diva goes sweet savage chocolate y2k honors the 50th Birthday of Deborah Bell. That's right, folks. She's hit the half century mark, our very own Deborah bell. And it's going to be held next Sunday, January 16. At 5pm at the Houston lesbian gay community center at 803 Hawthorne, bring a chocolate to share and a $10 donation for the community center. And folks, Deborah Bell is also recently elected to the Houston gay and lesbian Political Caucus Board of Trustees. And she has been a tireless worker on women's issues, especially on breast cancer. And we were sure another really grand nother 50 years and a leading member of I believe it's femme net, feminist feminist network that you can get through same channels that you get hand that through the one list.com

00:46

00:57

The Deborah Bell has worked tirelessly for the community for gays and lesbian, bisexual and transgender folks.

01:07

The Gay Men's Chorus of Houston has resumed rehearsals in preparation for the March 25 and 26th family values concert at the Kaplan Theatre of the Jewish community centers IW marks Performing Arts Complex. All men are welcome to join the chorus as singing members up through the fourth rehearsal of the concert cycle. And anyone may join as a non singing member to assist with a variety of tasks. Rehearsals are held every Thursday evening from seven to 10pm at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church at the corner of wall and Missouri. For more information, you can leave a message on their voicemail, it's 713-521-7464 or their website www.gmch.org.

01:57

Have you ever attended any of their concerts? Yes, I have. They are just fabulous. They really superlative

02:04

I think the last the last one that I attended. I think he was right behind me.

02:09

Yeah, I think that's right. And they were just absolutely outstanding.

02:14

Were there I mean, folks, if you haven't been to the Gay Men's Chorus to a concert by them, you do not know what you are missing.

02:22

You're missing something special is very special. I know I want to show they had featured the Houston Gay Men's Chorus and several from other cities from Austin and from Dallas. And I'll tell you the Houston Gay Men's Chorus was just a showstopper. Certainly what Yeah, so I you know, if you if you're like me, and you don't you know, you can't carry a tune in the bucket where you probably forget it. But if you have even a modicum of talent, I'm telling you go try out for the Gay Men's Chorus. I think you'll be happy you did.

02:51

And I think I do believe the Gay Men's Chorus Houston, guys standing ovation, a couple of them several sort of the Gay Men's Chorus from Dallas, which is also fed. Terrific. I think I could try out only if your chromosomes are correct. I'm sorry. I didn't mean interrupt. We were not here.

02:56

03:09

All right. Pretend you're not queer.

03:14

Yeah, pretend just pretend I'm not here.

03:17

You're not queer. Well, that's much too obvious.

03:20

It's way too late for that.

03:24

Okay, this Monday, January 10, the Houston area women's centers. Going to be training volunteers, if you'd like to become a volunteer their volunteer training is will provide a variety of free services for women in crisis. They also have free individual counseling and support services for lesbian and gay, male and bisexual survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault. And their training session is going to begin at 10am This coming Monday at the Houston area Women's Center 1010 Law drive for more information you can call them at area code 713-535-6363.

04:07

No, we don't have any here so we're gonna have to go Sunday, Sunday Sunday for nothing for nothing for the for the BRB. If 04:13

04:10

we got room we'll throw that in a Sunday. Okay, ah, the Women's Network of the Montrose Counseling Center on now if you see Chris, this time, I did not give all the women's stuff just you i i took a token one this week too.

04:21

04:28

And he also took the Deborah Bell stories. That's right. On Wednesday, January 12, who's been who's sleeping in my bed, not me finding our sexuality. This network event is hosted by Dr. Lacey Sloane, assistant professor at the Graduate School of Social Work of the University of Houston. She'll be exploring with the guest sexual behaviors and how we define our sexuality. The Women's Network is held at the Montrose Counseling Center at seven Oh One Richmond room 15 And for more information at 713-529-0037

05:08

Okay also this coming Monday is the MS camp America's monthly meeting. The MS camp American pageant the nonprofit corporation consists of a maximum of 90 members from all walks of life. The pageant happens on the same night as the Miss America and is a nonprofit who raises funds for AIDS and related charities. For more information you can call them at 713520 Star S T. AR is there anything more camp than the Miss America Pageant? You look at all these women with plastic faces from thanks to plastic surgery and augmented breasts wearing gowns that are one size too small for them wiggling around and stage and then they say but it's not about physical beauty.

