16 years stuff. 16 years ago, I can remember it's yesterday. I have problems.

Chris Harrison 02:46

Remember yesterday?

Bobby 02:47

About 16 years I was still a runt kid. Oh, do hush

Jimmy Carper 02:54

nobody needs to go there.

Bobby 02:56

We're not going there. I was in college for 15 years. Okay.

Jimmy Carper 03:02

letters, letters, letters, leather.

Bobby 03:05

Any more letters? We've got? Net we kind of Next up have the Shut up. Just tell him to shut up years ago. I was 11 years old. Yeah. David, I got to talk to you about that first song. We kill him now.

C

Chris Harrison 03:48

Yeah, unfortunately. rotten.com is letting me down. There is no queer storage.

B

Bobby 03:53

That's pointing because they come up with such fabulously weird stuff. It's like queer news of the weird

J

Jimmy Carper 04:00

letter for David.

B

Bobby 04:02

Oh, yeah. Yeah, but yeah, that would be David. Crew last week. We kind of quoted some of his stuff already though. He's got an interesting little thing in the front. He's got it's got this heart with with a very tribal thing coming out of both sides. So it's like a grounding and it's a happy Valentine's Day but try a tribal Valentine. That's very cool. Because I like his artwork. All of these people who send us artwork when they get out. They all need to become artists. Yeah in the real world because some of them have the most beautiful artwork artwork that I mean they're incredible. Well, you have a lot of time channeled that energy into creativeness. It's It's amazing. And but I believe this is a Yeah, this is David's letter. Okay. And he's, he's saying basically he said something about a sent to all a picture last week. You could do anything with because we're all tied up. Oh yes, that was the penis and

J

Jimmy Carper 05:26

tie though. Yes, I

B

Bobby 05:27

did love that. Yeah. So that was cute. And well that guy had some low

J

Jimmy Carper 05:33

hangers.

B

Bobby 05:36

He and he asked her a request of the leather lady here, we'll pass that on to her. And see, you know what she wants to do with that? And maybe she'll maybe you'll be hearing from her who knows? Basically, um, oh, and then this is also the leather the letter with the the whole thing about the penis and the seven and a half inches. So yeah. So yeah, we've covered that mostly. Okay. And but thank you for the picture, as always, the great art and all that. Yeah, like David was one of us, you know. And he was we owe him he would also like to thank us for trying to get him a pen pal.

J

Jimmy Carper 06:23

Yeah, no, we try. We're not doing well, you know, we were non successful. That for the most part, I can't do it. I have two people right already. Yeah. You know, well, well, you know, who knows? Take for the world's not over yet. I still Yeah, you never know, we would love to have one of our at least one of our listeners, be a pen pal to these guys. Because these guys read this every week. They're no players and

B

Bobby 06:31

J

Jimmy Carper 06:41

B

Bobby 06:51

and they listened to every detail. Every day pay attention to the show more more than the people who were on the show.

C

Chris Harrison 06:55

J

Jimmy Carper 07:02

It really is

C

Chris Harrison 07:03

 Jimmy Carper 08:03

706 Not just a zip code a lifestyle.

 Chris Harrison 08:09

Yeah, this is a bad thing to be doing after two hours of sleep.

 Bobby 08:13

No, there's something that gives you the warm fuzzy feeling inside. When you know that 100 years from now after all of us are long since gone. Yeah, somewhere perhaps in a in a building that has the words gay and lesbian archive on them. You know, we might be in that there will be somewhere a recorded a collection of recordings with that high pitched voice saying things like Sunday, Sunday, Sunday. And dirt.

 Chris Harrison 08:51

We're here we're going to be taking you to a listening to the broadcast. That is the missing link between queers and red next Sunday.

 Jimmy Carper 09:01

I do have just about all the shows on cassette tape. That's why

 Bobby 09:07

there's no room in your house.

