, he doesn't end up making another nice. Oh my goodness. Gee, yeah. And they have the tight ends and the wide receivers and I've watched a lot of fat go back and no. See, I used to play it and they have all those tight fitting form fitting but when you're when you're my size in Texas, you're required. Okay, so yeah, he was talking about football. I want to be the one that was the only strip of football news. He stuck in there. The rest is about his so called his sexual assault on that female. Yeah. Which apparently looks like it took a day off maybe? Well, yeah. Like, that's what he was talking about. Hopefully that this is gonna work its way through the system.

Roy McCarthy 00:47

Chris Harrison 01:02

01:10

C

Chris Harrison 01:24

R

Roy McCarthy 01:32

Go ahead. No, no. All right. Well, Chad has been trying for him. We have one last letter there. Chad has a and this is special for me because Chad has a thing for my my gosh Vader impression I love these chances. But maybe you could star in quote, return or the COC. He will. Walk EY See that's what it is. Yeah. Return to the Chi Chi. He wants the COC. I Ewok I love you. Jay. This is cool.

that was the wonderful sounds of Josh Groban. Now I have no idea of his sexual orientation. But he is one beautiful man. And I saw I just happened to turn on channel eight. And there was a concert going on orchestra and he was on with some of the women in fact he did Vincent. The song we did last year is live while you were gone. Seeing what Vincent was doing beautiful, just absolutely beautiful.

11:02

Chris Harrison 11:08

Yeah, he he was one of the performers at the opening of the Super Bowl. You know, he wasn't the one flashing himself. He did the the tribute to the astronauts. You Raise Me Up. And before that by request. That was Chad who requested pop you in the pooper.

11:32

Ah, yes. So, Jeff Stryker.

11:37

Say hi.

Chris Harrison 11:38

Get closer to the microphone.

11:40

And speaking of chat, I want to say hi, this is David. In case all of y'all are forgotten me. I've just been working like really hard here of late so I haven't been here for a change. Which have you been working?

11:53

Oh, no, we just discussed

Chris Harrison 11:59

my employment is two weeks not too late. I mean, it's been two months not two years. Yeah. Yeah, for some reason he said hi to him. But yeah, okay, so pop you in the pooper and play the song taking it up the pooper will dedicate Poppy on the Booper to Josh Groban. Little cross promotional production.

12:00

Beautiful Man with a wonderful voice.

12:24

And one hell of a singer.

12:27

Yeah. You know, I get so involved in queer music that I don't know what's going on in the real world actually, well, the other parts of the world, the real world. And 90% Robert, who isn't here tonight. gave me two CDs of Josh Groban and just beautiful music. Wonderful.

R 12:50

Gaming. Yes. Okay, I know you have cable did you get to see earlier this week, and American teenager won the men's gymnastics.

13:03

I heard about it, but I didn't see it. This guy on the radio was on CNN. He wasn't just flaming. It was like, the men's all of our all around.

R 13:05

C 13:13

13:16

We won from the Chinese guy. Yeah. Oh, okay. All right. Judges got 86.

C 13:22

Yeah, that's Paul homme, who's 21. And there's a little bit of controversy about his performance. Apparently, three of the judges on the I think one of the rotations. The way gymnastics works is you start with a score, and then you lose points from that to determine your your final score your your final tally? Well, the Chinese gymnast did a routine that should have been scored at starting at a 9.93. And instead was the judges said it was a 9.91 is where their starting point was. And then you know, you lose points as you go along. Well, since that was down by 210s to hundreds of appoint and Paul Hamm one by 1300s of appoint. They went back and they had complained about the fact that they scored that they started at the wrong point for his tally. And they're not taking the medal from from Paul. But the fact is that they are giving an additional one to know they've because the judge's decision is final, but they've suspended the judges pending an inquiry. Ooh, because that was a it was a simple mistake. But you know what, I believe that they do that on the the level of difficulty of the team. Yeah. And

Roy McCarthy 14:41

C

Chris Harrison 14:49

and that just broke out today. Yeah, but I mean, Paul Hamid say he's a twin. His brother also is a gymnast.

R

Roy McCarthy 14:57

And I noticed Oh, do Men swimming. That seemed like they partake in the traditional speedos for now. They're using these long leggings. Yeah, the body suit.

C

Chris Harrison 15:10

Yeah. I think Ian Thorpe kind of popularized that the last Olympics, not Aaron Piersol.

♂

15:15

Yeah, I've

C

Chris Harrison 15:16

seen there's a couple of boys. I know. He was really low.