05:35

05:55

I don't forget don't forget they have they actually it was a Expo Jose was given that some many of them on those bathing suits and stuff. They actually have parts of their body. Scotch tape. Yeah. higher

06:10

Yeah. Now you know to me that that's that's I mean asides from from the fact that you know, completely sexist that to me that's pretty camp watching all these women walk around, and I love it with the questions the answer what would you do if you were Miss America and asked for world peace? Really? You think?

06:29

Well, why don't we do this? Let's take the next Miss America Pageant instead of Atlantic City, because they were afraid of all those the striking workers last year. Let's send them over to Kosovo or Czech. And let's see if they can help for world peace over there in the middle of a war zone. You know, they at least they could be like Princess Diana was and go over and stand in the middle of the territory and do something real. I mean, I love you know, and they always, you know, they ask them these questions that any airhead could answer. And I'm like, I just want to ask them something real. Like, how much did it cost you to get those boobs?

06:46

07:07

All right, we got HBO special.

07:14

Oh, hold on. Now we have to do a Sunday Sunday Sunday event. We forgot one. The still a link Seville candidate for Emperess for at my Roman numeral math here ever. 16 We'll be presenting Millennium madness. Sunday, Sunday Sunday. I'm thinking about starving because he was Jimmy Nann here is not the same but Jimmy Vaughn stepped down for us. On Sunday, January 9, Sunday Sunday at 830. Also, one thing when to look out here for us on HBO. It's showtime Sunday. Saturday actually the there's a show coming up here soon called common ground. It is written by Harvey Firestein Terrence McNally and Paula Vogel Harvey Fierstein, Stein Steen, whatever, personally shouldn't be doing drag who started off in drag. That's all now the show is movie starring Ed Asner Beau Bridges Harvey you know whoever Brian Kerwin Margot Kidder Dan Lauria James Loggins, Brittany Murphy, Jason Priestley, Mimi Rogers Helen Shaffer, Eric Stoltz, Jonathan Taylor Thomas for all the chicken hawks out there and Steven Weber, three of the of America's most respected gay writers combine their talents for this original drama that examines the shifting attitudes towards homosexuality over three generations. In one fictional New England town called Homer Connecticut. Homer Connecticut as the story is where they're setting all these homosexual stories, write your own punch line people. These stories cover issues of not of discrimination in the 50s 70s and present day. There's big right opponent in the current version, current Issue issue of outsmart on page 29. You can catch it for the first time on January 29, at seven and back again on 31st.

09:15

Okay, that's it. I just want to say in answer to a number of inquiries what my New Year's resolution I only have two new year's resolutions. Oh, please cut his mic. Please. Let me practice my homosexuality more. And I'm going to on a diet. I'm just going to eat chicken.

09:34

I realized you realize the firstborn diet is die, I know.

09:39

But not which.

09:43

We know whatever floats your boat. That's cool.

09:47

If you want to send us news or information, stories or pictures, you can email us after hours KPFT at hotmail and aol.com

09:59

you realize you You completely broke us up in here with your with your explanation of Harvey whoever.

10:04

I don't know if it's Firestein or fire sign or fear or steam or maybe you're right maybe it is Harvey, whoever,

10:09

10:13

have you ever

10:16

walk and they don't know how to harvest such a good.

10:18

I'm sorry. If I say Harvey in this community and you're thinking that six foot tall rabbit I'm sorry, folks, you have fallen in with a nest of thieves and crazies. Welcome to after hours. All right, we're out of here. Thanks, folks. Okay, said shut off all the microphones. Oh, Lord have mercy. All right, what was I supposed to be doing here? Oh, I think I supposed to play some music. Let's try that. And when we come back, we're going to be speaking with Francisco and doing the second half of the program. This is after hours. KPFT in Houston. And that was Tish Henault. So we had no, sir. Okay, I'm trying to get we're trying to get the studio mics set up so that we can bring in Francisco. Do we have the right mics? I think we do.

10:24

11:08

Hi, this is Dan Castillo.

11:10

I think we have got live microphones. All right. Cool. We're on the air right you're with by the Rio Grande. And joining me tonight is Bianca Steele, or co host every once in a while and she can get up.

11:17

11:24

Hey. I've only missed one show. I don't know what you're talking about.