 Chris Harrison 09:10

Oh yeah, once once we get some stuff together and start working on it, we're going to try and move into the end of the 90s. CD, about six months behind on taping, I taped the show on a video to set and then transfer it to cassettes. And so that has to be done in real time. It's it's a four hour it's like a five hour process to do the taping to go from the VHS to isat tape. Yeah. And you know now we've got the technology where it takes only takes an hour but it's still trying to find that Howard Okay, so we wrapped up with the letters in that the one topic we were we were talking about and there's part of us, part of me at least Like, you know, we've covered the gay marriage angle today. So, but here's the one thing with that I, if I would have been able to record it, I would have tried to bring in the recording of it here. And fortunately, someone posted a transcript of it up on the Lone Star activist website. If you have HBO, and you can get this this week's edition of Real Time with Bill Maher. Yeah, wait till watch the new rules. And the last one he does has to do with gay marriage, really. And what I'll do is, so we can cover that. So we can least cover some of the gay marriage. New Rule, you can't claim the arm of the party of smaller government and then claim then clamor to make laws about love. If there's one area, I don't want the US government to add to his list of screw ups, it's love. On this occasion of Valentine's Day, let's stop and ask ourselves, What business is it of the state? How consenting adults choose to pair off share expenses, and eventually stop having sex with each other?

 Jimmy Carper 09:19

 Chris Harrison 09:34

 11:03

That and why

 Chris Harrison 11:04

does the Bush administration want a constitutional amendment about weddings, hey, birthdays are important too. Why not include them in the great document? Let's make a law that gay people can have birthdays but straight people get more cake, you know, to send the right message to kids. Hey, Republicans are always saying we should do we should privatize things like schools, prisons, Social Security will have it we privatized privacy. If the government forbids gay men from time and non what's their alternative? They all can't marry Liza Minnelli. True Republic, Republicans used to be the party that oppose social engineering. Now they're now they push programs to outlaw marriage for some people and encourage it for others. If you're straight, there's 1,000,000,005 in the budget to encourage and promote marriage, including seed money to pay an old Jewish woman to call up people at random and say why aren't you married Mr. Big Shot. When it comes to homosexuals, Republicans saying I love you just the way you ought to be. They oppose gay marriage because it threatens or mocks or does something to the sanctity of marriage, as if anything you can do drunk out of your mind in front of an Elvis impersonator in Las Vegas, we considered sacred half the people who pledge eternal love are doing it because one of them is either knocked up rich or desperate. out but in George Bush's mind, marriage is only a beautiful lifetime bond of love and sharing. Kind of like what his dad has with the Saudis. Oh, but at least the right wing aren't hypocrites on this issue. They really believe that homosexuality because it says so in the Bible is an abomination, and then dysfunction, and it's curable. And believe that if a gay man just devotes his life to Jesus, he'll stop being gay. Because the theory worked out so well with the Catholic priests, like that I'll ever have to be brainwashed enough to believe it. But the greatest the greater shame and the story goes to the Democrats, because they don't believe in homosexuality is an abomination. And therefore the refusal to enjoy and Durst doors take to endorse marriage is hypocrisy. The right are true believers, but the Democrats are merely pretending that they believe gays are not entitled to the same set state sanction misery as the rest of us. The Democrats position doesn't come from the Bible. It's right from the latest poll, which says most Americans are against gay marriage. Well, you know what, sometimes most Americans are wrong. Where's where's the Democrat that will stand up and go beyond the half measures of civil union and hate the sin, love the sinner and say loud and clear, there is no sin, and homosexuality is not an abomination. Although that, although the Boy George musical Rosie O'Donnell, put on comes close. The only abomination about being gay is the amount of time you have to spend, they have to put in at the gym. But that aside, the law in this country should reflect that some of the people are born 100% outrageously fabulously undeniably Fire Island gay, and they don't need reprogramming they meet a man with a slow hand Valentines from Bill Maher. I love that watch that I'm gonna look for.

