

JIMMY: All right. Violent Blue with "Shadow Fall." Why don't you give us a call at 526-5738, tell us what you think of that. Do you want to hear more of Violent Blue? We'll play it. By the way, it's probably time to give away another pair of tickets for the-- to see the adult video star Matt Gunther live at Heaven tomorrow night, Sunday July 31.

The winners will receive complimentary admission for two into the club, and each will receive a free Polaroid of themselves with Matt. The show is at 11:00 PM followed by an autograph party and photo shoot. You must be 18 to win. And give us a call at 526-5738 if you're interested in a pair of tickets, and we'll get your name at the-- at the-- on the pass list.

Coming up. Not a new artist-- a new artist, but certainly-- oops, here comes Matt. I didn't tell him we were going to do this. Not a new artist, but certainly a new CD by him. Tom Robinson, who was openly gay back when it wasn't such a popular thing to do.

Has a new album out, and he's got-- there's a couple of cuts on here that I really, really like. I'm going to play one, and then we're going to do some more classic gay, lesbian music. But as always during the QMZ, always, we'll take your requests for queer music. Give us a call at Jam KPFT, or 526-5738. And now, Tom Robinson.

TOM (SINGING) If I had my chance, I'd do it all over again.

ROBINSON:

WOMAN: (SINGING) After hours. After hours.

JIMMY: And that was by request. That was Pansy Division with Femme in the Black Leather Jacket. Yes. Before that, Chris Williamson with "Hurts Like the Devil." And started that set out with Tom Robinson with "Chance." New music by Tom Robinson. We've got KD Lang, by request, coming up.

And-- but right now, by request, we've got some Michael Callan. It's a piece that I played last week, but we had another request for it this week. And I'm proud to play Michael Callan any time you want to hear it. This is "Living in Wartime."

Michael Callan, "Living in Wartime." You're listening to the QMZ, the Queer Music Zone. Heard every week on After Hours, a continuing tradition on KPFT Houston. Coming up, requested music by KD Lang. And we're going to keep the QMZ open as long as those requests come in. That's 526-5738. We're taking your requests for queer music now.

Yeah, new music by the Williams brothers. Yes, Andy Williams nephews. And one has come out of the closet. So we'll be playing them, and that's a AIDS directed song, "Don't Look Now." Pretty music. Before that, local group Atwood and Komo did a cover of "Crying." And before that, requested music by KD Lang. "Constant Craving."

You are listening to the QMZ, the Queer Music Zone. Heard every week on After Hours, a continuing tradition on KPFT Houston. Now we have more requested music by Melissa.