11:33

Go ahead. Okay, go ahead. We're working on the microphones, you keep talking.

11:38

And so we're gonna be just hopping around and talking about different things, new year's resolutions as a lot of stuff that's going on in the news, the American Music Awards that are coming up and the substantial number of Hispanic American artists that are on the nominations list this year. And an entertainment so we'll be having a fun discussion about that. And I don't have a news resolution but apparently Dan has several so where are we?

12:03

Okay, well of course that never won resolution the all time favorite is losing weights. So this year is one of my losing weight now.

12:14

12:16

Excuse me, one year only. And the rest of the years I've been gaining weight so But this year, last year I lost 22 pounds and this year I'm going to lose another 10 pounds. So by the end of last year I lost 22 pounds and this year I'm going to lose another 10 pounds. So by the end of the year by next December 31 our loss have lost a total of 32 pounds I'm hoping well that's the plan at least and another new year's resolution is going to be to not meet men by accident because you're gonna Stockman

12:56

12:59

yes that's my plan now and I'm not gonna stock man. Well, because in the past the way I've been meeting men for some reason is well they've run over me or try to or No, I'm serious. That's a That's a true story when my present former boyfriend former boyfriends friends current friend tried to rent rent over me and that's the reason for our release.

13:35

So who has so if you got a neutral solution, please give us a call and share it with it. I believe that number is 713526 KPFT

13:44

salutely Correct.

13:46

And I don't have any unusual solutions. Sara, do you have any?

13:49

No Well, my

13:50

New Year's resolution is to try and look as close to being a supermodel as I possibly can. Even though I'm only five foot three and 47

14:03

You told me the other day what your New Year's resolution was? You tell me how to New Year's resolution. Resolution your resolution was to focus more on yourself.

14:15

Oh, it was me. Me Me.

14:17

Me me me.

14:19

Lots of people make that resolution this year was gonna be very selfish resolution. I think this year was gonna be me me me me my other resolutions were you know, peace in the world and lala la yada yada yada. But Francisco was thinking the dream pageant. Oh, yeah. I think I heard that from about the pageant. airhead can make a face on the world.

14:21

14:44

I'm sorry, I just couldn't resist that because I just It's true. It's true. The ask them these insanely insane questions. John and Jesse Jackson tells a wonderful story about how terrible it is to run for president. And he says that he He was once asked by a news reporter in 30 Seconds or Less Can you explain to all of the nuclear Can you explain nuclear proliferation to our audience? And Jesse Jackson says sure, I can if they hit the ground they go boom, walked away. Get tired of being yelled really stupid questions after a while. I just couldn't resist.

15:22

Okay, so if you had one wish, Francisco, what would it be? Putting on the spot 22nd. July like a Democrat for governor in 2000. Presidential. I don't want that. What's your wish? That would be good. Focus on me, me, me.

15:29

15:39

My one wishes to like myself as president on the Democratic ticket in 2004 and 2000, you have the same chances that as I have becoming a supermodel, hey, you never know. You never know. So here Monica Lewinsky is looking pretty good on. What does that Weight Watchers, Jenny Craig, Jenny Craig, you know, a lot of stations are refusing to carry their commercial.

15:46

15:49

16:00

16:02

I heard about that. And I think that's crazy. You know, the Oh, somebody's actually Hispanic, which is kind of what you're telling me. She was Hispanic.

16:06

16:11

Monica Lewinsky said her father was 16:14

I said nothing about Monica Lewinsky and his Vanik?

16:18

Not to my knowledge. That would be a news bulletin, I think, but she's a very outgoing girl I hear. Now, what my whole thought about that, as you know, Clinton is still viewed as a role model. And all she is portraying is losing weight. And she looks good. What's wrong with her losing weight? Absolutely nothing. And Jenny Craig wants to put on this spokes pedestal for, you know, being a model of losing 32 pounds or 31 pounds or whatever she lost, then go for it.

16:23

16:56

Well, what I'd like to know is Are any of the presidential candidates addressing let Latina or let let Latin issues? I have not heard much? Maybe you can maybe I'm missing something?

17:06

I don't know. We've got a huge issue right now that spandex are certainly in an uproar about which is a the Leon Gonzalez situation with the boy out of Cuba that they're trying the Cuban Government wants back and I don't You familiar, Sarah? I'm familiar with it. Yeah. And so there's the Cuban boy. Yeah.