J Jimmy Carper 14:29

C Chris Harrison 14:31

The funniest thing is I mean, he's got Alec Baldwin on his panel. And Jason Alexander, who has played queer Yes, yeah. And a reporter from the Washington Post. So it was it was a very interesting debate. I mean, they're going through and this was one of his new rules. And yeah, I mean, it's like so we've talked about the gay marriage and we've covered both sides of unhealth, how people feel and all that talked it to death. Well, we have, but it's something that's it's so stirred into our the not just the debate in our community. But um, we were talking about the national debate, when you see the gay pride flag on the front page of Fox news.com. Because they're talking about what's going on in Massachusetts, where the Commonwealth legislature is proposing a constitutional amendment. Because the Supreme, the state Supreme Court told them, You have to give gay marriage, you can't give them civil unions. It's either they have to either come up with a we're going to give gay marriage, or we're going to have to make constitutional amendment banning it. One of the two, that's their only options. And so unfortunately, right now, they have gone into recess. So it's not going to be until more awful lot of people are going to be married between now and that reason, they're gonna have to let it go through some people gonna get kicked out office. Okay, it's gonna be I mean, this is, unfortunately, this is I really don't think our community, this was the fight we wanted to pick right now. I think there's a lot other fights that we can be picking on like we're talking to transgender segment. You know, let's, let's, we should be fighting for the right to walk down the street without getting our head bashed for not being fired, because we're gay or lesbian or bisexual or transgender. Not being kicked out of our apartment. Basic shelter, I mean, shelter bit, making a living, doing those sorts of things. Marriage, I can understand a lot of people I mean, I come from an unbroken home. My parents were highschool sweethearts. My my one brother David just had was dating his girlfriend for seven years. So I come from a family that's, you know, is relatively unshaken by the societies.

B Bobby 15:52

C Chris Harrison 15:58

B

Bobby 16:54

C

Chris Harrison 16:57

My grandparents were married. I mean, my grandmother, grandfather, my grandfather passed away. My other grandmother, after my grandfather passed away, they had a family, they had a family couple friend, and he, his wife died, and they ended up they marry. So it's one of those things that I mean, I come from a family where relationship and that is, is very big. And, you know, gay marriage. You know, for me, I guess it would be different if you know, I've been in a relationship. I've been interested in those sorts of things. But you know, my thing for me, and I'll make this relatively short, you know, there was a protest here in Houston. Yes. And then they held us ceremonies and all this stuff. But for me, the argument comes to an end, when you see that the first people who applied for that license, and our protests were a couple who had been together longer than I've been alive. They were 81 and 83, respectively. And they had been together as a couple for 51 years.

B

Bobby 17:35

C

Chris Harrison 18:11

And the fact that they said, you know, we knew the answer we were gonna get when we walked up there, but still being told that was a kick in the teeth. The fact that they went up and they said, We're here to pick up our license. And because the County Clerk knew that they were coming, they had this little speech already says, you know, it's not allowed in the state of Texas. I can't issue you this. But I mean, that was around the country. That's part of the freedom to marry day. On so we've got music playing in the background, it's boot the boot lickers. Writing to the tune is I just did your boyfriend. Oh, man.

J

Jimmy Carper 18:42

C

Chris Harrison 18:51

The bootleggers that sounds like something we need to be playing on the leather right now. But we're coming here closely, very close to the end.

Jimmy Carper 18:58

That's right. We have less than two minutes. So yeah, thank you for listening to after hours and see you next week. And once again, I mean, talk about the gay penguins next time.

Bobby 19:03

Chris Harrison 19:09

Don't forget, next week is the last week you can vote for the gay pride, Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender Pride Parade, grand marshals, Grand

Jimmy Carper 19:16

Marshal, the pride office on California and we don't want to give you any ideas of who to vote for on any of the things but let me just remind you, you're listening to Pacifica radio for the Gulf Coast. Que PFT 90.1 FM in Houston. There's 9.5 in Galveston. We'll be back next week with Joel and black on black. See you then.

Chris Harrison 19:20