R

Roy McCarthy 15:18

♂

15:22

Divers, too. They had like these tiny little things.

R Roy McCarthy 15:25

I know. They're so nice.

C Chris Harrison 15:30

They're so small. You expect them to come off when they come in the water?

♂ 15:33

Yeah, you hope.

C Chris Harrison 15:35

But now the, you know, there's the nine out of Olympians we've got in in there. And I love the story that there was almost a 10th one who got disqualified. 10th limau. Gay for pay Olympian. There was for pay. What are you talking? There was? I pulled down the article and put it up on LSA. There was a person on the Hungarian Romanian. Yeah. Men's wrestling team who was going to go to the Olympics, but was suspended by his home organization. Because he starred in a couple of gay porno. Yeah. Oh, sorry, was Hungarian who was the Hungarian wrestler. And so he started and these other ones and it's like, you know, it's common knowledge that these guys do this, but they suspended him for his porn background. So, you know, he used a completely different name for this stuff. But it's it was interesting seeing that we almost had a gay for pay Olympian Newsflash, yes.

♂ 16:42

This is not good news. Okay. Brandon Welch, just called just now call with an announcement for us that the guy that has been here several times, many times actually at the show, David, also known as Deseret has passed away this morning. No, yes. I don't I that's all the information I have. I don't know what from or anything else. Okay. But I haven't seen there's a ray in several weeks. So. I don't know.

C Chris Harrison 17:25

Not sure where that came from. We'll, we'll check into that. And hopefully we have some more details for listeners here next week. You bet. So terrible news.

♂ 17:34

c

Chris Harrison 17:35

That I feel like we need to play music. Oh,

o

17:38

I know. Let's play a memorial. Yeah. Well,

c

Chris Harrison 17:41

it's a fun thing with live radio. We've got the fun thing. It's one of the one thing with with live radio, you never know where tour turn is gonna take us. That's right. So why don't we vent some anger here? We've got a little email here, a little email

o

here about the E. What e

c

Chris Harrison 17:56

harmony.harmony.com. You've probably seen the commercials on television

o

17:59

about they're matching you up and all of that guy and all of these lifelong

c

Chris Harrison 18:03

commitments, and somebody just got forwarded along here to Jimmy. Like most of you, I'm single. So I tried to eharmony.com to find a mate slash life partner, I started to fill out their questionnaire and found out they only do opposite sex relationship finding. So I emailed them asking why they don't have a man seeking man or woman seeking woman. Here's the original email he sent to them. And the response. The question was, how about having a man looking for a man or woman looking for a woman? I'm a gay male looking for a life partner. Question. Okay. Thank you for contacting eharmony.com eHarmony provides an internet relationship service with a patented matching system designed to match highly compatible men and women who are seeking a long term relationship eHarmony is patented matching system is premised on over 35 years of clinical practice and empirical society with opposite sex couples. About the similarities and differences between men and women and what leads to successful opposite sex relationship. eHarmony has not developed the same long term research on the most success full same sex unions. For that reason eHarmony does not provide online matching services to persons seeking only same sex matches. It does not however, prevent anyone from accessing their website filling out the relationship questionnaire receiving the free personality profile and using the opposite sex service as we currently provide it. Searly eHarmony customer care guide the bull is that I mean if you're if you're looking for if it's a man looking for a man or a woman looking for a woman, how in the hell is that going to help you?

19:36

c Chris Harrison 19:49

I at all I mean, it's kind of give you I guess what they're just saying is, you know, the personalities the same it's just the plumbing is different. But I heard about This this topic before because, you know, when you get a lot of these dating things, you know, you know, if you go on if you go online and you go there's I mean, there's match.com Lava life. I mean, there's all sorts of these everyone's the first question out of the box that you put in here, even before you put in age, you know, the basic questions is I am a blank seeking a blank. And if it's a if it's a smaller thing, you know, you see there is a male seeking a female, and sometimes it's a male or female couple, they'll they'll extend it that way. You know, that's the first question they ask, who are you? And what are you looking for? Yes. And then the next question is usually, well, what's your zip code thing and find someone who lives near you? Yeah. Right. And yeah, but this place here, and at the beginning with the service came out, you know, I, from what I've heard a lot of gay, gay men and lesbians did the survey, and they don't find out, then find out that it was an opposite sex only until the very end, after they put in 45 minutes answering questions. And my thing