17:23

The Clinton administration, as well as Janet Reno has pretty much turned their back and said we agree with ins to send them back. Yeah.

17:33

How do you feel about it?

17:34

Well, I'll tell you what, I've got a meeting with the President, some other folks on Monday 11am. And I'm gonna make my feelings understood. And then 120. And I'm not a happy camper, and you're meeting my Vice President of the United States on the 20th. And then with the President, United States on Monday at 11am. You didn't bring that up? First News is a bulletin. Wow, that's something to really be excited about. Holy cow. But 17:55

17:48

I don't know if I'll get invited to any more meetings after what I have to say.

17:59

I am very unhappy about the whole situation. You know, I mean, the boy arrives here on an endangered boat as it is with his mother who passed away, you know, unfortunately. And his stenfater. they went through so much iust to get to American soil. and we want to turn our stepfather, they were enough so much just to get to American son, and we want to turn our backs on him to send him back to Cuba.

18:23

I mean, his mother and 10 other adults die on down a boat trying to get over and luckily, the boy survives. And, and because he's not old enough to make his own decisions, we're gonna send him back to a country that's not free after his mother gave her life. For him to be on this in this country. That's awesome to see. You agree with a lot of what the Cubans in the Cuban community in Miami, Miami? Oh, definitely.

18:29

18:43

18:50

The people making the decision as to who is going as to what's gonna happen with a child have absolutely no cultural background or no background to what this boy's family's family the United States is experiencing and 19:01

what they face in Cuba?

19:02

Yeah. See, I think it's I think that people in Texas make a mistake. They think that that all Latin culture comes from Mexico. It's you know, it's a it's a mistake in the often I often will hear people say, Well, you know, they speak they speak Mexican. Now, they don't speak Mexican. They know that it shows a real ignorance on people's part. And I think love you forget that, you know, people in Cuba are Latin to Hello.

19:31

Yeah, I think I thought that problems come here from Texas, like I think about 80% of the population here. That's Hispanic is Mexican American. In Houston, 7% is Colombian and 2% is El Salvadorian. And at that point, so I should break down a little bit less. But also, people have to remember that it's not just a cultural difference over there. It's a political, that the political system is different. It's a communist system. Well, 19:55

19:45

I mean, we're talking about Fidel Castro here.

19:59

for all intensive purposes. wasn't I, you know, I can respect that the father wants him back. But, you know, the the way the situation is at this point, if a kid goes back to Cuba, I mean, yeah, he's his father, son, but for all intents and purposes, it's gonna be Fidel Castro's boy. I mean, it's, it's a big political pawn. And unfortunately, it's gonna.

20:15

And to me, what it seemed like is, in the very beginning, it seemed as if Clinton and the administration was taking the stance of, you know, this boy has a right to be here, and all of a sudden the INS makes the decision, and they're just okay, you know, turning their backs getting. It seems like a very weak decision to me, and almost as if they've given in to pressure from Cuba, you know, what, pardon me, but what the hell is Cuba going to do?

20:45

Well, unfortunately, I hear that they're going to take this case to federal court, and now they do they're going to lose. It is never happened that the federal courts have overruled ins on an issue. Well, he has areas to see what happens after that. He's been granted a hearing that's supposed to be in mid February, I believe. So he's had a rough day here is extended. Yeah, estate was extended as of yesterday. The boy was initially scheduled by ins to be sent back to Cuba on the 14th of this month. He called us Senator Bob Smith of New Hampshire, subpoenaed him to testify before congressional committee, which is legally binding. It's basically like a court order to be at a hearing. So ins at this point can't deport it. deport him until at least that date. So this is this is ke O. 's, in College Station in KPFT. Houston. Okay. I'm sorry. I didn't mean to interrupt you. We had to be legal. Oh.

21:04

21:11

21:43

21:54

Before they shipped us off the airwaves.

21:57

Yes, you see me shipping elastic cube?

22:01

Down? No, I'm happy to hear.

22:04

So that's where we are with that. So I mean, that's probably like one of the major issues. I mean, they'll be some gay and lesbian issues. Actually, there'll be there'll be coming up.

22:10

Talk to him about his stand. And don't Don't Ask Don't Tell.

