

Diane Carpenter Oral History Interview Index

- :37 Introduction and discussion of early years and the impact that frequent relocation had
- 2:00 Husband and their move to Alaska on contract for two years with the Public Health Service
- 3:19 Oral history project about rural electrification
- 4:11 Studying music at the University of Louisville at the age of 16
- 7:38 Husband Robert “Bob” Carpenter’s role as dentist
- 10:00 Life in Bethel, Alaska and building a new state
- 12:34 Marriage and compatibility
- 14:45 She and husbands’ household roles and ideas about feminism
- 16:49 Issues such as victimization and domestic violence that currently bother her
- 17:39 Influence of being Alaska in terms of helping others
- 21:08 City council, organizations, etc.
- 21:37 Tundra Women’s Coalition (TWC) and domestic violence
- 24:08 Desire to make changes after National Women’s Conference
- 24:28 Carpenter organized a women’s conference in Alaska that targeted native women; Leila Doss with UNESCO
- 27:00 International Women’s Year in Mexico City, 1975
- 27:30 Alaska state conference and choosing delegates
- 31:13 The hotel in Houston
- 31:58 Memories of the National Women’s Conference (NWC)
- 32:39 Interactions with the Alabama delegates
- 35:56 Media coverage and bias of division
- 40:22 Most important planks to Carpenter; American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) protest participation
- 44:10 Teaching at Kuskokwim; overqualification of teachers for the positions they were in
- 46:43 Remembering how well-run the parliamentary procedure ran during the NWC
- 49:45 Feelings of inspiration and gratitude when leaving conference
- 50:22 After the conference
- 50:58 Political legacy of the NWC
- 52:33 Reproductive freedom, childcare, and current women’s movement
- 54:35 Pacifica Institute and courses/training examples; six-week programs for students; six-week re-entry program for halfway house residents; program for teen mothers; science program for 9th grade students
- 1:08:05 In the Winter of the Orange Snow
- 1:11:14 Advice for today’s young people: “Realize how important politics is to your life. Get engaged. Start reading and learning. Speak out when you see something wrong.”