21:00

c Chris Harrison 21:05

to the table is, you know, if the first question isn't, I am a male looking for a male, or I'm a female looking for a female. And no bells should go off. First, and I've done this when I get those things in the mail, you know, for the currents and for single resident at the address. And, you know, I'll look at the stuff and I'll go, you know, if there's not a thing asking me, for me to be able to find a mail, because you know, if it asks what your check what your sex or your gender is, but doesn't ask you the gender of the person you're looking for. I write a note on there and return it in their envelopes that they include, send it back to me, excuse me, quit sending me stuff. Because you know, this doesn't apply to me. Especially when I get the ones from the Christian dating service. Oh, you get this stuff from the I forget the name of it, but it has all these hearts. You get out of it matchmaker I think yeah, ridiculous. Yeah, that's, that's unfortunately kind of a thing we got out of it. So I hope people think this you know, that was how many of you people have used the internet to find that special someone? I have, you know, we can't see hands in the on the radio. But if you shake something else, we'll get your you'll get faster attention. One can you message me, I gotta grab up snap. Oh. So okay, so, so most people here serving. So basically, we've got three people in here who have used the internet to find somebody, actually, I have found several people online. And the thing that really irks me with like, match.com The thing that really irks me was like match.com planning out, and some of the gating dating services that are actually out there with like, men, for men and women and for women are that none of these sites are free. And like if you go to law to the straight, orientated, match, matchmaking websites that those that is a free service for them. And we actually have to pay for

R Roy McCarthy 21:51

C

Chris Harrison 21:57

Chris Harrison 23:16

it. Yeah, cuz I know, a gay dot, I've got one on gay.com. And they want like, $20 a month. Yeah, you can do mind limiting, you can do limited work, you can do limited things, you know, plan it out, it's like that as well. You can only do a certain amount of things, you can't reply to certain profiles, and you can't send certain things to certain people. And you certainly can't email them because they, they, they, they hide the emails, and that's what irks me more with anything with a lot of the lot of the online matching systems is like for for same sex couples that are looking for other same sex couples, you have to pay for that service, even Yahoo. Now, you know, the only thing you can do now is you send what they call an icebreaker. Right? And it's like, so it's basically. Yeah, it's like, you know, and you don't want you can't get any information out of that way. And just, there's no response you can do. Right. And yeah, I agree with that, you know, but you go to some of the street orientated road websites, because I've done this and to see whether you can actually email some of these couple of emails, some of these people that you're actually interested in, right, it's free for them, you can totally, totally send a message to someone if they're actually interested. But if you're a gay male looking for another gay male, you just don't have that kind of correspondence with other people. And I'm just curious as to why that is.

23:26

C

Chris Harrison 23:48

 Chris Harrison 24:26

I think it also depends on what level it is you're looking at with the stuff because I've I'm on one site that I have to put up an ad. You have to pay. Right. Okay, but to respond to an ad you don't really so, you know, in fact, you know, when I the first time I met a year ago, that was that was out that was seeing, you know, I responded to his personal ad. And the fortunately the way they work it as soon as you respond to them. You actually get back their email address. So you can correspond elsewhere out there, you know, just just the opening porthole. Alright for that, but when it comes to you know, if you wanted to post it Yeah, it cost me 20 bucks a year to put up my ad.

25:15

Well, that's certainly cheaper than some of the other websites out there. I mean, Yahoo, especially as like, it's like 35 a month and then planning out. It's like, what 20?

25:25

Well, they're I have no idea mind is free. And I'm I find for which one plan out rented out gay.com It's all free. I noticed. Like the thing. A lot of like these, the street matching services, they're all really small things k.com planted out those are both fairly large. Corporations almost. I mean, they have a billboard right now on Montrose. And they aren't so much just a measly little dating service. They actually they're a new site. They're they're like a business in itself. I mean, yeah.

Chris Harrison 25:56

A lot of news and information that comes off of that. Exactly. I mean, well, yeah, who's a big company? Like I said, if I was with my, I see, I think I've had more fun probably with the Yahoo, especially when that one person responded to my personal ad. You know, like, late as July, if you were looking at someone online and you see a personal ad, don't stop it. Just seeing the picture and going, ooh, I want that. Read the ad.

26:26

Live on Yahoo. Yahoo. I swear, it's like the free congregation. Sometimes I'm on Yahoo Messenger. And I mean, more weird people at one than I do on like, everything else on the internet, when other people on your message don't even know who they are. Well, what happened with me with my Yahoo is put up this ad, somebody saw my zato saw the picture, and it's just a, you know, a simple bus shot and face and looked at me and he saw there, you know, they got the face the face. And, boy, so he had this the set mind this, either bear or free will come. And you know, he started talking and asked me a very personal question. So I respond. I gave him the easiest way to the answer that he wants. I said, Look here, and he didn't read the fact that, you know, the title of my ad was Houston Chubb needs chasing, and didn't read that like the third word. And my personal said, Super job. He didn't realize that, you know, I'm a fat fag. So he were instant messaging. And he starts off and he's chat and start to realize, and he saw this picture, and then it came back. He was so disgusted with the picture. And it was the most beautifully eloquent ly worded put down I have ever heard. I was almost touched.