22:13

I've kind of been actually pleased with what the court position has been. Which has been to say that he's going to require all his military appointments to follow executive orders. Which I think was pretty strong.

22:29

Okay. But don't ask don't tell doesn't work. Oh, no, there have actually been more people kicked out from during Don't Ask Don't Tell than they were when it was a prosecutable offense. Right. So I mean, it's obviously it's not working.

22:40

Yeah, it's not working. I think I think Gore has come out and pretty much criticized the policy, and so has Hillary Clinton. And I think it's ironic, and I don't know if people know this, they were the ones that were pushing the president of the first part of his first term to, to move forward with something. And it didn't work out the way it would have ideally worked out. But I think they deserve credit for pushing it to in the first place. And being the ones in the in the background that were getting the President to take a strong position on it. I think the compromise ended up not working.

23:17

They knew the problem, and they were under pressure. And that's a part that was a part of the community that they they needed to help and they just made the wrong decision.

23:30

Well, I'll be curious. I mean, you're getting into huge opportunity here, you can get to meet with the President and you're gonna get to meet with Vice President. Yes, something was not there. And not to give yourself away here. But you have some specific things that you want from them?

23:43

No, I mean, I I'm just going to be really, this was an election year, and you've got to my position on in the meeting on Mondays, simply to address the Elian Gonzalez issue. I mean, if you have to pick one issue, and this is basically a position where you have to pick on pick one issue and go for it will be that issue. In the same issue with the president with the Vice President later on the month. The meeting later in the month is supposed to focus on gay and lesbian issues. But I think I'm going to stray from that a little bit. And sort of focus how is this issue being perceived by the rest of the I'd be curious to know how it's being perceived, for example, in South America, or in Central America, whether they are perceived whether they would perceive are not giving Gonzalez back is another example of Big Brother. No, no, I don't think so. I mean, he just sort of the sense that I've gotten in from some of my family and my father is an immigrant and and his experience was having to struggle to get into this country. For the same reasons that the alien natalensis family came to this country or tried to come to this country. And to them, it's sort of a double stand. To be offering opportunity and freedom if you're not willing to give it so give it to someone when their family dies to, to be able to pass it on to their children. And I think that'd be the sentiment of most people probably, that are immigrants or aspire to come here. And 25:17

24:17

24:38

I would imagine most people in Latin America would like the opportunity to be here. So I was just curious whether the President was getting a lot of diplomatic pressure for to make the ruling go the way it did?

25:30

I'm not sure. I don't think so. I think it's probably just sort of 25:34

Cuba kept making a lot of artificial demands to me.

25:39

Here's what Cuba Exactly.

25:42

That's what I'm saying. What are they gonna do? What do we have to lose from it? You know, we have a trade embargo, you know, on them anyway. Who cares?

25:50

We were joking earlier, we're going to stop sending us grapefruit.

25:55

Stop sending us the sugar. Yeah.

25:57

But yeah, Fidel Castro kept making demands that the boy has to be here by this date, blah, blah, blah, or else? Or else what? You know, what, what are you going to do this? There are some bombs at us driving cars from the 1950s.

26:15

26:18

Well, that's in they can't get parts for those anymore. Well, I understand that you do a lot of work with others. Yes, I do actually have you. I want you to tell the audience what that is.

26:30

The President of the Board of Governors. elected to that position earlier this year, I've been on the board for about three or four years. Obviously, as a Hispanic HIV and AIDS service provider organization. It's been around for 10 years just here. It has an extensive network of HIV education and prevention programs. Has a lot of gynecological and OBGYN education programs among his female Hispanic immigrants. And this year opened up the primary health clinic for indigent care for people who can't afford insurance or don't have the resources to pay for a doctor. And that's gone very well. It's, we have an HIV and AIDS aspect to the clinic, we have an OB GYN aspect, and this year, we just got a grant to do a Teen Clinic. So we're very proud of that, and hopefully, hopefully expanded over the next couple of years.

27:27

That's exciting stuff.