Chris Harrison 26:26

CHRIS HARRISON 20.50

27:56

Well, let's hear it.

Chris Harrison 27:56

I don't know whether I was I was I became venomous. Oh, yes. I was like, You were livid. I rip this boy, a new one. Good for you. And, you know, by the end of it, not only was he apologizing, he had offered to take me out to dinner. Yeah. And I wouldn't give in, you know, yeah. The comment he made, I said, I mean, don't you have some puppies to go stomp on? Take the wings off of birds. I mean, you know, you could send that to you know, I told him, I was like, I, I rip it when he offered to take me out to dinner. I said, Do you think you can afford to take me out to dinner, and he goes, I don't really think eat that much. And I just, I mean, I just ripped this poor guy. A new one. And, you know, I copied and pasted it forwarded on to some of my, my big friends. And they were like, yes. I put it on my girl. And people were like, like, God, I missed some people couldn't believe this. I wouldn't let up on this guy. And it's like, you know, you go into personalized, you see a little picture and if that's all you're gonna base it off of, you know, how do you even know that picture was May? Yeah, I see some people that even when you ask them for a picture, you know, I look at this stuff. And I go Gee, it's interesting thing you know, I got this same picture on my computer from 14 Different Yahoo groups and each one of them has a different name and this is supposedly you like amazing. Your Nick Carter.

29:24

29:28

Oh, my God, I found that most people that that respond to don't read my profile. Nobody does on Yahoo. I mean, one of the that's 29:39

29:37

the first thing I do. Before I respond, I go to the Yahoo profile of that person to see what's there. And because I have explicitly on my profile that I'm HIV positive. And then when I when some I may be chatting to someone and when they come finally I read it or I say it in the email, then they get all huffy about it, that's you know, hiding this or something, you

c Chris Harrison 30:12

put a big Scarlet a on your chest.

30:16

When you got your profile sold down to somebody comes up, hey, so I was like, read the profile, it's not that hard.

30:20

Exactly, I even give, I even give them the address to go to. So all they have to

c Chris Harrison 30:26

do is click now. And that's 30:28

what I and they still don't do it. And

c Chris Harrison 30:31

that's one of the things you know, with personal everyone is everyone lies on that, you know, how many of you here have have a little bit of a lie on?

30:41

On gay.com, I have to actually have one. That's my real age, I used to try and meet people that's never worked. And I have one that I just, I lied about my age, so I could get in the chat with all my older friends. But that's I mean, that's the only reason I don't use it for everything on my Yahoo profile is true.

30:57

c Chris Harrison 31:01

I had a thing I had a guy was sitting with me, and he couldn't figure out why all his connections when they came in met him why no one was interested in them. It's like, Well, you said you're 28 was strawberry blonde hair, and you're five foot eight. Face it, you're 35 You've got red hair, and you're five foot four. So you know, what do you expect? And I didn't help sling with me, I, I've got I've got that Yahoo ad, which is useless. But I've won this in a site that's for people my size, that you know, it's specific, and you go in there, you know, you know, I've met several people that are online that were actually really true and downers people and those are people actually, I do go off to dinner with later on. And if you're straight up and honest with people online to begin with, right, it can actually lead to other things. Like, you know, at least friendship for one, because I've met a lot of people that I still talk to that I've met on in chat rooms that I've I've managed to either a go out to a movie or or, or or talk to, you know, still now.

31:34

c Chris Harrison 32:07

I mean, yeah, the comment that with when people read mine, usually the first thing they say is, man, it's so honest, or I've got this, there's a one little section of you know, all these annoying questions that people have asked me because of my size. And you know, people read that and they go, do people actually ever asked you that sort of thing? Yeah. That's the crazy nature of some of the things you get. So it's a it's an interesting way. I mean, you know, especially especially into No, it's It's even Twitter, even a little more twist is stuff that's, that just comes from these people that you know, they're looking for people to size. And they're they're curious, you know, well, it's just like you know, some straight people are curious about our community and want to know more like well, you smother me with with you. Sort of 33:00

32:48

c Chris Harrison 32:55