27:28

It is it really is. We are actually working right now with some Hispanic elected officials in Congress to repeal. Ryan White Care Act, as you may know, is up for renewal this year I and that's a process that you renew it and it goes on for five years. One of the focuses of our board members, not the organization, I should say, is to make sure that the way the funding structure is set up is changed. Right now Houston loses about $5 million. Every funding cycle under Ryan White, because the way it's set up, they're still using the formula use the 19 in the 80s when it was passed. So cities like Houston and Los Angeles, they only have about a difference of about 1000 cases. San Francisco only has 1000 cases more than we do. We're losing out several million dollars, which is a lot of money that can be used to address some of the issues that are here the crisis and African American community and HIV and AIDS as well as general minority outreach that we need to be doing. So how hard is it to conduct education on AIDS in the Hispanic community?

28:34

28:38

It is a tremendous challenge. A because of the language issue. And because of the cultural issues that are involved. There was a dramatic jump of about 7%, in one year in HIV and AIDS cases reported with HIV cases reported among Hispanic females, a large part of that being in the in the monolingual community, particularly in southwest Houston. So that's sort of unfortunately, a trend that I think we're going to see continuing over the next couple of years unless we can begin to allocate more resources to that. But obviously, is done a fine job of being able to sort of put an education program that encompasses the cultural differences and does a very good job of reaching out and gains the trust of what are some of the cultural differences? I'm can I'm interested in that what does that mean? Well, certainly I in terms of where the jump was in the Hispanic community among Hispanic females, a large portion of that is the fact that they don't generally talk to sex about sex or people outside their husband or sharing those kinds of details with someone they don't know is very Yeah.

29:29

29:49

I think another reason is a majority of Hispanic Mexican Americans, at least are Catholic and in the Catholic Church, country incentives are not allowed or promoted. Right? Not discussed.

30:05

Yeah, I was married for seven years. And when we applied for an annulment, we got this 17 page document. I'll never forget it in virtually every other question had to do with our sex life. Wow. And I called my ex and I said, you know, I plan to answer these questions, none of your team business. And she said, Yeah, me too. So we both sent in 17 page questionnaire, half of which says was entitled, none of your damn business. This is a legal document or from the church that was from the church, because the church it was, you know, in order to get an annulment, you get approved and no marriage ever existed, you know, but and yada, yada yadi Okay, well, that's all well and good. But afterwards, I thought, What did they want this information for? What are they trying to prove? And it occurred to me that for that, to the Catholic Church marriage was all about procreation, and not have using birth control and is like, Oh, this is really none of their business. So I would think that you're just guessing here, but it seems to me that the church might not be particularly helpful in some of this information.

31:06

Right? No, it that's certainly a huge barrier. I mean, Facebook, the Catholic Church, still, I keep wanting to say, but I'm Catholic, and the former

31:15

31:19

contraception and allowing that is still far from becoming something that's going to be an allowable practice. So that that continues to be a challenge, but it's just sort of a large extent is education and letting these people know, the risk that's out there.

31:38

It's still the perception to that this is just a gay disease.

31:42

That is very much very much similar perception. And then because generally, Hispanic males generally that are in their 30s or over don't think that they're gay, even if because they're married or if they're having, you know, affairs on the side still don't think they're gay, and they bring that risk back at home and it just sort of compounds the problem. So this work is what it sounds like. Wow. Well, what else have you got there?

32:10

32:16

Well, we're gonna be moving on to talk a little bit in a little while on on the American Music Awards, and the incredible number of Hispanic American artists that were nominated this year, including Ricky Martin and Rick Yglesias. Christina Aguilera, Santana, and it's kind of like, bizarro. Marc Anthony, was he nominated? Good. I think he was anyway, you know, it's interesting that I'm getting really good with my age here. The first time I saw Carlos Santana was Woodstock. Oh, wow. So so it shows you go way back and I remember we had had a huge rainstorm. And there was still puddles of water on the on the stage in Santana rock band out and started playing and I remember him telling the audience if you can sit out there in the rain and we can stand out here and play. And I'm truly amazed at the man who was not electric. So it's funny I've seen Santana several times since then, and he puts on a wonderful live show but I'm glad thing I couldn't believe I read that paper the other day that he has never won a Grammy. Oh really? As like how the hell did that happen after a 30 year career the man doesn't even me doesn't have a Grammy what happened so Wow. Well, I've got some Ricky Martin queued up. You want to go do that and then come back and talk. That sounds good. Okay, let's do that. We've got I don't know which cut it is but we'll find out here in a minute. Great is Ricky Martin

32:42

33:49

Well, I said we're gonna go to Ricky Martin, and then nothing happened. Let me try that again.
There we go.
